BLIND GIRL IS A LAWYER.

Leads Graduating Class in California School—Will Take Up Music as Livelihood.

New York.—Miss Christine La Barraque, now 28 years old, who has been blind since she was a baby, is a lawyer. She was graduated at the head of a law class in a California law school, and has been admitted to the bar in that state.

Miss La Barraque is a remarkable young woman. She is a graduate of the University of California, a finished linguist, an accomplished equestrienne and a musician. She is now in the process of completing her musical education. After getting her degree, she announced her ambition was to become a lawyer. The professors told her it was absurd, but she insisted and became a night school teacher to earn enough money to carry her through the law school. There were 75 men in the class, and at the end only 29 remained.

MISS CHRISTINE LA BARRAQUE (Blind Girl Who Has Been Admitted to the Bar in California.)

In the final examination Miss La Barraque led them all.

"Of course, I realize that a blind woman could hardly practice law successfully, so I decided to take up music as my livelihood," she declared, "and I know I shall succeed."

British Soldiers' Memorial.

Lord Roberts unveiled in the Guards chapel, London, recently a memorial to the 700 and odd men, and officers of the guards who fell in South Africa. It consists of mosaic work that fills the vaulted roof of the church in front of the sanctuary, and represents six angels carrying the different parts of the "whole armor of God."

Railways in Germany.

In recent years the construction of railways proceeded in Germany at the rate of about 6215 miles a year. The entire trackage exceeds at present 34,183 miles. The electrification of railways is still confined to a few suburban lines, where the system works satisfactorily.

Church's Big Income.

The Church of England has an income of $75,000,000 a year.

ACCUSED OF HERESY

BISHOP GRAFTON ATTACKED BY A MILWAUKEE MINISTER.

Wisconsin Episcopal Prelate Charged with Recommending Prayers to the Saints—Passages Objected To.

Milwaukee.—Bishop Charles Chapman Grafton, head of the Episcopal church in the diocese of Fond du Lac, Wis., who is charged with heresy by Rev. William Austin Smith, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Milwaukee, is one of the foremost high churchmen in this country. In a letter to the Living Church, Rev. Mr. Smith writes: "One reads with amazement the letter of Bishop Grafton, entitled 'Prayer During Trial' (the heresy trial of Dr. Crapsey), in the Living Church. It is not its pious stricken temper, its wall against broad churchmen which confound. It is the polytheistic litany which he borrows from 1544 to put upon the lips of twentieth century churchmen.

"If Bishop Grafton will permit the choice, many of us prefer, if we must utter a pagan prayer, one of those beautiful petitions of Socrates addressed to Pan and all the other gods. This whine of the bishop to St. Mary, all the holy patriarchs, prophets, apostles, confessors and virgins, is pathetically in comparison. The Greek pagan had the merit of dignity and spiritual poise. "It is almost amusing, were it not tragic, to see an American bishop tumbling into heresy while casting missiles at heretics and storming heaven in behalf of the faith once delivered."

Here are some extracts from the prayers to which Rev. Mr. Smith objects:

"Oh blessed Lord, look in mercy on this poor and distracted portion of thy mystical body. We are unworthy of thy favor, but are rather deserving of thy punishments. Yet, for the honor of thy name and blessed mother, defend her, assaulted by blaspheming heresies. While we deserve naught at thy hands, yet thou wilt surely defend her honor who bore the and whose holy and immaculate virginity is denied. Do not let her blasphemers triumph. Oh, Lord, bring to naught the conceits of the profane and carnally minded, and preserve thy church in the faith once and for all time delivered; for thy mercy's sake.

"O, Saint Mary, mother of God our Lord Jesus Christ, pray for us. "All holy angels and archangels and all holy orders of blessed spirits, pray for us.

"All holy patriarchs and prophets, apostles, martyrs, confessors and virgins, and all the blessed company of heaven, pray for us."

Bishop Grafton was born in Boston. He began his religious work in England as an evangelist. He returned to the United States in 1872 and remained in Boston, where he was pastor of the Church of the Advent, until 1888, when he was elevated to the episcopacy. He has taken the vow of celibacy. He believes in the Real Presence. He celebrates mass in a manner very near to the ceremonies of the Roman Catholic church and in his own diocese wears the mitre and other canonicals of a Roman bishop. He is possessed of a unique personality and his teachings and plans have been the subject of much discussion all over the country. He cherishes the hope of the unity of evangelical churches along high church lines so nearly approaching Roman Catholicism that it would be difficult to differentiate between the Roman and Episcopal churches.

Bishop Grafton is now about 65 years old. He is rather feeble physically. He is wealthy in his own right and has built up one of the finest cathedrals in America. There are six priests directly under Bishop Grafton. They address the bishop as "my lord." A cathedral school has been established and a school for choir boys.

