

A Suit Is Right

Or it isn't right. There is no half way about tailoring. These Rochester Clothes will fit right, and they'll wear right, because they are made right.

The beauty of it all is that they're as well tailored beneath the surface as they look on the surface.

Our $10 special is a wonder, a dozen styles to choose from, a dozen patterns of a style, a dozen reasons why you should look through our line before you buy a suit.

LOCAL BREVITIES

"The Gold King" at the park tonight.

The big street fair promises to be well patronized.

Another big crowd is expected at the street fair this evening.

George W. Lentz, a well known Lehigh Valley conductor, has resigned his position.

Black bass are beginning to bite. Several fine catches have been made by Sayre parties.

It is said the peach crop will be cheap. Delaware, however, has not yet been heard from.

The dyspeptic strawberry has almost entirely disappeared. The season has been a good one for the growers.

Say! Seen the Scottii, Barrowsii, Piersoni, Elegantisima? These are the new Ferns, 300 just in. Suow, the Florist.

The newspapers of New York city are still trying the Thaw murder case. When they get through there will be nothing left for the jury.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church will hold a social this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bostwick.

A merry party under the auspices of the "Invincibles" is holding a picnic today across the river at Thomas Maney's cottage. The party is chaperoned by Mrs. Thomas Slowey.

Miss Cora Stevens of Cayuta street, is entertaining the Misses Clark and Owen of Elmira. Yesterday the young people in company with several friends enjoyed an outing along the Susquehanna.

A sick man died in New York recently because two women who were using the telephone wouldn't stop gossiping long enough for a doctor to be called. Gossiping over the telephone should be limited to Go seconds.

Yesterday afternoon one of The Record's carrier boys lost his purse containing his week's wages and a small amount of other change. The book is a small one and the finder will confer a favor on this paper by returning it to this office.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Marie Dates of Ithaca is spending two weeks at the home of Mrs. C. W. Jackson, 414 Desmond street.

Miss Bertha Giess left this morning for Boston where she will be the guest of friends and relatives for several days.

Mrs. Carrie Jackson of Desmond street, and Miss Marie Dates of Ithaca, spent a few days at Wysox at the cottage of Charles Jackson.

Master Revoe Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Williams, went to Westfield, N. J., this morning to spend a few weeks with his sister Mrs. Harry Lane.

Fred Donavon, a machinist who has been employed in the Sayre shops for some time, has resigned his position and gone to Buffalo, where he has secured a lucrative situation.

H. L. Gillespie left this morning for Scranton to attend the funeral of his uncle, C. J. Gillespie, who died at that place on Monday. The deceased was the secretary of the poor board of the city of Scranton, and had been ill but a few days.

THOUSANDS ATTEND BIG STREET FAIR

Large List of Up-to-Date Attractions, the Whole Making an Entertainment Well Worth Seeing

The American Carnival of Amusement, under the auspices of the Sayre Fire Department, started off last night in full blast, and although lowering clouds threatened torrents of rain at any moment, by nine o'clock there were fully one thousand men, women and children on the grounds. The show is all that it has been represented, and from the manner in which the various attractions were patronized last night, the local firemen and the management of the carnival will add substantial sums to their respective treasuries.

There is a long list of paid attractions, to say nothing of those which are free and alone well worth seeing. Phil Hamburg's "Disaster of San Francisco" and museum of art is the first big show that attracts the attention of the visitor. Here a bevy of decidedly pretty girls warble sweet songs and execute pretty dances, the show concluding with vivid illustrations of the greatest calamity of modern times.

The muse of Startling Features, the snake enchantress, the serpentine girl, are also feature attractions. The serpentine girl is a wonder. Her manager says that there is not a bone in her body, and those who watched her contortions last night are inclined to believe the statement.

The electric theatre and moving pictures furnished fine entertainment for hundreds of patrons. The great horse trolley picture and the Giant's Causeway are particularly good.

In addition to the tent shows there is a Ferris Wheel, a merry-go-round, fortune tellers galore, the man who gives a first-class cigar for every one of his baby's you knock down with a ball, the cane man, the pop-corn and soft drinker venter, and scores of "barkers" who are top-notchers in the business.

Hosmer's band of Athens furnishes the music, and the whole attraction is well worth seeing.

There is an entire absence of fakirs and the exhibition is strictly legitimate. If the weather is fine this evening the grounds will be packed with humanity.

WILBUR HOUSE MAY CHANGE HANDS

Parties Here Today Negotiating for the Management of That Popular Hostelry

David J. Pearsall, of Mauch Chunk, trustee of the Packer estate, is in Sayre today in connection with the negotiations which are being made for a change in management at the Wilbur house. E. P. Loop, proprietor of the Packard hotel of Canton, is also in Sayre today, and it is stated that he is here for the purpose of renting Sayre's popular hostelry.

