

A Suit Is Right

Or it isn't right. There is no half way about tailoring. These Rochester Clothes will fit right, and they'll wear right, because they are made right.

The beauty of it all is that they're as well tailored beneath the surface as they look on the surface.

Our $10 special is a wonder, a dozen styles to choose from, a dozen patterns of a style, a dozen reasons why you should look through our line before you buy a suit.

"All the news that's fit to print"

TUESDAY, JULY 10, 1906.

LOCAL BREVITIES

"The Gold King" at the park tonight.

The street fair will be already to do business this evening.

Look out for the baby! These are the days when cholera infantum flourishes.

The Rev. J. F. Warner, pastor of the Methodist church, has purchased an automobile.

Seven deaths have occurred in Luzerne county as a result of the Fourth of July celebration.

As a matter of record it should be noted that it is beginning to rain again on the slightest provocation.

Street fair tonight. Thirteen big shows, all of which are fine attractions. The crowd will be big this evening.

The Erie freight handlers' strike at Elmira has been adjusted, the men receiving an advance of ten cents per day.

Say! Seen the Scottii, Barrowsii, Piersoni, Elegantisima? These are the new Ferns, 300 just in. Snow, the Florist.

CLUB SCHEMES ARE UNDER SUSPICION

These Concerns Are Gathering in the Coin Despite Provisions of the Lottery Law

The stand taken recently by the Business Men's Association against the mail order houses has awakened considerable interest among the residents of the valley and many are beginning to see the fallacy of patronizing these out of town concerns.

The letter from Sears, Roebuck & Co. to a Sayre resident, which was published in recent issue of The Record, has furnished food for considerable reflection among people who have heretofore patronized this well known Chicago firm, and the chances are that the orders which the house will receive from this place will grow beautifully less as the days go by.

Soap order houses and furniture lottery schemes are also coming under the notice of the business men, and a crusade will probably be commenced against them. The furniture club idea is one of the latest money making schemes to be foisted upon an unsuspecting public. The scheme is worked something like this: An agent appears in a town where he thinks there is an opportunity to do business and a house to house canvass is made. He tells the woman of the house (she always being the desirable one with which to do business) that he is getting up a furniture club. It will cost her only a small sum per week to join, and as there is a drawing to take place every week one of the club members will get a "handsome" piece of furniture. Just what this "piece" will be the agent is of course unable to say. Neither is he able to tell the women when she may expect to be the lucky one to draw, but it will come some time, and she is induced to join. The drawing takes place, but none of the members appear to know who conducts it or in what manner it is done. Nevertheless every week one member of the club gets a piece of furniture, and the fact is announced in the newspapers, provided the publisher is not able to discriminate between advertising and news, or is willing to let it go through at space rates.

The scheme is on the same plan of the suit clubs, and is clearly a violation of the lottery laws. The furniture doled out to the members is cheap and gaudy and could be bought of the home dealer for a mere song. The company usually sports a high sounding patriotic name and the agent after working the town for all it is worth moves on to green fields and pastures new. He has gathered in shiekles galore, and a few pieces of cheap furniture are the only things to remind his patrons of his presence.

Charles Scott, the Republican candidate for jury commissioner, has filed a statement showing that his nomination did not cost to exceed $50.

Considering the mid-summer dullness in the coal trade the Lehigh Valley railroad men are making from twenty to twenty-four days a month.

Illustrated summer excursion books to Keuka Lake, Chautauqua Lake, and Cambridge Springs, Pa., can be had on inquiry at the Erie ticket office, Waverly. 15 law

The huckleberry business is on the increase and it is said that the Lehigh has been compelled to run special trains to collect the berries along certain sections of the road.

"The Gold King" at the park theatre tonight. The play was presented to a crowded house last evening and gave excellent satisfaction. The Williams Duo furnished the music between the acts.

James Broderick of Hazelton, a brakeman on the Packerton freight train of the Lehigh Valley, was caught between the cars and instantly killed on Saturday morning while the crew was shifting cars at Weatherly.

Many college men are being employed by farmers throughout some sections of Pennsylvania, where there is a great scarcity of farm help. The young collegians are said to be good workers and do their work exceeding well.

"Billy" Wild and his company of players will appear in Sayre all next week under a waterproof tent. The vacant lot on lower Desmond street has been secured and a repertoire of first class plays will be presented. The show is playing a return date at Towanda this week.

THE LAST STORY COUNTS

The Ithaca Journal has heard of the story of fifty people being killed by hail and comes back as follows: "A. I. Lyon of Ludlowville brought to Rumsey's hardware store a square from a steel roof which had been cut by the recent hail storm. Holes large enough to admit a man's fist had been cut through by the hail stones, on the places beneath which there had been no wood."

