Italian Steamship Wrecked on Spanish Coast.

ARCHBISHOP OF SAO PEDRO LOST.

Commander of Sirio, Trying to Save Time; Ruse on Bajos Hormigas Reef, Near Cape Palos—Three Hundred Are Drowned.

CARTAGENA, Spain, Aug. 6.—A terrible marine disaster has occurred off Cape Palos. The Italian steamship Sirio, from Genoa for Barcelona, Cadix, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, with 945 persons on board, was wrecked off Hornigals Island. Three hundred emigrants, most of them Italians and Spaniards, were drowned.

The Sirio was wrecked off Hornigals Island, which lies about two and a half miles to the eastward of Cape Palos.

The captain, in order to shorten the route and gain time, purposed to pass as close as possible to the dangerous rocky ledges surrounding the Hornigals islands. Without any warning and while running at full speed the Sirio crashed upon the rocks with terrific force. A few minutes later the stern of the vessel sank beneath the waves.

The passengers were in a state of horror and terrified panic. Crowds rushed forward pushing each other and fighting for places in the bow of the boat. Many fell and were trampled to death. Dozens of men and women threw themselves into the sea.

The archbishop of Sao Pedro went down with the vessel while blessing the drowning passengers. Another bishop who was at first supposed to have been drowned has since been reported safe. He is at Cartagena.

A steamer engaged in rescue work has reached port. She has on board the bodies of several infants. Another boat picked up a child who was on the point of drowning.

The Austrian consul at Rio de Janeiro was saved, but lost a large amount of money when the vessel went down.

The captain of the steamer, overcome by the disaster, committed suicide.

The archbishop of Sao Pedro, Brazil, is among the lost.

The remainder of the passengers and the officers and crew of the Sirio got away in the ship's boats or were rescued by means of ropes thrown to them from the shore.

A number of fishermen who made attempts at rescue were drowned.

Those rescued from the vessel are now at Cape Palos in a pitiable condition, being without food or clothing.

The Sirio struck a rocky reef known as Bajos Hormigas and sank soon after, stern first.

The Sirio was owned by the Navigazione Italiane of Genoa.

Before he committed suicide the captain declared the steamer had 645 passengers on board and that her crew numbered 127 men. The Sirio had 670 passengers when leaving Genoa, but additional Spanish passengers were taken on board at Barcelona, where the vessel touched a few hours before the disaster.

The steamer was threading a difficult passage through the Hornigals group, where the Bajos Hormigas reef is a continual menace to navigation, when she struck. The vessel began to settle rapidly immediately, and a terrible scene of confusion and panic ensued on board.

The condition of the survivors is most deplorable. They have lost everything and are without money, food or clothing. The maritime authorities of Cartagena have dispatched a tug to the scene carrying relief supplies. The buildings of a circus and the poorhouse are being used as temporary quarters for the survivors.

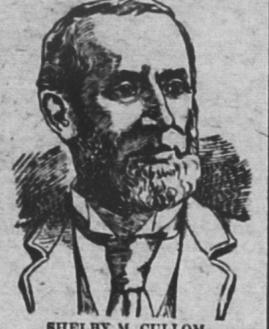

The latest reports from the cape say that three boats have just brought in a number of rescued.

The captain of the Sirio before he killed himself attributed the wreck to his own imprudence. The Sirio left Genoa on Aug. 2.

CULLOM WINS OUT.

Defeats Yates in Chicago by a Plurality of 37,000 Votes.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The Republican voters of Illinois made it known at the primaries that they wished Shelby M. Cullom returned to the United States senate. After a lively controversy Senator Cullom won Cook county (Chicago) by a plurality of more than 17,000 votes, while through the state incomplete returns indicate that he has secured districts enough to assure his victory over his principal opponent, former Governor Richard Yates. Senator Cullom's plurality in the state is estimated at from 25,000 to 50,000. In the Eighteenth Illinois district Joseph

SHELBY M. CULLOM.

