chefuegos bay, also known as Jagua bay, is situated on the south coast of Cubs, forty-five miles northwest of Trinidad. Upon the shores of the bay is situated the city of Cientuegos, 185 miles by rail southeast of Hayana, having a population of about 30,000. Commercially Cientuegos is the most important port in the southern part of Cuba and is the center of the sugar trade in that part of the island.

Despite the government's absolute

Despite the government's absolute refusal to make or accept any terms peace talk continues here, but in a half hearted way. Nothing definite has been proposed. The only actual effort was the starting of a committee of veterans for Pinar del Rio to talk over he matter with Pino Guerra.

General Menocal has no definite sace plan, but has already stated that se was not willing to attempt any ne-potiations without the express authornation of the government. This posi-tively has not been forthcoming. The situation in the field is unchanged, except that the government is gradually sending out more man. The military authorities here are de-pending considerably on the arrival of borses from the United States in their efforts to clear up the situation.

Reports from the districts of the provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana and Santa Clara are to the effect that two-thirds of the people in the country and small fowns of these three provnces are insurgents in sentiment, if not in fact.

It is generally believed that the gov enment ultimately will subdue the in-urrection, but in the meanwhile the rops cannot be developed, and it is a trave question whether the rebellious pirit even then can be actually quelled o the extent of restoring the country to a normal self governing status. The valization of this is the cause of the mewal of efforts for the restoration General Mario Menocal, whom the people trust as one capable of bringing warring factions together, if such thing is possible, came to Havana ad held two conferences with President Palma, General Menocal after these conferences absolutely refused to make any statement as to their nature, ocal and General Cebreco who has been prominent in recent ef-forts to institute negotiations with the nsurgent leaders, and a few merchants cuss the proposal to make an attempt unity and see what it is possible to do.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 .- William J. Bry. an and party arrived in Chicago over the Grand Trunk rallroad. Mr. Bryan was met at the station by a large party of local Democrats made up of men bers of the frequels and Jefferson clubs. The first man to greet Mr. Bryan as he stepped from the train was Mayor Dunne, with whom he shook hands warmly, remarking, "This is like getting home.

Mr. Bryan's programme for his visit included an informal reception at the Auditorium hotel. He was driven to the beadquarters of the Iroquois club, where he was entertained at luncheon Addresses were made by President John W. Eckhart and Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan said in part:

"I want to say to you that all over the world there is a perceptible growth of Democratic ideas. When I speak of democracy I speak, of course, in that broader sense in which democracy means the rule of the people. I think possibly there has been less progress in this country in the direction of democracy than in some of the countries of the old world. That may be explained by saying that we have less distance to travel than they have in Europe and that we have to some extent felt a counteracting influence in the last twenty-ave years that, to my mind, can be traced to the dominating influence in politics of great corporations interested in favorite legislation and in special privileges."

Mr. Bryan then amid much applause advocated the election of United States senators by the people and added:

"I think it is time to speak plainly in regard to the United States senate, and in my humble judgment the reason why reform has been delayed for a decade and more is because predatory wealth has put its operating tools in the senate, and until this can be remedied and the senate brought into harmony with the voters of this country there is not much prospect of reform." Mr. Bryan then asserted that there had been great changes in public sentiment during his absence and said that ground since 1900. On the trust question Mr. Bryan said: "To the extent that the president has gone I am glad, but he has not gone far nough, and be has not been able to take his party with him as far as he enough to withstand the temptations that are presented by a private monop-

Mr. Bryan in a speech at a banquet given in his honor by the Jefferson club devoted most of the time to National Committeeman Roger C. Sullivan of Illinois, whose resignation Mr. Beyan has demanded, but who despite this was indorsed by the recent state convention, which also declared itself in favor of Mr. Bryan as the next nocratic nominee for president. Mr. Bryan not only scored Sullivan and his political methods unmercifully. but informed the Democrats that he would have none of the approval of the Democrats of Illinois and that he repudiated their recent indorsement of him.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Sept. 5:- The United States craiser Boston went ashore at low tide in a fog on the rocks off Peabody islands, in the strait of Rosario, twenty-two miles from here. The torpedo boat Paul Jones, on passing the stranded vessel, was signaled by the Boston and an effort of an hour was made to pull her free. P.C. an hour was last. Finally the rising tide, which throws a strong eddy from the gulf of Georgia into the strait, forced the Paul Jones to leave the Boston to her fate and proceed to Bellingham without her. The Boston reached Beilingham under her own steam at 6 o'clock, and a line of blue ackets with a string of 98c. buckets worked in conjunction with the pumps to prevent the cruiser from going to the bottom. At a late hour an effort to secure fire tugs with strong pumping capacity was being made Seven compartments were flooded at this time, and the extent of the damage could not be determined.

The officers of the crew of the Jones were at the service of their fellows on the crulser. The men were at work all night keeping down the water. The Boston is the flagship of the Pacific squadron. She is of 4,000 tons displacement and carries 300 men. Commander Coffman of the cruise Boston said:

"We are not in a sinking condition $1.19. or I should have beached the cruiser as soon as we reached the harbor. The pumps are all working and are disposing of the water easily. I cannot estimate the extent of the damage, but there is nothing to fear. We were simply sailing in a very dense fog and Colored Dress Goods ran on to dry land.

"Three hundred men are all very tired with the day's work, for it has been a strenuous day with us. I shall remain here until I receive orders from the admiral. The Boston is now lying in deep wa ter in this harbor in order to give divers an opportunity to examine the hull. The vessel has taken in considerable water and has listed five degrees to port. Seven compartments are filled. whether you buy or not. All the lifeboats are provisioned and swung out ready for instant use.

The ship's diver, who is still at work, has found a seam three feet in length | Tanneler es which is admitting water, but has not discovered any holes in the hull. The vessel is believed to be badly wrench ed. Commander Coffman is awaiting tugs to tow the Boston to Bremerton. The men are beginning to show the been subjected for twenty-four hours.
