"Facing the Music."
Some authorities say that "facing he music" is a phrase derived from the old mustering militiamen, when every citizen soldier, often greatly em barrassed and fearful of making an unsatisfactory figure in uniform, had to step into his place and face the band and its music. The more probable ex-planation is found in the theater, where actors, waiting their call in the greenroom, have to be ready to go be fore the audience and literally "face the music."

Stays and Silence. The origin of the corset is essentially unaristocratic. A butcher in the thirteenth century had a talkative wife, who was, in addition, something of a virago. To reduce her to silence he imprisoned her body in the first pair of stays. Wives have imitated and improved upon the idea of the thirteenth century butcher, but stays and silence have ceased to be syno-

In an Eastern Walled City.

The gates of all walled cities-Jerusalem, Damascus, Cairo, Tangier, Malta, Gibraltar and other eastern cities-are closed at night and not opened again until sunrise, and in the Moorish cities of the interior there are also gates built across the narrow streets at frequent intervals throughout the city, which are locked at night, effectually preventing the circulation of the people.

When Women Were Publicly Sold. Says the London Times of May, "A decently dressed woman was last night brought out into Smith field for sale, but the brutal conduct of the bidders induced the man who was, or pretended to be, her husband, to refuse to sell her; on which a scene of riot and confusion highly disgraceful to our police took place."

Gauging the Speed.

When traveling on a railway you can tell how fast the train is going by the following method: The telegraph posts along a railway line are placed 30 to the mile. So if you multiply the number of posts passed in a minute or two, the result gives you the number of miles per hour at which the train is going.

Day Flies a Common Pest. It is a mistake to suppose that the so-called "Canada soldiers" which invade lake cities at this season, every year, are peculiar to the great lakes. Such ephemera or day flies abound in many river valleys. They seem to be as numerous along the Danube, in certain parts of Hungary, as they are anywhere else in the world.

Among the izventions made by women are copper tips for shoes, the baby carriage, the washing machine the bread-kneading machine, a selffilling fountain pen, a portable typewriter, a stem-winding watch, the bustle, and three important improvements in the sewing machine.

Bright Scholar.

An examiner was testing the Scriptural knowledge of a school. "What do you know of Cornelius?" was the question he wrote upon the blackboard. One boy wrote in answer: "Cornelius was a man who played the centurion in the Italian band."

Poor Papa!

Myrtle's father was very homely and one day after looking at him steadily for some time she said: "Say papa, was you the only man there was left when mamma got ready to marry?"

Deer Develop Human Instinct. According to an Albany dispatch the deer in the Adirondacks region have developed a grudge against the automobiles, one of which was recently assailed by a vicious buck and lost a tire.

Peculiarity of Lake Erie. Lack Erie is nowhere so deep that the sun does not affect the tempera ture of the water at the bottom, in clear summer weather, though the difference, of course, is extremely small, from one day to another.

Sensible Men of Wealth.

Prodigal as the Rothschilds were and are, nearly all of them have one trait in common. They will give thousands without a moment's hesitation; they will not be fleeced a penny after half an hour's discussion.

High Purposes. Work is a master. Love is an inter preter. Joy carries a divining rod and discovers hidden fountains. Sorrow is an astronomer and shows us the stars.-Henry Van Dyke.

NIGHT HAWK CHICKENS

Waverly-The course of modern invention is even changing the habits of the barn yard fowl, which were supposed to be as unalterable Miss Edna Eisenhart went to as the laws of the Medes and the Persians.

Often at night a flock of hens may be seen out under the electric lights in this village, busily engaged in catching the bugs which swarm around them after nightfall, These birds have evidently discovered that the bugs are to be found there at night in large quantities and are simply changing their habits to fit the conditions. It is said by the owner of the fowls that they get most of their living in Mrs. George F. Lyon went to this manner. They take a nap in the middie of the day and therefore do not grow thin for want of rest.

FIVE DOLLARS AND COST

Mack S. Sickler of Waverly, charged with riding on a Lehigh Valley passenger car between East Towanda and Towanda stations and refusing to pay fare therefor, was given a hearing before Justice row, after spending the summer Carey yesterday afternoon. Henry Streeter, Eq, appeared for the prosecution and Attorney C. C. Yocum represented Sickler. At the conclu ion of taking the testi mony Sickler was fined five dollars and costs, which he paid. Sickler is the man who was arrested here and later offered a special train to take him and his wife to Waverly.

> Simple Amusement Amusement in the capital of Oudh, n India, is not particularly strenuous. For an eastern crowd the bazar is the inevitable center of attraction, "a free lounging place or club, where you may meet your fellows and exchange any ideas you may have and any compliments you may think fit to bestow." Bazar gossip takes the place of newspapers, and if there are no billiard saloons at Luckiew, "at any shop you are allowed to play skittles with your neighbor's char-

> > Profitable Sunflowers.

The sunflower crop is one of the most profitable harvested in Russia. A good crop is worth, as it stands in the field, $25 an acre. The seeds are sold by the farmer; then the merchants salt them and retail them. At every street corner in Russian provincial cities are stands and peddlers with baskets, selling to the passersby the salted product of the sunflower, which forms a favorite food.

"Bloodine Liver Pills"

act gently, yet thoroughly upon the bowels, liver, stomach and digestive organs. The pills, in old and chrooke cases of constipation and indigestion, act at once, without griping, nor of a they leave any unpleasant after-eligers, nor form a constant habit of purging, product de by other cathartic remedies.

"Bloodine Liver Pills" restore the deranged and torpid liver jo its normal condition and healthful action. Remove and prevent constipation by securing a natural and regular operation of the bowels, and relieve those unpleasant symptoms which attend a diseased or morbid condition of the liver, stomach and bowels. To assist in attaining this tod, the following suggestions are offered.

REMARKS. Everyone who uses pills for REMARKS. Everyone who uses pills for their action on the liver, should know that large doses rarely prove as satisfactory as small ones. Large doses simply purge and pass out of the system, usually leaving the bowels constipated, and seldom removing the cause of the trouble, or improve the general health. On the other hand, small doses develop the alterative effect of the medicine, do not irritate or constipate the bowels, but gently stimulate the liver and prevent the accumulation of bile by directing its flow into the proper channels. Therefore it is advisable to commence by taking not over one or two pills at bedtime and increase dose as necessary.

GENTS: —I find your "Bloodine Liver Pills" the most effective pill I ever used. They cause no griping or constipative siter effect as most liver pills do.

Yours truly,

MRS. AMADA RICHARDSOM.
