A NATION'S WELFARE

President Roosevelt on Essential Need of Religion.
CONDEMNNS RELIGIOUS HYPOCRITES.

"Nothing," he says, "I abhor more than the telling of an untruth; but riches below things of the soul."
OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—In a half hour's address at the bi-centennial celebration of the Christ Episcopal church here President Roosevelt talked of the necessity of religion and clean living for welfare of the nation.

"I cannot understand any American citizen," he said, "who has the faintest feeling of patriotism and devotion to his country failing to appreciate the absolute essential need of religion in its broadest sense to the welfare of this country."

"If it were not for the fact that in our villages and towns as they have grown up churches have grown up in them and in the churches men whose work is not for the things of the body, but for the welfare of the soul, it would not be a nation today, because this nation would not be a fit abode for civilized man."

He said that our material foundation of wealth was but a base for the spiritual growth of the nation, and while the material ought not to be disregarded, its real object ought not to be lost sight of.

The mission of the church, he said, was not to work in the interest of one sect, but for humanity as a whole. In this connection, he said, he had been struck by the prediction of Bishop Burgess of Long Island, who had just said that of two or three generations there would be but one church in this country.

"I wish to emphasize," said the president, "the vital importance to this nation of our people being taught to realize that Christianity manifests itself in the conduct of its most humble professor."

The president took issue with former speakers who had said that the dominant tendencies in the nation today were evil rather than good.

"It is perfectly true," he said, "that in many things as a people the tendencies at work among us today are evil, but it is perfectly true also that there are plenty of other tendencies at work among us which are good."

He spoke of the necessity of members of Christian churches condemning vigorously those who take religion as a cloak for their evil deeds. On the subject of riches the president said:

"There is nothing I abhor more than the telling of an untruth, whether a conventional untruth or not, and I would on no account be understood as affecting to depreciate material well being. To tell men to disregard riches entirely is to preach to them not only a doctrine which it is impossible for them to live up to, but which the preacher knows perfectly well they will not try to live up to. But put riches below the things of the soul. Give to the body what the body is entitled to. The multimillionaire is not a liar but a good to the community if he appreciates that he is only a trustee for that wealth; that he is a trustee for the cause of goodness."

The president emphasized the necessity of every man being thoroughly self supporting as a basis for spiritual life. He concluded with the sentiment that the only life really worth living was one that made others better because it had been lived.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10.—Lawrence B. BURGLARS BROKE INTO THREE PLACES

They Mussed Things up Some But Found Very Little of Value

Waverly.—Three burglaries evidently the work of amateurs were committed last Saturday night, but the criminals obtained very little to pay them for the trouble that they took.

The first place visited was Boice's coal yard on Cayuta avenue just south of the Erie tracks. The window was broken in with a stone, and the place entered. Nothing of value was taken, but a number of papers in the money drawer were scattered over the floor. After leaving this place the parties evidently went to the East Waverly station. They effected an entrance but succeeded in getting very little that would be of any value to them. The third attempt was on Harding's store at East Waverly. A shutter in the rear of the store was pried open, and the glass broken. Mrs. Eaton, who lives in the rooms over the store was aroused by the noise, and going out scared the law breakers away. Who the guilty parties are is as yet unknown, but from the bungling way in which they conducted the enterprise, it seems that they must be new hands at the business.

FAIR OPENS TONIGHT
Waverly.—The Odd Fellows fair will open this evening and if the preparations are a criterion by which to estimate the success of the venture the outcome will certainly be satisfactory to all concerned. The members of the local lodge have labored hard to make the fair one of the best that has ever been held in this section and they have not failed. The building erected for the purpose stands at the foot of Johnson street on Broad. Its capacity is sufficient to hold a large crowd. There are a large number of booths, all decorated with the national colors, and filled with everything you may wish to purchase. Five valuable door prizes will be given away each evening and the boys' band has been engaged to give a concert nightly.

MRS. ABEL BARNER
Mrs. Barner, wife of Abel Barner of this place, died suddenly Friday morning, aged 72 years. The funeral was held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Horabrook church, interment in the Horabrook cemetery. Mrs. Barner was an estimable woman and will be missed by a large circle of friends. She is survived by her aged husband and four children, F. F. Barner of Canisteo, N. Y., Mrs. H. W. Chilson of this place, Mrs. G. A. Browning of Montrose, and Rev. A. S. Barner of Brookline.
