Congress Passes Vote of Sympathy With Hebrews.

DEPLORES THE RUSSIAN OUTRAGES

Senate and House, Without Dissent, Agree in Condemning Massacres of Jews at Bialystok and Elsewhere in European Countries.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The senate without a dissenting vote adopted a joint resolution introduced by Senator McLaughlin expressing sympathy with the Russian Hebrews on account of the recent massacres.

By a unanimous vote the house passed the senate resolution expressing the sympathy of the people of the United States with the Hebrews on account of the massacres of their race in Russia. The senate resolution reads:

"That the people of the United States are horrified by the reports of the massacres of Hebrews in Russia on account of their race and religion and that those bereaved thereby have the hearty sympathy of the people of this country."

It will have to be signed by the president to be a complete legislative act. It does not seem likely that the United States government will be able to take any steps which will afford relief to persecuted Jews in Russia.

Since the recent massacre the administration has been considering requests to relieve the condition of the Jews, but the president has not been able to devise any plan whereby he can render assistance, and the same is true of state department officials.

A Berlin dispatch says that an inhabitant of Bialystok, Russia, who was present during the entire massacre there and who has arrived in Berlin, has given the German Hebrews Aid society the following account of the massacre there:

"June 14 was the fortieth anniversary of the compulsory admission of many Catholics to the Orthodox church, and a celebration of the event was planned. The police and military were fully armed, apparently preparing for a conflict. Though there were no visible enemies the Jews became alarmed and sought hiding places.

On Thursday processions of Orthodox Russians and Catholics to the churches began and were apparently passing without incident, causing many of the Jews to reopen their shops. Later an uproar began at one part of the processions, and the rumor spread that the Jews had thrown a bomb into the crowd and were tearing a Russian priest to pieces.

"The crowd shouted, 'Down with the Jews!' and thereupon roughs armed with clubs entered the nearest Jewish houses and brought the inmates out, destroying whatever they found within.

"The military in the meanwhile began firing upon the houses of prominent Jewish townsmen, and Jews were taken from their houses, beaten to death and their bodies mutilated beyond recognition."

GOVERNMENT GUILTY.

Police and Military of Bialystok Directly Responsible For Massacres.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 23.—The discussion of Interior Minister Stolypin's explanation was resumed in the house of commons. The radical orators were given the floor first.

Ramish, a Georgian member, offered on behalf of the Social Democrats a resolution holding administrative officials guilty of murder, robbery and violations of the law and demanding the prosecution of the military, which has been sheltering its agents and preventing exposures as accessories.

In support of his resolution he described the manner in which General Alkhanoff had carried fire and sword in the Caucasus and arranged the administration of Viceroy Vorontsoff's Daschkoff.

The Straus and Reich commended Stolypin's sincerity and evident desire to be fair, but insist upon the retirement of the ministry. The Ruskys invalid enters a general denial of the reports of military disaffection as exaggerated and for the most part untrue.

At a crowded meeting of the Constitutional Democratic club last night Deputy Steplekin reported the findings of the committee of the lower house of parliament which went to Bialystok.

"The police," he said, "with the aid of subordinate officers of the military, were directly responsible for the provocation of false rumors against the Jews."

The governor of Bialystok, though not directly responsible, was said by M. Steplekin to have been incited by criminally guilty of prolonging the excesses by absence from his post. The governor washed his hands of the affair, not knowing the attitude of the officials at St. Petersburg, and absented himself from the scene without giving a single order.

"That the government gave no order sanctioning the excesses is not questioned. But the local police assumed that the Gorenky ministry, which had printed Black Hundred circulars, would not punish those who participated in the outbreak."

The emigratory exodus of the Jews from Odessa and other southern centers is suddenly assuming an enormous volume. The gubernatorial reassurances are absolutely distrusted. Nevertheless both the civil and military administrators are now apparently earnestly and honestly determined to prevent any further massacres of Jews.

FAKE FOOD FRAUDS

House Discusses Adulteration of What We Eat.

EVIL ON INCREASE ALL OVER LAKE

"Poison Adapted to Every Age, Sex and Condition," Says Snyder.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—In the house during the pure food bill discussion the "poison" provision of the bill so called, was debated at length by Mr. Stevens (Maine).

