

A Suit Is Right

Or it isn't right. There is no half way about tailoring. These Rochester Clothes will fit right, and they'll wear right, because they are made right.

The beauty of it all is that they're as well tailored beneath the surface as they look on the surface.

Our $10 special is a wonder, a dozen styles to choose from, a dozen patterns of a style, a dozen reasons why you should look through our line before you buy a suit.

LOCAL BREVITIES

A small party of Sayre people enjoyed an outing at Thurston's grove yesterday.

Say! Seen the Scottii, Barrowsii, Piersoni, Elegantisima? These are the new Ferns, 300 just in. Saow, the Florist.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Evin of Keystone avenue and granddaughter, Lena, of Jersey Shore, spent Sunday with friends in Binghamton and Lestershire.

Miss Louise Washburn, who has been visiting at the home of H. R. Talmadge for the last ten days, returned to her home in Hammondsport Saturday.

Mrs. LeRoy Phinney, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Maddock, Olive street, returned to her home at Watertown Saturday. Her brother, Sayre Maddock, accompanied her.

D. F. Edmonds has returned home after a week's fishing trip at Sunfish lake. He thinks that if he had staid for another week that there would have been a scarcity of fish in that locality for a long time to come.

Protect your premises against trespassers by posting a legal notice. The Record has them for sale.

This cool spell relieves the demand for ice, and weakens in a measure the hold of the ice trust. Only frigid weather will melt the heart of that combine.

The Sunday school of the Church of the Redeemer will hold its annual picnic Wednesday, Aug. 1, at Wildwood. Carriages will leave the rectory at 9, 10 and 11 a. m. and 1:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Haverly and daughter, Lela, of Gallupville, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zimmer Binghamton, N. Y., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Haverly on North Lehigh avenue.

Frank Smith acquired a large sized jag last Saturday night and went to the lockup under escort of Officer Vogel. He was left there until he had sobered up somewhat and was then discharged.

Employees of both telephone companies have been industriously engaged for several days in this valley scraping advertising matter from poles and stenciling on the ominous warning, "Post No Bills."

Orders have been posted to the effect that the practice of carrying packing pails outside the caboose where dirt and grit can get into them must cease, and that they must hereafter be carried inside the caboose.

The trout season is not regarded as having been successful, catches as a rule having been small, due principally to a lack of interest, on the part of the fishermen in restocking the streams. There was less violation of the law this year than in any year for a long time past, the fish wardens having been unusually vigilant. Several prosecutions were brought, and the offenders compelled to pay heavy fines.

CLOTHES FOUND

A woman's dress skirt and wrapper were found on lower Desmond street last Saturday night. It appeared as if some one had been robbing a clothes line and had dropped a part of the spoils on the way. No theft of clothes has been reported to the police, however. The owner of the garments that were found can recover the same, by seeing Chief Walsh.

FIREMEN STILL ON THE JOB

Though Money Realized From Street Fair Is Not Sufficient to Pay Expenses of Forthcoming Convention

A meeting of firemen, at which all the companies of the Sayre fire department were largely represented, was held yesterday afternoon in the rooms of R. A. Packer hose company on Desmond street. The general impression was that yesterday's meeting would determine whether the Sayre fire department would disband. In that event the town would be face to face with a proposition of serious proportions, for the lack of organized fire protection in a town the size of Sayre is no laughing matter. Cool heads and sound judgment prevailed at the meeting, however, and there was very little talk of disbandment, and Sayre today is enjoying just as adequate fire protection as it ever did.

The meeting organized by electing John Hammond chairman and Ray Lamont secretary.

The first topic that came up for discussion was the bill of $12 rendered by the borough for police protection at the street fair. A motion passed to pay it. This morning there seems to be a difference of opinion regarding this bill. A member of the firemen's street fair committee stated that yesterday's meeting had no authority to act on any business that concerned the street fair.

