ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 1.-Great xcitement prevails in St. Petersburg as a result of the startling news from Sveaborg, and there is the deepest ap-prebension regarding the situation at Cronstadt, as there is little doubt that the rising of the garrison of the Gibraltar of the Baltic was a premature attempt to execute a widespread military conspiracy, which involved the seizing of the fortresses of Sveaborg, Cronstadt and Sevastopol as bases for the rerolting Black sea and Baltic fleets. saw the cear's yacht the Pole Star lying with steam up at the pler below the imperial palace at Peterhof. The battle between the mutineers and the government forces at Sveaborg is still raging, and fears are expressed of a universal revolt of the Russian troops. Advices received by the government se have been suppressed.

The utmost importance is attached to the conduct of the fleet. According to semioficial intimation, the crews of these vessels are still under the control of their officers, but private advices say that a portion of the crews have been confined below decks for fear of mu-

The meet intense anxiety prevails with regard to the situation at Cron-stadt and the general spread of the revolt through the entire naval estabshment. The authorities there received timely warning of the events at Sveaberg and nipped a possible revolt in the bud by quietly placing detachments of infantry at the doors of the marine barracks and removing the carsines from the racks in the buildings. The 1,500 satiors composing the Sevmth equipage, quartered at Cronstadt, whose loyalty had been distrusted, found themselves prisoners in their berracks and unable to communicate with the outside. The streets of Cronstadt are swarming with troops of the loyal guard regiments. The commandant at Cronstadt ordered the confiscation of newspapers from St. Petersburg in order to prevent the news of the outbreak at Sveaborg from reaching the islanders.

A group of agitators who went over to Cronstadt attempted to hold meetings and communicate news of the Sveaborg happenings. They were dispersed, however, and fied before the leveled rifles of the soldiers.

The fire from the cruisers has serionely damaged the fortifications at Sveaborg.

The cruiser Alva on arrival at Helsingfors at once began bombarding the mutinous battery on Sveaborg island. It is rumored that the revolutionists on one of the islands have raised the white gag. It is impossible to communicate with the islands. Some excitement has been caused in the town by the arrest of several members of the "red guard" and other rev

Although it is learned that a summons to revolt was issued there, the chief point now in doubt is whether the main part of the Baltic fleet, consisting of a battleship and three cruisers, which were hurriedly sent from Revel to Helsingfors upon receipt of the news of the mutiny at Svenborg, has joined in the re-

Millionaire's Agents Charged With Felony.

ROBBED IRISH COACHMAN'S TRUNK

terney Marron Spoke to Him of Wife's Love Letters Before

PITTSBURG, Aug. 2. - Hermann Stanb and John Anderson, the detec tives who testified in the Hartje divorce case that they took the famous "love letters" from Tom Madine's trunk after entering the coachman's room here, were arrested at a late hour charged with entering a building for felony and larceny.

The ball is $2,000 each for a hearing on Monday. It was furnished by Edward Hartie.

Probably the most sensational incidents and testimony in the Hartje case in the five weeks it has been running were brought out when Aima Ross, the mysterious "blond" who kept a rooming house, swore that Augustus Hartje and Josephine Wright frequently met at the Ross woman's house, that the Wright woman brought him there and introduced him, and said that the house at which she had been living was too public and too close to the Hartje warehouse. The Ross woman said Hartje paid Josephine Wright's room rent thereafter. When the witness pointed out Hartje in the courtroom Hartje smiled.

Hartje, several days ago, swore that he did not know Josephine Wright and never visited her. The Wright woman swore that she did not know Hartje. This was when Hartje's attorneys were introducing evidence in rebuttal.

The Issue to the disputed love letters in the Hartje divorce case was defined when Tom Madine, the coachman who is named as the corespondent in the case, swore that the letters which the private detectives said were taken from his trunk never were in that receptacle.

Just before adjournment Fred Long. a newspaper man, was called to the stand by John Freeman of counsel for Mrs. Hartje.

Long testified that Attorney Marror of Hartje's counsel told him in February of a number of letters in the possession of the Hartje lawyers. This was several months before Fisher, Hartje's brother-in-law, said he had told counsel of their existence. This was also some months before Madine's trunk was broken open and from which the letters were alleged to have been taken, which was in June.

Attorney Marron became angered at Long's testimony and threatened the newspaper man with violence after court adjourned. Marron is expected to go on the stand again shortly.

Mrs. Hartje swere she wrote only nied teiling Blanche Ashby what testimony she should give.

BATTLE OF THE CROSSING.

Rival Railroad Employees In Fight

Over Right of Way. EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Aug. 2 .- After several hand to hand encounters among the 800 laborers, about equally divided between employees of the Louisville and Nashville ratiroad and the Illinois Traction company, during which pistol ery 25c. shots were fired, the Louisville and Nashville officials ditched two engines on a disputed crossing and effectually blocked the plans of the electric road for tearing up its tracks.

The crossing has been in dispute for several months, the Louisville and Nashville refusing the electric road permission to cross. Just before daylight the electric road rushed its laborers to the projected crossing and tore up two of the Louisville and Nashville's three tracks.

In the meantime the railroad com pany burried its men to the crossing in time to save the third track. They also attempted to relay the other two tracks, but were prevented by the electric road employees.