G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, had no opposition for nomination.

For the first time in the history of Illinois all the primaries of all the parties were held on the same day, and voters were given an opportunity to express their preferences through the ballots for candidates for United States senator and to nominate by instruction other candidates from congressman down to sheriff.

The new primary law passed by a special session of the legislature last spring gave general satisfaction.

Congressman William Lorimer of the Sixth (packing house) district and Congressman James R. Mann of the Second district both secured large majorities in their districts. In both these districts the feeling was intense. Lorimer was bitterly assailed because of his defense of the packers during the debate on the "meat bill" last spring. Mann was one of the chief exponents of the pure food bill and was strongly opposed by the packing interests.

SENDER DENIES WRONGDOING.

No Ground for His Removal From Office of Supervisor.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Fiscal Supervisor of State Charities Harry H. Bender in his answer to the report of the state civil service commission setting forth its conclusions of the alleged collection of political assessments from employees of his department insists that "there is no ground shown in the evidence for his removal from office and that the application for his removal should therefore be denied and this proceeding dismissed."

His answer has been filed with Governor Higgins, to whom was submitted the report of the civil service commission. The investigation was instituted over one year ago on application of the Civil Service Reform association. Governor Higgins has not as yet announced his decision.

Supervisor Bender admits that he received checks from G. W. Hobbs, a clerk in his office, but asserts that they were only for transmission to the treasurer of the Republican state committee for Mr. Hobbs, who did not know to whom to send them; that they were unsolicited and voluntary contributions, and he "denies that what he did in this respect was prohibited by or in any way a violation of the civil service or any other law."

He holds that he should not be held responsible for certain alleged acts of one of his subordinates which were not brought to his knowledge. This refers to the alleged solicitation of contributions by a subordinate. Whether he should be held responsible, he submits, is a matter of law, but he holds "that in justice and fair play he ought not to be held so accountable or responsible."

Mine Plant Ablaze.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 6.—There was a serious fire in the East Pine Knot colliery of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, near this place. The fire started in the boiler house, and before it was extinguished six boilers were rendered useless and several small buildings near the boiler house were destroyed. With the assistance of the Pottsville fire companies the East Pine Knot company was able to save the new breaker. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

RAILROAD MEN FAIL TO QUIT WORK

Council of Workmen's Deputies Meet in Finland and Decide to Destroy Bridges and Roadbeds in Attempt to Stop All Traffic.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 6.—The fate of the general strike, which, although it has affected close to 7,000 men in St. Petersburg, has met with only slight response in other sections of Russia, probably will be decided soon with an adverse expression of public opinion. The lack of union among the leaders of the proletarian organizations is playing against the success of the movement.

The railroad men, upon whom the success of the entire movement depends, are still working full time. The leaders of the railroad organizations are hesitating about issuing a call for a tie-up. They fear being deserted and discredited by their materialistic followers, who are no more responsive to the aroused pretext of this strike—namely, sympathy for the mutineers of Swedenborg, Cronstadt and Ivel—than they were to the similar reasons given for the abortive strike of last November. The railroad men have been intimidated by the recent making of strikes affecting communications and aerial offenses and providing very severe punishment.

The Council of Workmen's Deputies, which met secretly at Terioki, Finland, continued its session till a late hour. The deputies were so incensed at the timidity displayed by the railroad men that they decided to resort, if necessary, to the blowing up of bridges and the destruction of the roadbeds, etc., to bring the transportation service to a standstill. Representatives of all the revolutionary parties and emissaries from Moscow, Kiev, Riga, Odessa and other cities were present at the meeting. The telegraphers thus far have been appealed to in vain.

The first break in the ranks of the St. Petersburg strikers occurred when the printers decided to return to work. The employees of several street car lines and river ferries have resumed work.

The revolutionists claim to have positive information that a conference of the chiefs of the military and secret police was held here, at which the question of whether or not the troops will obey orders to fire on the people was considered. The officers expressed grave doubt as to whether the soldiers, especially those of the guard regiments, would obey without provocation.