He said that the peddler of rotten eggs, the gentleman who manufactures and peddles adulterated food, and the man who made adulterated pepper sauce and all "fancy" pure food bill, but they want inventing. He said that adulteration was decreasing some, but that misbranding, cheating and swindling by means of imitation food and fraudulently prepared food is increasing in the United States, and that the evil needs immediate legislation.

He said the Western Canners' association had sent out a circular that cans were prepared as one pound regular, one pound tall, one pound and a half.

"It is absolutely impossible," he said, "to find a can known as No. 1 pound regular prepared for fruit and vegetables which will hold a pound of prepared vegetables. You take any daily paper in any state in the Union and you look at the advertisements of the purveyors and you will find that a majority of the advertisements are of imitation products described by weight and measure, and every single description is misleading and is a swindle on the public."

Mr. Henry (Tex.) said: "We have reached a period in our history that the president of the United States will say in a letter to a member of this body: 'I am willing to accept an act and so.' We are willing for you to do so."

He said he had read the other day that there was a movement in Kansas to elongate the necker extremity of cotton shirts one inch. He argued that if the pure food bill was constitutional he thought an amendment to the bill providing that cotton shirts should be extended one inch at the necker extremity for the health, comfort and convenience of the people of Kansas would be in order.

Mr. Snyder (Tex.) was of the opinion that for every case of ptomaine poisoning there have been a hundred or more cases of poisoning and death from the use of harmful drugs. He said the people will avoid unclean meat as a pestilence, but will not avoid to gratify their debased appetite for drugs.

"There seems to be a poison adapted to every age, sex and condition," said Mr. Snyder.

"Men who would scorn a telly and cannot be persuaded by a pleasing compound of mint and other things honestly and frankly presented will surrender to 'bitters' that are recommended for the stomach's sake."

"If one may believe what he sees in the portrait gallery of the newspapers those members of congress who have not been restored by somebody's celery compound have been rejuvenated by perina. Indeed, perina seems to be the favorite congressional drink."

AFTER STANDARD OIL

Government Purposes to Prosecute Giant Monopoly.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS AT ONCE.

Has Obtained Sole Control of Interstate Trade by Discrimination in Rates Both Illegal and Injurious to Public Welfare.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Formal announcement of the purpose of the government to prosecute the Standard Oil company has been made here by Attorney General Moody.

It appears from his statement that the proceedings in the first instance will be had under the terms of the Elkins law, which prohibits rebates in interstate commerce. The attorney general, however, gives notice that in all probability, should the investigation be still making, justly if he will bring further action against the Standard Oil company under the terms of the Sherman antitrust law and also will take steps to insure against the continuance on the part of the company of discriminations in trade and transportation not now subject to prosecution under existing law, but especially provided against in the pending rate bill.

Practically the entire session of a cabinet meeting was devoted to a consideration of proceedings to be begun by the department of justice against the Standard Oil company. It is well understood that these proceedings have been under consideration for some time.

The attorney general's statement in part follows:

"After full consideration of all the information now available, including the report of the commissioner of corporations and the evidence taken by the interstate commerce commission, I have reached the conclusion that criminal proceedings against the Standard Oil company should be begun in certain cases where there appears to have been a violation of the laws regulating interstate commerce and prohibiting discriminations. Accordingly, such proceedings will be begun at once in the appropriate judicial district."

"These cases are regarded and will be treated as of importance, as it seems clear that in so far as the Standard Oil company has obtained monopolistic control of interstate trade that control has been in large degree made possible by discriminations in transportation rates or facilities, the discriminations being in some cases in violation of law and in other cases, though injurious to the public welfare, not in violation of law and therefore subject only to such correction as may be afforded by the railway rate legislation now pending in congress."

"I shall continue the investigation of the affairs of the Standard Oil company and of such complaints as have been or may be brought to the attention of this department, with the view of ascertaining whether or not there has been any violation of the antitrust act or of any other federal law."

"The course of action I have stated has received the approval of the president and all the members of the cabinet."
