THE "BOX" SEAT A DISMAL FAILURE

People Who Paid Company Two Dollars Each for Them Were Sorely Disappointed

While the Barnum & Bailey circus which visited Sayre yesterday is a mammoth concern and the exhibition given was exceedingly good, there were many, especially among the older ones, who yearned for the days when old Phineas T. was at the head of the aggregation. Barnum was an originator, those who have followed him in the management of the colossal enterprise are imitators.

The exhibition given here yesterday was for the most part made up of "novelties" and "sensational features" which have been seen for years. One of the new things, however, which fooled a small portion of the unsuspecting public was the box seats. A "box" seat in a circus is a dismal failure, and those who parted company with the sum of two dollars for the privilege of occupying a seat therein were heartily disgusted. The "boxes" were located on the ground with an iron railing around them. On the inside were four weak-kneed chairs which threatened to fall to pieces every time one moved. The ground, which was covered with stones about the size of watermelons, prevented the chairs from standing squarely on their legs, and unless you got a firm grip on the rungs you were liable to fall out. From their very location it was impossible to get a good view of the circus. The only redeeming feature about them was the fact that they were not well patronized.

HEAVY TRAFFIC

The passenger trains on the Lehigh are taxed to their utmost capacity these days. Today number 4 came in with eleven cars and was drawn by two locomotives. When it left here the original 11 cars were being drawn by engine 2002, one of the best owned by the Lehigh, and it was found necessary to run a second section to accommodate the large number of extra passengers that went out of Sayre.

RAIN IS NEEDED

This section is badly in need of rain, particularly in the vicinity of Sayre. It has been nearly two weeks since rain has fallen here to any great extent. Showers have passed to the north and south but Sayre has been missed. The roads are thick with dust and gardens and vegetation of all kinds are suffering. The cooler weather of today does not give much promise of rain.

PAID HIS TAXES

Pearley Nichols paid his taxes this morning. They totaled the sum of $5.69, and were for the past three years. He didn't settle because he wanted to do so, but for the reason that he had been placed under arrest by Constable Brougham under directions from tax collector Plumsted, and it was a case of settle or go to jail. He settled.

NO DISTURBANCES

Although there was a big crowd in Sayre nearly all day yesterday there were no disturbances of any kind. The police had no difficulty in maintaining order. Pickpockets, thimble riggers and gamblers were conspicuous by their absence and upon the whole circus day passed off without any unusual incidents.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

The funeral of Mrs. John Walt, whose death occurred yesterday morning, will be held from her late home on West Lockhart street tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. The interment will take place in Tioga Point cemetery.

JAMES H. MAURER SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

Socialist Candidate for Governor to Address the Citizens of Sayre

James H. Maurer, the Socialist candidate for governor, arrived in Sayre this morning and will speak in the hospital park this evening provided the weather proves favorable. Should it rain he will speak at the West Sayre hose house. Mr. Maurer is a young man of good appearance and is a bright, entertaining speaker. He will no doubt be listened to by a large crowd.

JAMES McDONALD MAY BE INSANE

His Actions Here Recently Lead to That Belief Among Officials

James McDonald, a laborer, was found lying along Lehigh avenue last evening by Officer Lewis. McDonald was almost helplessly drunk and he was taken to the lockup for the night. This morning he was brought up before Justice Carey for a hearing and given short notice to get out of town. McDonald was arrested a short time ago, and at that time he was trying to fix a telephone pole. He had an axe and as he was not employed by the company he was arrested. He acts queerly and is believed to be mentally unsound.

BIG CAVEIN

A big cavein occurred on the Lehigh Valley near Hazleton early yesterday morning. It appears to have been due to the floods arising from the recent rain storms. A large force of men were dispatched to the scene. Several times during the day the cavein reopened. It did not retard the progress of trains.

WILL PLAY FOR THE "BIG CLUB"

Wilkes-Barre and Sayre Boilermakers Are Contesting on the Riverside Diamond

The Sayre and Wilkes-Barre boilermakers are playing ball this afternoon on the Riverside diamond. There has always been a very friendly spirit existing between the Sayre and Wilkes-Barre boilermakers and some years ago they conceived the idea of making a big club and playing ball with the club for a pennant. The club has been in the possession of the Sayre team but once, while the Wilkes-Barre aggregation has had it three times. The Sayre team is composed of the following players: Morris Downs, Mahlon and Dan Stark, J. Greenley, O. E. Curwin, Christie Smith, John Quick, Mick Malone, Tom Davis, Charles Morgan and Frank Tucker.

LOCAL NEWS

The Traction company yesterday carried 13,985 passengers.

The Rev. Mr. Shaffer will conduct services and deliver a sermon at the Church of Christ, West Sayre, tomorrow morning. There will be no services in the evening.

The Partello Stock company close their two weeks' engagement at Oak Grove park this evening, at which performance they will present the four act comedy-drama entitled The Admiral's Will.

Services at the Church of the Redeemer tomorrow, the Eleventh Sunday after Trinity, will be conducted by Burton P. Lyman, at 10:30 a. m.; Sunday school at 2:30 p. m., and evening prayer and song service at 7:30 p. m.

The regular services of worship will be held tomorrow morning and evening at the Baptist church with preaching by the pastor. The annual offering for missionary work of the New York Missionary convention will be taken tomorrow.

The officials of the Traction company had their hands full yesterday in handling the circus crowds. Every car owned by the company was brought into service, and when the people were going to and from the circus the cars were loaded to the limit. The motormen and conductors were a tired looking lot last night and they are doubtless rejoicing that a big circus don't come this way very often.
