LEHIGH PAY DAY SPECIALS!

PIANOS, ORGANS, SEWING MACHINES BARGAINS

Cannot be secured from house to house canvassers, or from any store which employs them, as their salaries and commissions will add from fifty to one hundred dollars to the cost of the piano, and not one cent to its actual value. See how much better Piano we can sell you for $200 up than you can buy from any canvasser for one hundred dollars more. We have no canvassers and no commissions to pay, and save our customers these unnecessary expenses. Compare our pianos and prices when some commission agent wants to put a piano in your house on trial.

SICKLER REFUSED TO PAY HIS FARE

Is Arrested for Illegal Train Riding and Later the Lehigh Offers Him a Special Train to Carry Himself and Wife to Waverly—A Decidedly Complicated Case

Arrested on a charge of illegal train riding, on complaint of the Lehigh Valley railroad, and later having a special train placed at his disposal to transport himself and wife to Waverly, is the rather unique and interesting position Mack S. Sickler, a resident of Waverly, found himself in last night, and which will probably be the beginning of a case, which with its many legal complications, will tax the mental acumen of the courts that may be called upon to make a final adjudication.

The facts leading up to the arrest of Sickler are as follows: A week or more ago Sickler purchased two return tickets for himself and wife from Waverly to Towanda. Last night they started to return home. Mr. and Mrs. Sickler were driven to the station at East Towanda, and when passenger train No. 127 came into the station they boarded it.

The train was in charge of Conductor W. W. Woodward of Waverly. Sickler says that the conductor did not work the train between East Towanda and North Towanda, but that after the train had left the latter station he came through the car and demanded tickets. Sickler gave him the tickets for himself and wife, and then the conductor demanded 12 cents, the price of two fares from East Towanda to the station at North Towanda. According to the conductor and Sickler's own admissions the latter refused to pay the fare, and Sickler characterized it as robbery on the part of the company. He gave his tickets to the conductor, however, but when Sayre was reached Officer Julius Vogel and Special Officer Johnson entered the coach in which Sickler and his wife were seated, and after they were pointed out by Conductor Woodward, the officers placed Sickler under arrest, and Mrs. Sickler says that she was also pushed out of the car with but little ceremony. This statement, however, is denied by the officers.

Sickler was brought before Justice Carey, and the latter after learning the facts refused to proceed until a proper complaint and warrant were issued and Sickler placed under arrest. Conductor Woodward was sent for and made the complaint charging Sickler with illegal train riding, under the statutes of the Commonwealth. Constable John Kasper was sent for and placed Sickler under arrest.

In the meantime Sickler consulted with Attorney William Maxwell of Towanda, over the telephone, and was advised to enter bail for a hearing to be fixed at a future time, Sickler was arraigned but refused to plead to the charge. Bail was fixed at $100 T. P. Maney qualifying as bondsman.

While all of this was transpiring the officials of the Lehigh were busy getting an engine and coach to carry Sickler and his wife to Waverly, and thereby complete the contract so far as the tickets were concerned.

Immediately after bail was entered Special Officer Johnson informed Sickler that a special train was in waiting at the Sayre station to take him and his wife to Waverly. Again Sickler went to the telephone, and this time he called up Attorney C. C. Yocum of this place. After Mr. Yocum had been informed by Sickler what had transpired he advised Sickler not to accept the service offered by the company. Sickler and his wife continued their journey to Waverly by trolley, and when they left Sickler declared that the Lehigh Valley railroad company would be made the defendant in a suit for heavy damages.

The case is a most unusual one, and it is doubtful if anything similar to it is on record.

There are many complications and the local legal fraternity are not agreed as to the outcome, in the event of suit for damages.

Sickler, who says that he is a retired man, is highly indignant, and says that he will fight the matter to a finish. On the other hand the company is determined to get what is due them and in case of a suit will probably be there to defend.

Sickler will be given a hearing on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and interesting developments will probably follow.

LEHIGH SUED FOR BIG DAMAGES

Wife Wants $15,000 and Her Husband Demands $10,000 of the Company's Money

The statement of claim in the case of Thomas Monahan and Sarah Monahan against the Lehigh Valley was filed in the prothonotary's office in Luzerne county yesterday. Mrs. Monahan sues for $15,000, while her husband will be content with $10,000. On August 23, 1904, Mrs. Monahan was a passenger on a Lehigh Valley train and while it was at a standstill in the town of Delaio, Schuylkill county, a freight train began to move in the direction of the passenger. A collision being imminent, the passengers in the train were ordered by a brakeman to leave the car at once in order to avoid the expected collision. The plaintiff in endeavoring to leave the car and escape the accident was thrown against a switch, receiving severe injuries. Her ankle and the bones in her foot were broken. Her husband sues the company for the loss of his wife's services.

FIRE BOARD HELD MEETING

Partial Arrangements Made for Firemen's Parade on the 20th of This Month

The fire board held a meeting last night to make arrangements for the parade of the Valley Firemen's Association, which is to occur in Sayre on September 20th. On account of the condition of the finances it was impossible to complete the arrangements. The board now has on hand $150 of its own money, the business men have subscribed $100, but there is still a considerable sum lacking. It is probable, however, that this will be raised in a few days. The Mantua and Franklin hose companies of Towanda, the Exempts of Elmira, and a hose company from Laceyville have sent word to the board that they have accepted the invitation to be present at the parade. The meeting adjourned until next Sunday afternoon, at which time further steps will be taken to complete the arrangements.