LEHIGH VALLEY MAY BUY TROLLEY ROAD

Company Desires to Secure Possession of the N. Y., A. & L. Line

The Lehigh Valley railroad company may buy the New York, Auburn & Lansing electric road now under process of construction between Auburn and Ithaca. The Lehigh Valley desires to secure possession of the new road, while it is estimated that the promoters of the trolley line are willing to sell at reasonable figures.

The Lehigh wants the new road in order to continue its control of the passenger and freight traffic between Auburn and Ithaca, and it is believed that the big corporation would not feel badly if it were possible to prevent the New York Central and Lackawanna railroads from making connections as would be afforded by the trolley road.

The last reason is thought to be the incentive for the present negotiations. The Lehigh Valley railroad fought the application of the New York, Auburn & Lansing trolley road for the state franchise. It is understood that the New York Central assisted the promoters of the trolley line to secure the grant, for the reason, it is understood, that the New York Central desires the Lackawanna connection in Ithaca.

BIG STREET FAIR WILL OPEN TONIGHT

Yesterday's Mix Up Concerning a Location Prevented an Exhibition Last Night

The American Amusement Company failed to exhibit last night. On account of the mix-up yesterday morning as to where the fair should pitch tents there was a delay of several hours in getting the paraphernalia from the Lackawanna station at Waverly. As a result it was not until afternoon that the outfit arrived in Sayre over the Lehigh, and the management therefore did not have time to get ready for the regular evening's entertainment. Today, however, everything has been put in shape, the electric wiring for lights has been installed, and the fair will start in full blast this evening. The Desmond street lot is completely covered with attractions and the show promises to be first-class in every respect. A big crowd is promised for this evening.

FAMOUS STONE DESTROYED

Indignation has been aroused in Washington county by the destruction of the "painted rocks," near Millsboro. On the top of a hill rising above the Monongahela river stood an immense altar stone carved by Indians, with figures of men, bears, wolves, snakes, and strangest of all, a kangaroo. The rock was visited by thousands from all sections of the country. It stood on ground owned by Joseph Horner, who recently became angered by the conduct of visitors and blew the historic altar into fragments with dynamite. Horner says he did it in self protection, as his farm was being overrun. This remarkable rock has attracted attention since the earliest discoveries made in Pennsylvania. For more than one hundred years it has been considered one of the most important remains of the written characters of the Indians, and many interpretations have been made of the hieroglyphics. Students of the life and manners of American Indian will learn of its destruction with regret.

KILLED AT THE CROSSING

Frank Bistider, a driver for a Pittston grocery firm, was struck by the Black Diamond Express on Saturday afternoon and instantly killed. Bistider and Edward Bosner attempted to drive across the Lehigh Valley tracks. A string of cars obstructed the view and although it is said that Bistider, who was driving, kept a sharp lookout, the express bore down upon the horse and wagon before he could get them out of the way. Bosner was uninjured but Bistider was found several feet from the tracks conscious but in a dying condition. He was removed to the hospital where he died in a few minutes.

TROLLEY RIDE

A trolley party will be given on Wednesday evening, July 18, under the auspices of the Church of the Redeemer. The car will leave the corner of Elmer and Packer avenues at 8:05 o'clock p. m., and upon returning refreshments will be served at the rectory. The trip will include all belt lines. Tickets 25 cents.

PAYDAY SATURDAY

It was announced at the superintendent's office today that the Lehigh Valley employes in this section will receive their pay checks on Saturday next.

PUMPKIN SOCIETY WILL GIVE DANCE

Orchestra Will "Rip it Up" at 8:30 P. M. and There Will Be Something Doing Every Minute

"Stub" Thorn, "Doc" LaPlant, "Josh" Newell, "Lengthy" Low, "Track" James, "Soda Water" Driggs, Nick Hall and "Peck" Peckens have issued invitations for a dance to be given in Pharmacy Hall, West Sayre, July 17, 1906. The dance will be given under the auspices of the "Pumpkin Society," of which the above bunch are members. The orchestra will "rip it up" at 8:30 p. m. and keep it up until the hands on the alarm clock point to the midnight hour. Boys who are intending to be present have been notified to be "prepared" with clean shirts so that they may take off their coats without causing unfavorable comment. The fee for the dance has been placed at six shillings and judging from the names on the invitation there will be something doing every minute.

WILL PLAY SAYRE

Monday evening, July 16, is the date set for the opening performance of the ever popular comedian "Billy" Wild and his company in Sayre. The engagement is for a week, and the waterproof canvas pavilion, under which the performance will be given, will be put up on the Desmond street grounds. The opening play is entitled "A Runaway Tramp," a four act comedy drama of that type which appeals to all classes of people. Strong additions have been made to the company for this engagement, and Mr. Wild will take great pleasure in presenting a high class show to his old friends and patrons. Plays and specialties changed nightly. Prices 10 and 20 cents. Ladies 10 cents the opening night.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Charles Teal of Springville and Mrs. Willard Cox of Lamoka were admitted to the hospital today.