HORSE WAS FRIGHTENED

A spirited horse attached to a buggy became frightened on Desmond street yesterday afternoon and for a moment made things lively for the pedestrians on that thoroughfare. The animal sprang to the sidewalk, threw the driver to the pavement, and at one time it looked as if the thoroughly scared equine would jump through a plate glass window. The driver who was injured, succeeded in quieting the animal before any damage resulted.

The latest fish story is to the effect that a pike jumped out of the water and bit one of the feet of a boy sitting on the bank. The wound was so serious that a surgeon was called to dress it.

MEDAL CONTEST AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

It Will Be Held Under the Auspices of the W. C. T. U.

Twenty years ago the first medal contest was held in New York city, the first having a distinctive educational feature. W. J. Demorest instituted these contests in oratory for the sole purpose of disseminating temperance truths, and the value of total abstinence for the individual. He believed that temperance truths could be presented in attractive guise to large audiences. He gave the medals free to any one, who would drill a class, using temperance recitations, approved by him, providing there was no admission charged or collection taken. When this was done the medal must be paid for. During Mr. Demorest's life he gave away more than 24,000 medals which cost him more than $75,000.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union was not slow to recognize the educational value of this work and soon it was adopted by them as a department of work, and Mrs. Demorest, after his death, became world's superintendent, a place she filled until released by death.

There is to be a medal contest in the Church of Christ next Monday evening, July 16. The contestants are from East Athens, all young ladies. Two medals have recently been given there and they have been invited to come to West Sayre and recite again. There will be no admission but a collection will be taken to pay expenses as we have no Mr. Demorest to furnish them. It is hoped they will be encouraged with a full house. Come out and hear them and help a good cause along.

BOLD HIGHWAYMAN CAUGHT AT TOWANDA

Snatched a Man's Watch and Was Later Found Hiding in a Cellar

Frank McMahon of Binghamton went to Towanda yesterday and had been in town only a few minutes when he fell into the hands of the police. He is now languishing in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of robbery from the person, preferred by Charles Stark.

McMahon is a husky specimen, weighing close to 200 pounds, but while the hearing was in progress he blubbered like a baby. McMahon had been to Stark's home where he had been refused something to eat. When he came out of the house he met Stark who had been standing near the house. He reached under Stark's arm and snatched his watch from his pocket. He ran toward the river, and would have made good his escape had not some small boys seen him dive into a subcellar. Officer Hollon found McMahon in the cellar and placed him under arrest. Justice Orcott held him without bail on the charge of robbery from the person.

GYPSIES AT ITHACA

The band of gypsies which were recently driven out of Sayre, "touched up" several Ithaca people for handsome sums. The police, however, compelled them to move out of the city, but it was like unto the fellow who locked his barn door after his horse had been stolen. In Sayre they were made to move on before they had an opportunity to unload. They are a bad bunch, and the women are said to be the sickest swindlers that ever visited this section of the country.

C. M. B. A.

Commencing Thursday July 12, Branch 96, C. M. B. A., will hold their regular meeting the second Thursday of the month thereafter.

HOOCY-COOCHY DANCE THE LIMIT

The "Moorish Theatre" and "Oriental Dancers" Should "Skidoo"

There is one feature at the street carnival which is exhibiting on the Desmond street grounds, which should be told to "skidoo." The "Moorish Theatre" and "Oriental Dancers," for men only, or "women accompanied by their husbands," attracted a male audience last night whose faces plainly said they were ashamed of themselves as they sneaked out of the tent after the exhibition had closed.

A "barker" with a big voice stands on a platform outside the tent between two gaudily bedecked specimens of the female gender, whose good looks, if they ever had any, have long since faded away, proclaiming that these two "fair" gazelles have danced in the White House when the Hon. Grover Cleveland was chief cook and bottle washer at the national mansion. Grover may have been guilty of some indiscretions, but if he ever submitted to a perpetration of that character he is richly deserving of all the uncomplimentary things that his enemies have said of him.

But on the inside of the tent is where the real goods is to be found. "Princess Lambelle" and "Odalsques," and another female "artist" execute a dance that is said by those who saw it last night to be way past the limit. "Princess Lambelle," however, is not a woman; the "Princess" is a man, or rather "she" is said to make pretensions of that sort. Last night the "Princess" was forced to appear looking like a California road agent. He reminded one of the days of Dick Turpin and Claude Duval. Earlier in the evening the "princess" disputed with an attaché of the carnival over a cup of black coffee. They mixed up some, and the "princess" came out of the argument wearing a beautifully decorated optic, and as the management of the "Moorish Theatre" is long on unadulterated nerve, but short on grease paint, the "princess" was forced to cover up his discolored lamp with a garment that looked as if it had once been a kitchen mechanic's apron.

The "princess" and his female companions, however, furnished an entertainment for their male auditors that was simply immense, but when the bunch got outside the tent and began to realize what had taken place, they colored up like bashful school children, and vanished quickly.