Bishop Grafton does not think there is danger of the high and low churches separating. "Our observances of high service," he says, "simply show the catholicity and comprehensiveness of the Episcopal church. There is an agreement in essentials between high and low churchmen and toleration on matters of opinion. Instead of disturbing elements. We are divided like the waves, but like the sea, one."

Walter Larnard of Suffolk, Va., is in Waverly. He came for the purpose of attending his father's funeral, but was delayed by a wreck and did not reach here in time.

Warren Case and L. M. Sadler took their boats up the river yesterday and fished down. They started at Nichols with a good supply of bait and they probably depleted the fish supply before they reached this place.

AGAIN UNDER ARREST

Waverly—William Mosely is in the village lockup. He had a fight last Monday night and was rather badly used up, but begged so hard and promised to leave town so he was not arrested. Last night he got drunk and was in a quarrelsome mood, and was arrested and locked up. He spends a large part of his time in the county jail, but had been away on a vacation for a short time. He does not seem to appreciate his freedom, however, and will in all probability be returned to that institution.

LOOMIS IMPROVED

Waverly—The directors of the Loomis opera house met last night and decided to make a number of improvements on that popular play house. The opera house will be re-decorated, new scenery installed and new furniture placed on the stage. Several other improvements will also be made, and the house will be put in first class condition for next season.

BALLOON ASCENSION

Waverly—Beginning with this evening C. A. Neaves will send up a balloon from his lunch wagon on Broad street. A tag will be attached which will entitle the finder to a free lunch at his popular cafe.

TESTS NEW ALARM

Calls Out Fire Department at 2 A. M.—They Find No Fire But Talk Some—Will Be Severely Dealt With If Caught

Waverly—At 2 o'clock this morning, when everybody was deep in sleep, the fire alarm began to clang and tolled out 45. The sleeping firemen were aroused, and, wishing to vindicate the installation of the new system, they assembled at their various hose houses, hurried out with the carts and congregated at the corner of Chemung and Garfield streets, where No. 45 is located. They did not find any fire and it then dawned on their minds that someone had been playing horse with them.

The sentiments expressed were of a varied nature; some made merry while the language of others turned the atmosphere a pale blue. Some persons were absent, however, and so those who were there turned in the second alarm, and brought out many others who in turn enhanced the decoloration of the atmosphere. It is a very serious affair, however, and every effort will be made to find the offender and if located he will be dealt with in a severe manner. The penalty is $100 and imprisonment, and it is the consensus of opinion that the full penalty should be imposed.

PHOEBE JANE SMITH

Waverly—The body of Phoebe Jane Smith, who died at Southport, N. Y., last Monday afternoon from carbolic acid poisoning has arrived here. Deceased was 34 years of age. The remains were taken in charge by E. S. Hanford. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of a brother of the deceased on Cayuta avenue, East Waverly and will be private interment at East Waverly.

WILL SERVE SUPPER

Waverly—The ladies of the Methodist church will give a rose supper at the church tonight. The price is 25 cents. The room will be trimmed with roses, and supper will be served from 5 to 8 o'clock. After the supper there will be a literary entertainment.

BRADFORD COUNTY GIRLS

Under the heading "Pencil Sketches of Graduates," the Daily Local News of West Chester has the following to say of two Bradford county girls who recently graduated from the State Normal at that place: "Miss Nellie M. Gordon has had experience in school room management, having taught at her home in Standing Stone, Bradford county. She has spent three years at the school here fitting herself for further work in this line. She is a daughter of George M. Gordon of Standing Stone. Miss Sara T. Lawler has had experience in teaching in Bradford county. Her father is Thomas Lawlor of Athens, Bradford county, and Miss Lawlor was graduated from the Athens high school before coming here. She expects to teach next year."

LOCAL NEWS

The waters in the Chemung and Susquehanna rivers are clearing rapidly and the bass fishermen are jubilant. The bass are beginning to take the hook and several good catches have been reported.

Contractor Dolan yesterday began work on the excavations for the abutment for the overhead crossing of the approach to the covered bridge on the line of the railroad embankment at East Towanda. This is taken to mean that the contract between the Lehigh Valley officials and Bradford county has been accepted.

Beautiful Lake Keuka

Keuka is justly entitled to the reputation it bears, that of being the most beautiful lake in New York state. Its shores are lined with countless cozy cottages. Those who are unable to secure cottages, find excellent accommodations at the several large hotels at Croton Springs, Keuka and Gibsons. If you enjoy fishing, no other place offers greater attraction, the lake having been annually stocked for several years with various species of trout, black bass, pike and pickerel from the State Fish Hatchery, located but five miles from Hammondport at the head of the lake. The season is now open and excellent catches are daily reported. Keuka Lake is reached via Erie Railroad, whose agents will gladly furnish information regarding trains, rates, etc. A beautiful illustrated booklet will be mailed on application to J. H.