The revolutionists admit that it was then arranged that government spies shall give the necessary provocation by firing on the troops with revolvers. A proclamation was therefore prepared by the revolutionary leaders reciting these alleged facts and warning the workmen to be on their guard against such provocations.

The number of strikers in St. Petersburg is officially estimated at 68,165.

At Donets, the center of the mining and smelting industry, a procession of more than 6,000 strikers marched, singing "The Marseillaise," to the residence of Governor General Hartung and demanded the release of the orators arrested at a strikers' meeting. Many in the procession carried clubs. The governor general refused to release the prisoners, and when the processionists would not disperse dragoons swept down on them with sabers and whips, wounding about a hundred, some seriously. Wholesale arrests were made, including the strike leaders.

At Samara the fighting organization of the revolutionists has issued a proclamation avowing responsibility for the assassination of Governor Block of this city. Many arrests have been made. The governor's body was torn into fragments by the bomb.

ODESSA, Aug. 6.—Telegraphic communication between here and Sevastopol has been interrupted for the last forty-eight hours. Governor General Kaubars has not yet returned from Sevastopol. Thereupon the destroyer started at full speed toward the Crimea.

HOW THE GIANTS WON

Chicago's Great Ball Players Beaten, 7 to 4.

GREATEST CROWD EVER VIEWS GAME

McGraw's Big Men Hold Together and Down Windy City Experts by Superior Play—Hits Came When Needed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—You may go as far as you like into the analysis of baseball, you may pick out the particular flaws in each and every individual player—in fact, you can do anything you please, if you have that kind of a disposition, and we know some "fans" who have—but the fact remains that the Giants won from Chicago at the Polo Grounds by the score of 7 to 4, before the greatest crowd that has ever assembled on a baseball field since the game was "wrote."

Ordinarily our darlings fall down when these spectacular occasions emerge from the whirligig of time. They get nervous or something of other happens, but this time a change came over the spirit of their dream.

As to the game itself, counting it just as one single game, the result would not have been so frightful an affair if it had gone either way. The "champs" have a strong hold on second place and the fall of Pittsburgh made it a little stronger. Victory over Chicago meant only a trifling advance in the figures, for they still have a formidable lead in the race. But—and that with a big B—we just wanted to beat 'em, not only because they are in first place, but because they are from Chicago.

Matty was elected to do the slab work for our part of the proposition and he did it for a little more than six innings. The Cubs gathered nine hits off him, and then he retired, by his own request, in favor of George Witte. George would not stand for any foolishness from the "Jungle" men, and it was quick action thereafter. The men from Packerground started off with a spurt, gobbled up three runs in as many innings and made us look like wooden money, but in the fifth session there was a switch that proved decisive.

Just to even up we got one in the same kind of lick, Shannon, Seymour and McGann all being there with the big stick, and still another—the last, as it proved—came in the ninth, on Dahlen's double into the crowd, Gilbert's sacrifice and a wild pitch.

Summing it all up, it was a fine game and won on its merits.

BRYAN IN MAINE FIGHT.

Will Take Stump In Pine Tree State Next Month.

Bryan will scarcely be allowed time to recover from the seasickness of his voyage across the Atlantic before he will be hurried to Maine by the Democratic congressional committee. He will be sent directly to Representative Littlefield's district, where he will make fifteen or twenty speeches before the campaign closes.

The battle in the Second Maine district promises to be one of the fiercest in any part of the country and one of the hottest in the history of the Pine Tree State. John Sharp Williams, Champ Clark and other great Democratic spellbinders will join Mr. Bryan in the contest there. The Republicans will also send their ablest speakers there. Speaker Cannon, Secretary Shaw and Secretary Taft will be foremost. Cordella fled and took refuge in a vineyard, where he was found by detectives. He confessed to having shot Berti, but said he did not want to hang. "Give me a knife or a revolver," he pleaded, "and they can bury me at the same time they do Berti."
