THIS SPORT WANTED HIS MONEY BACK

He Wanted to Play But Hollowed When He Was Beaten at His Own Game.

Yesterday afternoon a group of men were shaking dice when a young fellow coming by noticed the game and asked if he might get into it. He appeared to be all right and all expressed their willingness and he took his place at the table. He did not appear to like the looks of the small dice that were being used however and brushed them out of the way, at the same time substituting some larger ones that he drew from his pocket. This caused some of the players to be rather suspicious and they nearly all withdrew. One man who chanced to be near noticed the dice and concluding that they were loaded decided to take a hand in the game.

The stranger seemed pleased with the looks of things, but instead of winning he lost steadily until he was out $12.00. He left, and going to a justice, claimed that he had been cheated and wanted his money back. The justice stated that he would issue a warrant for the arrest of the responsible parties unless the matter was settled by 10 o'clock this morning. The money was handed over, the sport was satisfied, and as a result no one has been locked up.

TO DELIVER SPEECH NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Socialist local met last night at the Howard Elmer hose house on Maple street. A very spirited discussion on the relative merits of industrial co-operation, state socialism and state competition with private enterprise was discussed somewhat at length. The advocates of each method desired to attain the same end, but differed with regard to the practicability of the method of the others.

Final arrangements were made for the speech which will be delivered at the hose house next Wednesday, Aug. 8, by S. Fieldman of New York city. He is one of the best speakers of the Socialistic organization, and an interesting discussion is assured. A general invitation to attend is extended to all, and anyone is urged to ask any question that he sees fit.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement is made of the coming marriage of Harry Edward Cunningham and Miss Ethel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Morton of Burlington, Vt., to take place August 18, 1906, at the First Baptist church in that place. Mr. Cunningham was the former editor of The Record. In fact when The Record was first launched Mr. Cunningham wielded the editorial pen, and the associations he formed with the attaches of this paper at that time will be most pleasantly remembered. He is a most deserving young man, and everyone who knows him will unite in extending congratulations to him and his bride.

All report a pleasant evening.

SUPPOSEDLY INSANE MAN DISCHARGED

Investigation Showed That He Drank Wood Alcohol and Was Only Temporarily Deranged

James McDonald, the man who appeared on the streets yesterday with a double bitted ax, and who first wanted to count the houses in this scattered burg, and then decided that he was a lineman and climbed the pole at the corner of Elmer avenue and Lockhart street, thereby falling into the hands of Chief Walsh, was discharged this morning. Upon investigation it was found that he worked for a farmer at Ridgebury and was in the habit of drinking alcohol. When he gets a good sized load of this stimulant aboard he is in a state bordering on insanity. He had sobered up sufficiently this morning to be fairly rational and was allowed to go home.

He did not appear to be at all drunk yesterday when arrested, but gave every indication of being insane.

"A COWBOY'S ROMANCE"

Bad weather served to keep many away from the park last night, although the crowd was larger than the night before. Those who did attend were well repaid for braving the rain, for "Dora Thorne" in the hands of the Bennett-Moulton proved a most pleasing little play, and it is bound to draw out the crowds tonight at its last presentation. Next week the company will open with "A Cowboy's Romance," a new play from the pen of Justin Adams, "The Virginian," "The Squaw Man," and "The Girl from the Golden West," set a standard for melodrama, depicting life in the west that had never been attained before; this Mr. Adams has tried to emulate in writing the cowboy's romance, and the result is a clean, wholesome drama, with plenty of western atmosphere and chock full of comedy, the trial scene of the third act being one of the funniest scenes ever staged. The company is well cast and several hits will be scored. The specialties will all be changed and new motion pictures shown.
