Last evening there was a party of boys on Hugh street engaged in chivairee racket and a telephone message was sent to Chief Mulligan to quell the disturbance When he reached there, out of breath, the boys and some older people engaged in a laugh, ridiculing him for the manner they had fooled him. This is rather serious business, and they may want the chief some time in a hurry when he will not know whether to respond or

Athens-Last evening the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Payne, South Main street, was the scene of a pretty wedding. Their daughter, Elizabeth Makinson, was united in marriage to Hon. Henry Seymour Kline of Towner, North Dakota, in the presence of the family and a few intimate friends The pleasant home was made vastly more so by the floral decorations. Miss Agnes Kinney of Towarda The prevailing color in the parlor was pink, while white predominated in the dining room and library. As the bride was ushered in attired in white lace and stood under the bridal arch there was a hush Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bennett went of admiration and the sacred marriage vows seemed doubly so. Rev. A. F. von Tobel performed Miss Sarah Beatie of Salem, N | the ceremony. All through the Y, is visiting at the home of Dr. service and all the evening the air was freighted with sweet music from the orchestra. During the reception which followed the marriage it seemed as if all the society people of this vicinity came to pay Miss Grace Mason went to New their congratulations.
