SLIGHT BLAZE IN LAW OFFICE

Caused from Waste Basket Catching Fire—Burned Through Partition—Loss Slight

At fifteen minutes after noon today smoke was seen to be pouring out of the Modern Protective Association building. It looked at first as if the fire was in the M. P. A. rooms, and it was feared that the records of the association were on fire. This would prove very disastrous to many people, and M. H. Sawtelle rushed to the rooms which were locked up. A hasty inspection showed that the fire was in the law office of Paul E. Maynard, which is just across the hall from the M. P. A. rooms.

The fire had burned through the partition into the hall and the building was filled with smoke. The door was broken in and a pail of water poured on the flames. A moment later the firemen arrived with the chemical apparatus and soon had the fire out. The hose carts were soon on the ground and two lines of hose were laid but it was not necessary to use them.

The fire evidently started in a waste basket that stood in the corner of Mr. Maynard's office and must have been caused by throwing a cigarette or match therein. The office had been vacant for about a half hour when the fire was discovered.

The damage is very small and can be repaired for a few dollars.

FIREMEN'S COMMITTEE MET BUSINESS MEN

All Difficulty Will Probably Be Adjusted and Amount Needed Will Be Raised

The directors of the Business Men's Association met last evening and held a conference with a committee consisting of John Hammond and James E. Lyon, representing the Sayre fire department. The committee stated the condition of the fire department in the way of finance, and showed that it would be necessary to raise about $300 in order to hold the Valley Firemen's Convention at this place. The directors expressed their willingness to assist in raising the required amount, and agreed to bring the matter up this evening at the meeting of the Business Men's Association.

It seems that much of the hard feeling has subsided, and all thought of a strike has been practically abandoned, and it is very likely that the trouble that has been brewing, and threatening to leave the town without protection from fire, will be settled.

SEWER TEST WELLS ARE NOW BEING DUG

No Quicksand Yet Encountered and Results So Far Are Highly Gratifying

The work of sinking the test wells along the line of the proposed new sewer is going on very rapidly. Two wells have been completed and one other has nearly reached its full depth. The result so far is highly gratifying to the committee having the work in charge. The wells are being sunk to a depth of about two feet below the line at which the sewer will be laid so as to give a good idea of the kind of a foundation on which it will rest. It was feared that much quicksand would be encountered and that it would cost a large amount of money to get a solid foundation for the sewer pipe to rest on, as it is known that there is much quicksand to be found at various depths along the proposed sewer line. The wells seem to indicate, however, that the pipe will average about six feet above the quicksand bed. This will give a good solid foundation and will save the borough several thousand dollars.

There are six wells in all and they will be located at the corner of Maple street and Lehigh avenue, on South Lehigh between Chemung and Hayden streets, on Desmond just north of Hayden, on the south end of Lehigh, at the corner of Lehigh and Stevenson, and at the corner of Lehigh and Cayuga. The well at Stevenson and Lehigh is the deepest, being about fifteen feet deep, and that at Lehigh and Cayuga the shallowest, being only six feet deep.

BUILDING-LOANS PROSPEROUS

The reports of the building and loan associations in Pennsylvania to the State banking department for 1905 show that they are all in a flourishing condition. The number reporting is 1,257. The aggregate capital stock is $128,053,425, and shows an increase of $4,604,467 over the year 1904. The number of shares borrowed on 719,721; the number not borrowed on 1,761,050; total number of shares in force at the end of the year 2,480,771; number of shareholders 329,852, and the number of homes built or purchased 10,504.

FRED SMITH APPOINTED

Fred Smith, who succeeded Robert Mead as freight agent at Sayre and who went to Wilkes-Barre to take care of the Lehigh freight business at that city, has been re-appointed to his old position at Sayre. Mr. Smith has been in poor health for some time and found that the work at Wilkes-Barre was too hard for him. It is uncertain whether he will assume charge at once or take a short vacation.

A NEW NOVEL

complete in four instalments begins in The World next Sunday. Splendidly illustrated and clearly printed. Presented in special pamphlet form. The title of this thrilling story is "Doc Gordon." It is a story of New Jersey and is by Mary E. Wilkins-Freeman, one of the most famous of American novelists. One of her stories is now running as a serial in Harper's Weekly, the highest class publication issued from an American publishing house.

HAD FOOT BROKEN

Herbert C. Watkins received a painful injury this morning that will incapacitate him for work for a long time. He was working at the Cayuta Wheel foundry when a heavy casting weighing 900 pounds dropped on his foot, breaking the second, third and fourth bones. The injury was treated at the hospital.

KILLED NEAR HOMET'S FERRY

Man Struck by Lehigh Train Number One, Thrown Against Rocks and Skull Fractured

A man believed to be John Jones of Ashabula, Pa., was struck and killed by Lehigh train Number One yesterday afternoon, just west of Homet's Ferry. He was walking on the eastbound track and stepped over to the westbound track to get out of the way of another train. He stepped directly in front of Number One, which was being pulled by Engineer Metzler and was thrown against the rocks with great force. The back of his skull was crushed, but he was otherwise uninjured. The train was stopped, the body placed on board, and taken to Rummerfield, where it was buried.

DIED FROM INJURIES

Clarence McKnight, a Lehigh brakeman, who formerly lived at Waverly, but whose home is in Ithaca, had one arm and both legs taken off by a freight train yesterday morning shortly after 11 o'clock at Trumansburg, N.Y., and died in the Ithaca hospital at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was under the cars coupling up the air and was caught under the wheels. The shock had been so great that the doctors did not deem it advisable to amputate the injured members when he arrived at the hospital. His wife was visiting at Waverly when the accident occurred but reached Ithaca before he died.

HE HAD THREE NAMES

The man who was arrested yesterday while making a number of social calls on Lockhart street residents, and who told the chief that his name was James Whalen, and the justice that he was Albert Hunter, was discharged and arrested again last night. He had lost his memorandum again last night and gave a third name; but the police thought that two names were enough for one man and did not record the third one. He was sent out of town and told that if he returned he would be sent to Towanda and allowed to exercise on the county stone pile.

PICNIC AT WILDWOOD

The members of the Sunday school of the Church of the Redeemer are enjoying a picnic at Wildwood today. The conveyances were well-filled this morning when they left the church, and a large crowd enjoyed the outing at that popular picnic resort.

BEWARE OF ICE WAGONS

A Philadelphia boy fell under the wheels of a loaded ice wagon and was dead when the vehicle was stopped. In Mahanoy City a youngster riding on the back step of an ice wagon was struck on the head by a large cake that slipped from the pile, and was killed instantly. In Utica the driver of an ice wagon threw his tongs to one side just as a boy ran alongside, one of the sharp points penetrating the boy's head and killing him. Keep your boy away from the ice wagon.
