NEW TRIAL REFUSED

CHARLES JOHNSON

Decision Handed Down by Judge Fanning at Towanda Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon Judge Fanning denied the motion for a new trial in the case of Charles Johnson, convicted of murder in the first degree. The decision refusing Johnson another chance for his life was handed down immediately after court opened in the afternoon. Lilley & Wilson, attorneys for the condemned man, it is said, will appeal from the decision of Judge Fanning and take the case to the supreme court. An appeal to the supreme court of course will act as a stay of execution.

Immediately after the opinion of the court was handed down District Attorney Mills moved that the prisoner be sentenced. Johnson was brought into court a few minutes later. The long confinement in jail has bleached his complexion, and he does not look much as he did when first arraigned on the charge of murdering Maggie Johnson and little Annie Benjamin. Recently he has undergone considerable change. Persons visiting the jail do not now get an opportunity to look him in the face. On the approach of visitors he turns his head and appears deeply engrossed in a newspaper or book until the unwelcome guest departs. In court yesterday Johnson kept his eyes continually on the judge, and when asked whether he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be pronounced he declared in a loud, clear voice, "I am innocent of this crime."

Johnson has been tried twice for the part he played in the murder, and there are many who think that no further effort should be made to reverse a judgment which is believed to be just. According to his own confession, he is the man who did the actual killing, and just why there is any doubt as to his guilt is difficult to understand. The taxpayers have paid the expense of two trials and they should not be burdened with a third. A third trial would result the same as the other two, as a jury could not be found in Bradford county that would bring in a verdict of acquittal, or lessen the degree of punishment.

The governor will fix the time for the execution of the sentence pronounced by Judge Fanning.

PUBLIC PAY-OFF

Black Diamond Legion N. P. L. will hold a public pay off on Friday evening, which will be followed by a literary and musical program of a high order. Refreshments will also be served and friends and members of the Legion are requested to be present.

National secretary Henry Lockwood will be present and will address the meeting. Twelve dividend checks will be distributed, aggregating $2400.

COXTON YARDS RUSHED

The Coxtan yards of the Lehigh Valley are experiencing a freight rush such as they have not known for months. Every employe of the yard is worked every available minute to keep up with the volume of business that is being handled by the company. For several days past the officials have been barely able to keep up with the rush. All the regular freight crews are allowed only eight hours layoff.

THE PLAY PLEASD

A strong company presented "Quincy Adams Sawyer" at the Loomis last night and the large audience went wild with delight. Every seat in the house was taken and many were compelled to stand up. Although the play has been here several times it has lost none of its interest for theatre goers. The company which presented it last night was way above the average and pleased the audience.

BICYCLES IN CUSTODY

Officer Lewis has in his possession two bicycles which have apparently been abandoned by their owners. One of the wheels was being ridden by a man, when Officer Lewis approached. The man suddenly dismounted, left the wheel, and has not been seen since. Mr. Lewis thinks that the man would rather abandon the wheel than to pay a fine for riding on the sidewalks. The owners of the wheels can have them by calling at police headquarters.

UNDERTAKERS SMILE

Football, the rough, treacherous game, associated with late fall and early winter, comfortable wraps and overcoats, is again being practiced. In nearly every town rival teams have resumed practice and will be prepared to furnish the real article before the snow flies. The game will supplant baseball, and as a boom for sprains and jolts it is a great success. Incidentally the undertaker always puts on his glad smile when the football season approaches.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS

MET LAST EVENING

But Little Business of Importance Was Transacted—Large Number of Bills Paid

The Sayre borough school directors held their regular monthly meeting last night, all members except Director Tallada being present. With the exception of paying some bills the board had but little to do.

Superintendent Stetler's report was read and accepted. Mr. Stetler stated that the supplies for the school year had not been received and that the teachers would be compelled to get along with those left over from last year until the new ones arrived.

John Walt was appointed janitor of the high school building with a salary of $39 per month.

Considerable congestion exists in the fifth grade of the fourth ward school, and steps will be taken to relieve the condition.

A large number of bills were paid and adjournment was taken.

MOVING PICTURES

April 23, 1906, was a day long awaited by at least one nation—the Greek—and eagerly looked forward to by many others. It was the opening day of the Olympic games at Athens. The theatre of action was the vast and imposing stadium, built entirely of marble, one third of a mile in circumference and with 24 miles of marble seats. This imposing spectacle will be reproduced by Lyman H. Howe in the Loomis opera house, Saturday, September 15, afternoon and evening. The scenes open by showing members of the royal family bowing to the right and left in recognition of the cheering hosts. All Athens seems in a frenzy. Never before in the history of athletics has there been such a sight. 70,000 people were in the stadium, 60,000 more were on the hills overlooking it, and 170,000 lined the route of the great Marathon race. It is estimated there were fully 300,000 Grecian spectators to it, and it is safe to predict that over a million spectators will see it throughout this theatrical season reproduced by Lyman H. Howe.

GEARY--HAMM

The marriage of James Geary of Scranton, and Miss Gertrude Hamm of this place, occurred to day at high noon at the Church of the Epiphany, the Rev. Father Shanley officiating. The groom is employed as a telegraph operator at Scranton, while his bride is one of Sayre's most highly respected young women. A wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Hamm, on North Elmer avenue, followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Geary will enjoy a short wedding trip and will go to Scranton to reside.
