District Attorney Jerome at State Capital.

SCORES BOSSISM AND SOCIALISTS.

laborne, Former Mayor of Albany, Denounced Actions of Agents of W. R. Henrat at Buffalo Before Conference.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 6 .- Charges of forgery, bribery, riot and blackmail were made here against the agents of William Randolph Hearst by Thomas W. Osborne, former mayor of Albany, in a speech before the Democratic conference at Odd Fellows' hall. The peaker was cheered to the echo, and great excitement followed

Mr. Osborne in ringing tones assert ed that the agents of a certain "multiillionaire" had been engaged in de bauching the party in their efforts to apture the delegates to the state conrention at Buffalo from county conven tions. He declared that these agent had stopped at nothing to gain their end. They had used money, influence, chicanery and criminal practices in order to compel delegates to pin their alegiance to their employer. Mr. Osporne entered a pussionate protest against such methods and implored Democrats to repudiate such men and such measures.

"Must we submit to be purchased by multimillionaire for his use?"

While most of those responsible for calling the meeting disclaimed its being in the interest of or opposed to any particular candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor, it was privately conceded on all hands that it was aimed chiefly to prevent if possible the nomination or indorseme by the state convention at Buffalo of William R. Hearst. Several allusions n the speeches were interpreted as having no other possible meaning and the speech of John N. Carlisle of Watertown, secretary of the Democratic state committee, of being an explicit attack lacked only the use of names.

The other incident was a conference of representatives of several radical Democratic organizations from which emanated a statement criticising Mr. Hearst and declaring in favor of the pomination of Congressman William Suizer of New York

The chief feature of the early session of the conference was the speech by District Attorney Jerome of New York, who denounced bosses and the Socialistic trend of the Democratic party. He was cheered time and again turing his speech.

Mr. Jerome mentioned no names in his address. He began by declaring it as his understanding that the conference was in the interest of no particular candidacy, "least of all to dictate o or threaten the convention of our party seen to assemble at Buffalo." "Real leadership is nowhere in sight," said he, "and what passes for leadership seems to consist of demagogic denunciation of existing conditions and the advancing of vague schemes of Socialism and paternalism which are essentially revolutionary in character. "We are not 'on the threshold of the greatest political awakening this nation has ever known,' marking 'the beginning of a new age,' but we are, I believe, about to return to our senses and to earnestly address ourselves to the solution of the difficult problems confronting us by the methods which the past has shown to be entirely adequate to meet the greatest emergen-

"Our elections, where national political parties are involved, have become little more than ignoble scrambles for office, in which each candidate declares how good he will be if elected to office and vies with his opponents in claiming trust busting and anticorporation virtues, not forgotting to emphasize how warmly his heart beats for organized

"In the midst of all this the plain people go about their business. Sober and sensible, industrious and prosperous, honest and patriotic, they do their thinking quietly and are neither alarmed nor greatly misled by the loud outcries of the politicians.

"Seeing no real issues of present interest in dividing the national parties, they stand indifferent to each, ready and free to choose when an issue arises that interests them.

"In the absence of momentous issues there is a tendency to develop 'third parties.' In this country few things could be so sinister in their relation to our public life as the development of a strong 'third party'—a party not having a numerical majority of the voters in its ranks, but numbers sufficient to make it a trading asset to its lead-

"Issues are not all there is of political parties. Indeed, issues are ephemeral, not fundamental. The two party division lay deep in the mental character and habit of the people.

"The Republican party has always been conservative-opposed to change and innovation-until today, half consciously, it voices its character by declaring itself to be the party of the stand patter.

"On the other hand, the Democratic party has beerathe party of the liberal. The fundamental habit and character of its members has been that of hope, of looking forward, of trust in the machinery and controls it for his own

Public servants no longer feel full measure of responsibility to the people who elect them. They must people who elect them. They must stand hat in hand to the boss who gives them a nomination and in whose hands their political future lies. Good men are driven from the public

"Young men of character will no enter it or cannot. The people have practically no choice in the selection of candidates for office and at the polls have only a choice between men whom they too often consider as unfit for the office for which they are run

"The men responsible for the pres ent demoralized condition of the party machinery should be driven out. From a great vote getting organization they have made it simply a delegate getting

"Unless these conditions are reme died by the encouragement of independent thought and action by conventions made open rather than subservient to a central clique the thousands of self respecting voters in the state who are Democratic in principle, but vote the Republican ticket, will continue where they are, and young men who could be brought into our ranks in numbers will remain indifferent to political affairs or join our po litical opponents.

"The people of the Democratic party, disgraced and humiliated by years of mismanagement, to give it no harsher name, would array themselves be hind their party candidates if they are men of character standing on a platform of real Democracy.

"And in that platform they want no crazy socialism nor revolutionary "What they want is men and not measures. They have little faith in new laws while there is not honesty and capacity enough in public servants to work the old. "Our chances of success will not lie in large promises or violent denunciation, but in the selection of candidates for office whose character will give assurance to the people of the state that if elected they will render bonest and faithful service." When the addresses had been finished the committee on resolutions submitted these resolutions, which were adopted: "Resolved. That Democrats should repudiate boss rule in every form and especially efforts from any direction to obtain control of the party organization by purchase, intimidation or by hired agents."