A report was made of the financial outcome of the street fair. The total receipts were $342.06 and up to Saturday the total amount of money paid on the expense side was $144.28, leaving an apparent balance on hand of $197.78. But there are outstanding bills amounting to about $50.00, so the amount actually realized from the street fair will be less than $150.00. The street fair seems to have been managed economically. The firemen on the committee worked long hours without price, and a lot of them lost eight days' employment. The two largest bills were as follows: Electric lights, $66.23; lithographs and posters furnished by the proprietors of the carnival, $57.00.

The object of the street fair, as everybody knows, was to provide funds for holding the Valley firemen's convention in Sayre in September. The amount needed for this purpose is about $400.00, and as the firemen will have only $150.00 to their credit, the convention will not be held here unless the balance can be raised. Just what method will be employed to provide the needed balance is problematical. A resolution was passed instructing the chairman to appoint a committee of three, representing the whole fire department, to take up the matter with the borough council and also with the Business Men's Association. The personnel of the committee was not determined at the meeting, but the department officers—chief and two assistants—may be selected for this duty.

CHANGE ON LEHIGH

Announcement has been made that A. J. Lester, who is Lehigh freight agent at Sayre, will go to Wilkes-Barre and take care of the Lehigh's freight business at that city, to succeed Fred Smith, who was agent at Sayre before Mr. Lester took the position. Mr. Lester has worked for the Lehigh for a long time, and was traveling auditor before he was appointed Lehigh freight agent at this place.

WRECK ON LEHIGH

A bad wreck occurred on the Lehigh a short distance below Black Creek Junction Friday afternoon. Two of the largest steel coal cars, in the middle of a train, jumped the track, and destroyed about 2,000 ties, blocking the track for nearly five hours.

THE RACE THAT WAS NOT RUN

Now that the race between the well known horses, Gilbert H., owned by Hill & Beibach, and Harry P., owned by J. F. Vail, was run only on paper, the various parties concerned are telling why it was not run in fact. A horseman this morning stated to a representative of The Record that one of the horses was ready at the track Saturday, though we were also informed that neither animal was in a fit condition for a hard race. After carefully weighing all the information that has been given out, the consensus of opinion is that it was a case of cold feet on the part of the backers. The opinion was also expressed that the driving park association would probably have something to say about races on its track in the future. Today the local horsemen have recovered their usual large stock of good nature, and if the thing is worked right these two speedy ones may be brought together in the near future.

NEWS OF OTHER PLACES

Coe Mullock, a former resident of Athens and Waverly, but now employed in the business office of the Elmira Advertiser, comes into the limelight by having his bicycle stolen.

Corning has good prospects of a new station at the Erie railroad. President Underwood of the Erie now has in his hands plans for a new station.

A fire company has just been organized at Nichols.

Hazleton now has everything in readiness for the observance of her semi-centennial. It will be the biggest event that ever took place in that town.

After 18 years service with the Lehigh Valley railroad company as district freight agent, with headquarters at Wilkes-Barre, E. Ward W. Drinker has resigned and will take a prominent position in the freight department of the Laurel, line, the fast electric line in the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre district.

ROCKSLIDE ON LEHIGH

Train No. 5 was flogged about three miles west of Bear Creek Junction this morning just as it was about to collide with a mass of rock that had fallen on the track. The rock was the top off a high retaining wall that had been built to prevent landslides at this point. A trackwalker discovered the obstruction and heard the train approaching at the same time. He swung the engineer up with a white light just in time to avoid a wreck. It took four hours to clear the track.

I. O. O. F. PICNIC

The annual picnic of the local lodge I. O. O. F. at Wildwood Saturday was a success. A large crowd was in attendance and every body had good time. No accidents occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion. The hard shower at noon caused a scamper for shelter, but nearly everybody succeeded in keeping dry. The evening was fine, and the moon shown brightly, and a large part of the crowd remained during the evening.

WAS NOT DANGEROUS

Chief Walsh was notified this morning that there was a demented man on Elmer avenue who had two revolvers and was threatening to shoot some children. The Chief went up and found an old man named Brady, who was partially paralyzed and was singing to a group of children. He had no revolvers and did not seem at all dangerous. The chief paid his carfare to Athens.
