LOCAL BREVITIES

Regular meeting of the Eagles will take place tonight.

Owego authorities wake up once in a while. Just now they are trimming the shade trees in that quiet burg.

The Rebekahs served ice cream last night at the south end of the Desmond park and a good sum was realized.

Say! Seen the Scottii, Barrowsii, Piersoni, Elegantissima? These are the new Ferns, 300 just in. Snow, the Florist.

Chief Walsh has a young hound impounded which he would like to give to some one. The dog is a nice one about 8 months old.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the M. P. A was held last night. Every member of the board was present.

Cecil Blair, who has been assistant station agent of the Lehigh Valley railroad at Dushore, has secured a position in the freight department at Sayre and will enter upon his duties soon.

JAIL BREAKER IS QUICKLY CAPTURED

Escaped From the County Jail at 7 O'clock Yesterday Morning—Captured by the Sheriff Near Tozer's Bridge Last Evening

Sheriff Griffin did excellent work yesterday in capturing a jail breaker who got away from Towanda jail yesterday morning, and whom he captured shortly after 9 o'clock last night near Tozer's bridge about two miles west of Sayre.

The man who escaped is C. W. Bowman who lives at Terrytown, near Wyalusing. He robbed a house near New Albany over two years ago, stealing a silk dress. He was not captured until about two months ago when he received a sentence of 60 days with 35 days additional for costs. He was a good worker and was trusted to go about town on errands. Yesterday morning about 7 o'clock he was sent out to pick peas when he took advantage of the opportunity and escaped.

The sheriff was away at the time, but returned about noon, and accompanied by Deputy Charles McCracken, started in pursuit of Bowman. The prisoner's wife lives at Athens, near the cove, and they headed for that place.

Arriving at Athens they saw "Let'er Go" Flynn on the street, and he departed in such haste that they were led to believe that he knew something of the whereabouts of Bowman.

Enlisting the services of Chief of Police Mulligan and John Griffin, they went to the house where Bowman's wife lives and found "Let'er Go" there. At first he denied any knowledge of Bowman, but later admitted that he had eaten supper with him. He was placed under arrest for aiding a prisoner to escape, but watched his chance, made a dash for liberty and escaped.

The officers then went in pursuit of "Let'er Go." They followed him in the direction of Tozer's bridge, and when just this side of the bridge they heard Bowman and Flynn talking, and saw Bowman walking toward them. They kept quiet, but he saw them and started to run. He gave the officers a hard chase, but a few shots fired in the air finally caused him to stop. Chief Mulligan and Deputy McCracken effected the capture. He was shackled and brought to Sayre and then taken to Towanda on the midnight train.

The prisoner had traveled through the woods and avoided the highways all the way to Athens. Besides his shoes he had on only a pair of overalls and a shirt, and was wringing wet when captured. Considering that the prisoner had over six hours start, the short time that elapsed before he was recaptured reflects much credit upon the officers.

EXCURSION TO ITHACA

The Sunday school excursion on next Saturday is an opportunity to visit beautiful Renwick park on Cayuga lake, take in the Cornell campus with its wonderful landscape view of lake and countryside, see the new Goldwin Smith building, the finest and best equipped building of its kind in the world; go through the famous Ithaca gorge, and spend a pleasant day with your friends. The rate is the lowest that can be made; the excursion is not run to make money but for the benefit of the Sunday schools of the valley. Tickets are only 60 cents. Special train leaves Athens and Waverly at 8 o'clock, Sayre at 8:10, and East Waverly at 8:15.

HOSPITAL NOTES

W. C. Merrill had his arm lacerated at the shops and was treated at the dispensary.

Russell Shaneberger, Edward Sweeney and A. B. O'Dell were discharged.

M. Pataraki was admitted.

THE STREET FAIR CLOSED LAST NIGHT

Firemen Cleared Two Hundred and Thirty Dollars—Fair Managers Claim They Lost Money

No more do we hear the screech of the popcorn stand whistle, no longer does the voice of the blatant barker rend into bits the distracted atmosphere, at an end is the noise and confusion that have constituted a bewildering babel on Desmond street for the past ten days, for the street fair, with its conglomeration of fortune tellers, snake girl, hoochie coochie, and other attractions, has folded its tents, packed its trunks, and stolen away. Now peace and quiet reigns in the region of Desmond street, and the weary citizen in that vicinity can retire early and be assured that no unusual noise will disturb his slumbers. The only thing that evidences the fact of its late presence is the littered condition of the grounds on which the show exhibited, and the depleted pocketbook of the citizen, in which there remains no shekel.

A good sized crowd attended the fair last night and all the attractions were well patronized. On leaving here the show divided, Hamburg and Slade took the Ferris wheel, the hoochie koochie, the merry-go-round and Maulin Rouge, and will show in Pittston next week.

Smith and Metz took the Temple of Mystery, Gay Paree, Serpentina and the Snake Charmer, and will show at Tunkhannock.

So far as the firemen are concerned the financial results were fairly satisfactory. They will realize about $230 after their share of the expenses have been paid. The managers of the show, however, claim that they lost about $350. The firemen speak in very high terms of Messrs. Metz and Smith's business squareness and say that they did better by the firemen than they even agreed to do, and are gentlemen in every sense of the word.

The diamond ring contest was won by Miss Gertrude Fisher, who received 5,719 votes, while Misses Bernice and Blanche Fletcher received 5,059 and 1,868 respectively, all the other contestants having dropped out.

The reason why the street fair was not as large as was expected and did not contain as many attractions as it had when witnessed by the firemen's committee, is explained by the fact that Becker, who was the manager, absconded with the funds just before the show came to Sayre, and several of the owners of some of the best features refused to accompany the fair any farther.

THE FISH DO BITE

Fishermen are in their element just at present. They had waited long and patiently for the rivers to get down to normal height, and now they appear to be reaping their reward. When the stories of piscatorial success get around among the sportsmen the waters will be dotted with parties whose aim will be to beat the fellow who last caught the big one. W. H. Hollingshead and son were out on the Chemung yesterday afternoon about three hours trolling after wall-eyed pike, or yellow bass, as the common name goes. They returned with a catch of half a dozen or more good sized specimens, among the number being one that weighed a trifle over four pounds. Bob Reeves went out this morning and after trolling for a short time he captured a yellow bass weighing nine pounds, which is on exhibition in J. H. Wiltse's window.

Mrs. M. H. Alexander took her daughter Hazel to Philadelphia last night where she will undergo an operation for an injury to her left leg, which was injured about a year ago, and has been in such condition since that time that it was necessary for her to walk with a crutch.

OPPOSE RAZING HISTORIC CHURCH

Local D. A. R. Regret Probable Demolition of Old Ellistown Building—Will Continue to Give Prizes to High School Pupils.

Tioga Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, enjoyed a very pleasant meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. B. Knapp at River Edge Farm in Sayre. Thirty-eight members and five guests were present.

Mrs. Maurice, the regent, presided at the meeting. After the reading of the minutes and reports of committees, several interesting letters were read.

It was voted to give prizes in the three high schools next year same as last year.

The chapter has recently lost a valued member by the death of Mrs. Chas. Sawyer of Waverly, one who was intensely patriotic and deeply interested in the work of this chapter. A committee was appointed to prepare resolutions expressing the sorrow of the chapter at their loss, and their sympathy for her family.

It was heard with great regret that the old church at Ellistown may be torn down and a new one erected. The suggestion of destroying such an historic building met with opposition from all the members present. The first object of the society of the Daughters of the American Revolution is "To perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence by the protection of historic spots and erection of monuments." It would be a pity to destroy this church, which could be restored and preserved, and in the future it would be pointed out as one of the historic buildings of the valley.

At the close of the business meeting Miss Keefe rendered two very pleasing vocal solos.

Mrs. Thatcher read an interesting article on the Signing of the Declaration of Independence with documentary history.

Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned until September as the August meeting will be omitted.

AT OAK GROVE

One of the plays to be presented next week by the Bennett-Moulton Company is entitled "The Jealous Wife," a four-act comedy drama. The groundwork of the play deals with a portion of human nature that all wives experience at one time or another, namely, thinking that the husband in the case is attracted by a new and pretty face. To help things along, a murder is committed, and the wife, thinking herself thoroughly abused, with a peculiar brand of feminine reasoning concluded that a man who could neglect his wife would be capable of any crime, promptly suspects her husband, and later goaded on to desperation by the villain, openly accuses him, the innocent husband. Of course everything is smoothed out in the end and a good deal of enjoyment is derived from the comedy element, from a man masquerading in another's clothes and identity to trotting around without either identity or the clothes, forced to meet the cold world without either clothes or necktie. The country sheriff is another living character that will be much enjoyed by the audience. There are startling and thrilling situations and this play will be found very instructive, entertaining and a successful cure for the blues.

WILL HAVE PICNIC

At the meeting of the local lodge I. O. O. F. last evening it was decided to hold a picnic Saturday July 28, at Wildwood.