Other resolutions against protectionism, socialism and imperialism and in favor of a full, free and untrammeled expression of opinions of the party in state convention were submitted and adopted unanimously. The conference then adjourned to meet at Buffalo on Sept. 25,

BRYAN AGAIN AT LINCOLN.

After a Year of Wandering Is With His Home Folks.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 6.-William Bryan has reached this city, and the "home folks" welcomed him with every evidence of approval and satisfaction. It was a neighborly welcome planned as such and carried out as planned.

Lincoln has more Republicans than Democrats, but there was no line of partisan division, and the welcome exwas sincere and joyful. Everybody to quarrel about politics, and nearly the whole population showed that it lives here.

It is doubtful whether Lincoln ever held a larger crowd than that which came to the city. The weather, barring the heat, was fine. It was a half holiday in the city, and every train from over the state arrived loaded down, bringing not only Nebraska people, but many from nearby states.

Can's Reform Programme. BT PETERSBURG, Sept. 6 .- An official communication embodying the whole government programme was published last night. He was born in Edinburgh and merals and confidence in the intelli-gence of the masses of the people. Only recently have efforts been made wich, this state. GERMAN BOATS SLOW

Three Yankee Yachts In Lead For Roosevelt Cup.

THE VIN OF NEW YORK FIRST.

Wannasee Did the Best Work, but None of Them In It With Our Fliers.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Sept. 6 .-Three American boats sailed across the finish line in the race for the Roosevelt cup well in advance of the three German challengers.

The Vim, designed by William Gardner and owned by Commodore T. L. Park of the American Yacht club of New York, won the contest through her brilliant windward work, coupled with splendid running qualities. Clifford Buckman, her amateur skipper, sailed the craft perfectly the second time over the course, although he lost during the first time by taking a long hitch inshore with the tide.

The Caramba, owned by C. H. W. Foster, was the second boot, finishing thirty-two seconds behind the Ving while the Auk, winner of Monday's race, was third to finish, twenty-two seconds behind the Caramba.

Of the three German challengers the Wannasee did the best work, but at that no one of them seemed to have a chance with the American vachts at uny stage of the race. The Wannssee finished the race 3 minutes 20 seconds behind the Vim and was thirty-seven seconds ahead of the Glueckauf IV. the fifth racer to fluish. The Tilly VI., the pride of the German fleet and winner of nearly all the races for the Sonder Klasse at Kiel, Germany, was the last boat across the finish line.

The Tilly VI. had luck on the first leg to windward, getting into all the soft spots. She was an even nine minutes behind the Vim at the end of the race. The German yachtsmen express ed themselves as much surprised at the results of the two races that have been sailed, but do not admit yet that their chances of lifting the Roosevelt cup are gone.

way at the end of the first round of the course and were at the fore during the remainder of the race. For a time it looked as if the Wannssee was going to reach the windward mark in the van, but this was due to a slight shift in the wind which let up the German craft nicely.

The start of the yachts was excellent, and although there was some close work at the line there was no danger of fouling. The German skippers demonstrated that they know the short tacks to starboard or port, aiming for a favoring streak of wind First one boat and then another had stronger air. Little shifts in the wind from one to three points put first one yacht and then another in the lead.

Nearing the outer mark the breeze became truer, and then the battle settled to one between the three American tended to both Mr. and Mrs. Bryan yachts, the Auk and the Caramba having a particularly close battle. Spinshowed good nature; nobody wanted nakers were used on the run back to the starting line, and while the Auk and Vim were engaged in a luffing match was genuinely glad that Mr. Bryan the Caramba pulled away a trifle. Rounding the flag mark at the start sheets were bauled flat for a second beat to the windward. The Vim took a very long tack to port and was favored by a less bow tide. When she came about on the starboard tack a half mile from the turning mark she crossed the bows of the entire fleet. Then she led the fleet on to the finish.

KILLALOE, AT 40 TO 1.

Great Filly Stakes Event Shakes Up

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 .- The surprise of the year came in the third race at Sheepsbead, the Great Filly stakes, worth $10,000, at six furlongs, when Killaloe, a 40 to 1 shot, easily defeated the Keene entry, Court Dress, at the prohibitive price of 1 to 10. Mr. Keene started Court Dress and Pope Joan, the latter of whom finished second in the Futurity. They were considered to so far outclass their field that practically no price was laid against them except 1 to 10, while the price on Killaloe went up.

Court Dress went to the faont at the start and set a fast pace. In the final furlong she tired, and Koerner brought Killaloe up on the rall and won easily by two lengths. Inquisitor won the Flying bandicap, at six furlongs, by a head from Arklirta, an added starter, with Consistent third, a head away. Running Water, at 1 to 4, was the only favorite to win. Summaries:
