RESERVED DECISION

Athens—The case against Fish Warden Ferley Nichols occupied all of Saturday afternoon. Chester Thomas, the complainant, charged Nichols with taking two yellow bass from an outline on the 26th of last June in violation of the law. Mr. Thomas swore that they were fishing together and captured an eel and the two game fish. When he took them off the line he asked Nichols what he should do with them, and Nichols replied, "keep 'em and say nothing about it."

Afterward Nichols took three other yellow bass. When they came to divide up Thomas took the two yellow bass and Nichols took the eel. Nichols swore that he did not take any game fish, and so the case hinges on the veracity of the two witnesses. Nichols' testimony is sustained by Mr. Vaadyke and another man who saw Nichols cleaning the fish that morning. Several witnesses were produced from Sayre who swore that they would not believe Nichols under oath. Esquire Johnson reserves his decision until Wednesday.

RECEPTION TO EMERY

Athens—The reception to Hon Lewis Emery, Jr., at O D Kinney's residence this afternoon was a very satisfactory affair. He speaks in Elmira Opera House this evening and will be accompanied by Hon. W. T. Creasy of Columbus, candidate for secretary of internal affairs and Hon. George E. Mapes of Philadelphia.

BRYAN AT DETROIT

Mayor Odd Delivered an Address of Welcome.

NEBRASKAN SPEAKS TO WORKINGMEN

Upholds Dignity of Toll—in This Country, Where We Have Best of Everything, We Should Have Best Ideal of Labor.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 4.—When William Jennings Bryan arrived with his party of about a hundred in Detroit over the Grand Trunk he passed to his carriage through a cheering, applauding crowd and, escorted by the reception committee, was driven to the Hotel Cadillac, where Mayor George P. Codd delivered a formal address of welcome.

Immediately after the reception the party sat down to luncheon, after which they were driven in automobiles to the fair grounds, where a very large crowd greeted the Nebraskan's approach with applause and cheers. The party was driven to the band stand in the grove, where Bryan was to speak. Nearly all in the immediate vicinity of the stand bore the marks of the toll. It was to these Bryan's address seemed directed. Mr. Bryan said that he was impressed during the last few months of his travels abroad with an idea in connection with labor.

"As I passed through the orient," he said, "I found a great gap between those who stand at the top and those at the bottom of the social structure. I return to my home more than ever believing in the dignity of labor and the importance of cultivating a sentiment among the people which makes them respect more the man who tills than the one who idles in society."

"I trust we shall never have within this country a leisure class, if by that we mean those with nothing to do. I cannot conceive any place in a well regulated society for men or women who have nothing to do."

"In this country, where we have the best of everything," continued Mr. Bryan, "we ought to have the best ideal of labor. I want to cultivate the sentiment that the man who does something for the welfare of the nation is better than the man whose only ambition is to spend something somebody else created for him."

SANTIAGO, Sept. 4.—Secretary Root and party, who reached this city on Saturday, breakfasted with Baron de Giskra at the Austrian legation and visited the schools. The cause of death was not stated. On receipt of the message Mrs. Oelrichs started at once for New York, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 4.—William Randolph Hearst addressed a Labor day crowd of about 5,000 persons on the fair grounds here. He was met at the station by a crowd of about 1,500.
