

A Suit Is Right

Or it isn't right. There is no half way about tailoring. These Rochester Clothes will fit right, and they'll wear right, because they are made right.

The beauty of it all is that they're as well tailored beneath the surface as they look on the surface.

Our $10 special is a wonder, a dozen styles to choose from, a dozen patterns of a style, a dozen reasons why you should look through our line before you buy a suit.

THIS SMALL BOY STARTED TO LEAVE

Found at Lehigh Station--Fought His Aunt When She Wanted to take Him Home

A small boy named Willie Carmon lives with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Carmon at 402 First street, Athens. This morning, shortly before 8 o'clock he was called to come down to breakfast, but failed to respond. A visit to his room revealed the fact that he had gone away. A search was made about the house and around the immediate neighborhood but he was nowhere to be found. Some of the small boys in the vicinity said that he had told them that he was going up to Sayre to live and work in a candy store. Upon looking about the house a large black satchel was found to have disappeared together with various other articles. His aunt, Miss Ida Carmon came to Sayre, intending to notify the police of his absence, and going to the Lehigh station she found the boy and he had the large grip with him. He refused to go home with her and fought when she tried to take him with her.

The services of Chief Walsh were needed to get the boy away from the station, and it was necessary to pull him away from a truck to which he clung tenaciously. The boy was taken to the town hall to wait for a car.

When questioned where he was going, the boy, who is about ten years old, did not seem to have any definite idea as to where he did want to go; but he did know, and there was no hesitancy in his tone, that he did not want to go back.

A man drove up with a wagon and the boy, very much against his will, was forced to climb in and ride to Athens.

Young Carmon is incorrigible and causes much trouble to his teachers, to those with whom he lives, and to the neighborhood in general, and he does not seem to be mentally sound. Preparations are being made to send him to a reform school.

SMALL CHILDREN EAT PARIS GREEN

Only the Timely Arrival of the Doctor Prevented Fatal Results

The two young children of Lionel Merrill, who lives in the old Spring house at the corner of Spring and Cayuta street, had a narrow escape yesterday from paris green poisoning.

The children, both boys, are only two and three years old. Mr. Merrill has a potato patch and had some paris green which he used to kill the bugs. Some of the dry powder was left where the children could get it, and as it looked as if it might be good to eat, they proceeded to make a meal of it. The mother found them with their hands and mouths all covered with the green poison. She hastily telephoned to Dr. Hunter but he was not at home. Just at that moment, however, she saw the doctor driving over the Cayuta street bridge. He was called in and administered an emetic, and neither suffered to any great extent. The timely arrival of the doctor no doubt saved the children's lives.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Gates Ayers of Job's Corners and Martin V. McCormick of Nichols were admitted.

William H. Kennedy of Athens was discharged to day.

There will be a regular meeting of the firemen's relief association at the Packer hose rooms this evening to elect a delegate to the convention to be held at Canton, August 15 and 16.

MISSING CLOTHES HAVE BEEN FOUND

Their Whereabouts Was a Mystery, But the Story in Yesterday's Paper Led to Their Discovery

When last week's washing was returned to the home of Tax Collector J. L. Plumstead, it was found that certain articles of clothing were missing. Mr. Plumstead notified the woman who did the washing that she had forgotten to return certain articles, but she insisted that she had sent back all that she had received. Her boy who delivers the clothes also stoutly maintained that they had all been duly delivered. The matter rested in this state of uncertainty until yesterday the story appeared in the local papers to the effect that certain articles of clothing had been found on lower Desmond street, and were in possession of Chief Walsh.

Thinking that this might solve the mystery of the missing articles of apparel Mr. Plumstead went to the town hall, saw the clothes, and identified them as the ones he had lost.

It developed that the boy who delivered them had left the basket at the foot of the stairs leading up into the Plumstead dwelling and that someone had come along, selected part of them, carried them away, and later abandoned them. One table cloth is still missing.

LUTHERAN CHURCH TO BE REMODELED

A Basement Will Be Dug Under It and the Main Room Will Be Greatly Improved

Some time ago a committee consisting of J. D. Brainard, W. A. Baltz, George C. Patterson, A. P. Wieland and the Rev. E. M. Beysher was appointed to consider and decide upon changes and improvements to the present Lutheran church building. Some improvements were very badly needed as the church building contains only one room which must be used for all purposes. The committee have decided on changes and improvements that will cost in the aggregate the sum of $3,000.

The building will be raised up about four feet and a basement dug under it, giving a room about nine feet high. This will be finished off very nicely and be used for Sunday school and other meetings.

The main room will be refinished, new pews will be placed therein, and the windows will be removed and new stained glass windows substituted. A new pulpit will also be built. The work will be commenced very soon, and will be done by F. H. Johnson. When the plans are carried out this congregation will have an edifice that will compare favorably with those of other denominations in Sayre.

"SHIPWRECKED" TONIGHT

"Shipwrecked" was the play presented at the park last night by the Bennett-Moulton company, and thoroughly pleased the large audience present. The principal parts were in capable hands and the work of Miss Parks and Mr. Tidmarsh is worthy of commendation. Mr. Aldrich as the Jew supplied the comedy element and received many laughs for his efforts. Mr. Maskell, in the part of Joe Stables, made the part stand out strong, and the work of the rest of the cast met with approval. The specialties were again in evidence, and a feature of the evening was the dancing of Miss Reynolds, one of the prettiest ever seen here. "Shipwrecked" will be repeated to night. The bill for Wednesday night will be "A Daughter of the People."

Frank Pittsley, who has been visiting his parents, returned to Geneva today.

THIS TRAVELER ACQUIRED A JAG

He Was Sociable and Made Several Early Morning Calls—He Had Stock of Garden Truck

A man giving his name as James Whalen appeared in town this morning. He had a jag when he was first seen, but whether he brought it in with him or acquired it after his arrival, is uncertain. He first entered the office of a local newspaper, stated that he was a printer and wanted the price of a meal. His request not being granted he attempted to steal a pair of shears, but the scribe who was in the office recovered them before he got away. He then began calling at houses along Lockhart street. He didn't bother to ring the door bell, but walked in and demanded something to eat and drink. He did not receive a very hearty welcome on any of his calls, and was driven away from several places. Chief Walsh was notified and went in pursuit of him and took him in charge.

He must have invaded some garden patch in the meantime, however, because his pockets were filled with onions and other vegetables. When last seen he was sojourning comfortably in the borough lockup. After the chief took him in charge he changed his occupation. He was no longer a printer, but claimed that he was a machinist.

He was given a hearing before Justice Nelson this afternoon and discharged.

JUST AN INCIDENT

A few evening ago an Athens musician was coming to Sayre on a trolley car. The car was crowded and the rear vestibule held its usual allotment. Above the controller of each car is a square, box like arrangement from the lower side of which projects a wooden handle. The thing is full of business, no matter by what name it is known. The musician held his horn in one arm, and he owes his life to the fact that his hand was not in contact with the metal. In some manner the horn came in contact with the metal box at the ceiling of the vestibule at the same instant that it touched the controller. There was a blinding flash, lights in the car were blown out violently, and the gang in the vestibule thinned down appreciably. One of the crooks on the horn was melted off. If that flash had gone through that musician—

AFTER WINDOW PEEKERS

The night officers received word last evening that a man was bothering the people on North Elmer avenue by looking into the windows of houses along that street. The policeman went up in that direction but failed to find the offender. It seems that the people in different parts of town have been much bothered of late by this sort of business and it would probably be a good thing if some good, strong, able-bodied man would get hold of the guilty party and mop up a large section of the adjacent territory with his carcass.
