THAW INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Anthony Comstock States Complaints of White Had Reached Him.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Harry Kendall Thaw has been indicted for murder in the first degree in killing Stanford White.

The inquest was a perfunctory affair and its verdict a foregone conclusion.

The most striking feature of the testimony given before the coroner was the declaration of an eyewitness that Thaw gave his victim no warning, but shot him down like a dog.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was before the grand jury, which took up its investigation of the crime immediately after the conclusion of the inquest.

Her counsel had previously announced that she would refuse to testify against her husband.

She remained in the grand jury room but fifteen minutes, and it was reported that she had absolutely refused to answer any questions.

Mrs. Thaw's most intimate friend, May McKenzie, was also a witness before the grand jury, as were Mrs. Thaw's maid and her husband's valet.

A sensational development of the day was the statement by the district attorney's office that White went to the Madison Square roof garden on Monday night for the purpose of keeping an engagement with two of the chorus girls. Detectives are now looking for these girls.

Harry Thaw was present at the inquest. He did not seem particularly nervous, and his color was much better than it had been in the Jefferson Market court.

When the deputy warden opened Thaw's cell at 7 o'clock to allow him to take his morning exercise, he found the prisoner fully dressed in fresh clothes that the valet, Cavanagh had brought him the night before. It was the first time since his arrest that he had changed his clothing.

Many stories are told of alleged orgies in White's bachelor rooms in the Madison Square tower, and elsewhere at which very young girls were present.

Anthony Comstock admits that he has been on more than one occasion requested to inquire into White's relations with immature girls, but says he never found enough evidence for a case against White.

Grim Joke Proves Fact. St. Paul, Minn.—"Don't sit up with me any longer, old man. I'll call you when I want an undertaker."

This was the jocular remark of Stanley Wollman, of New York, a guest at the West hotel, Minneapolis, made at three o'clock in the morning to Fred Suss, of New York, an intimate friend.

At five o'clock Suss was summoned by Wollman and in 25 minutes Wollman was dead.

Wollman came to the West on March 12. For ten days he had been suffering from heart trouble and had a trained nurse caring for him. He was about 60 years of age. He is survived by a wife and three children in New York city.

TERRIFIC STORM

Waverly—A terrific electric storm passed over Waverly at an early hour this morning. Considerable damage was done by lightning and the rain fell in torrents. It is stated that about 3 inches of rain fell in the course of two hours, while the lightning flashed incessantly. A house up Shepard's creek belonging to Frank Parsons was struck and burned. A cherry tree on Fulton street was split by a bolt and a cow standing in another field at Ellistown was struck and killed.

Several other instances of damage from lightning have also been reported. The room that is occupied by Hopkins oyster bay was flooded, the water standing 18 inches deep in it.

Yesterday afternoon a gang of section hands in the employ of the Lehigh Valley noticed a man standing in a boat which was well out in the Susquehanna river. A moment later one of the section men looked in the direction of the boat, he saw the craft but the man had disappeared. Later in the day an empty boat drifted ashore just below Ulster, and this gave rise to the belief that the boat which the section men saw and the one found along the river bank at Ulster are identical. It is also believed that the man who occupied the boat fell into the stream and was drowned. The identity of the man is not known. An investigation, however, was started last night.

Beautiful Lake Keuka

Keuka is justly entitled to the reputation it bears, that of being the most beautiful lake in New York state. Its shores are lined with countless cozy cottages. Those who are unable to secure cottages, find excellent accommodations at the several large hotels at Grove Springs, Keuka and Gibsons. If you enjoy fishing, no other place offers greater attraction, the lake having been annually stocked for several years with various species of trout, black bass, pike and pickerel from the State Fish Hatchery, located but five miles from Hammondsport at the head of the lake. The season is now open and excellent catches are daily reported. Keuka Lake is reached via Erie Railroad, whose agents will gladly furnish information regarding trains, rates, etc. A beautiful illustrated booklet will be mailed on application to J. H. Webster, Div. Pass. Agt., Elmira, N. Y. 38-dly-8-1

Permanent Dentistry

A quarter of a century ago we placed some gold fillings in the teeth of a well known gentleman at present a resident of Sayre. These fillings today are just as bright, firm and useful as the day they were made. We will tell you the name of the party, if you wish to see him yourself.

There are variations in dental workmanship, just as there are differences in the various brands of flour. If you desire the highest degree of proficiency—the skill and knowledge that will make YOUR fillings serviceable twenty five years from today—come in or phone for an appointment. On the other hand, if you take pleasure in having your teeth filled over and over again every year or two, you should go elsewhere—we do not do that kind of work.
