PIANOS, ORGANS, SEWING MACHINES BARGAINS

Cannot be secured from house to house canvassers, or from any store which employs them, as their salaries and commissions will add from fifty to one hundred dollars to the cost of the piano, and not one cent to its actual value. See how much better Piano we can sell you for $200 up than you can buy from any canvasser for one hundred dollars more. We have no canvassers and no commissions to pay, and save our customers these unnecessary expenses.

Compare our pianos and prices when some commission agent wants to put a piano in your house on trial.

ANOTHER FATALITY AT EAST WAVERLY

Nine-Year-Old Boy Ground to Pieces by the Black Diamond Express

Another terrible fatality occurred at East Waverly yesterday afternoon, when Robert Evans, the eight-year-old son of John Evans, was struck by the Lehigh Valley Black Diamond and killed instantly. The lad's body was literally ground to pieces.

The Evans family moved recently from Cayuta avenue across the tracks at Barrow's lane, a mile and a half above the Ellistown road, and yesterday the boy went to school from his new home for the first time. On his way home from school he was obliged to cross the Lehigh tracks. When he reached the tracks a freight train was passing. As soon as the caboose went by he started across. In the meantime the Black Diamond came thundering along unnoticed by the boy. He stepped on the track directly in front of the engine. He was swept beneath the wheels and his body was mangled beyond recognition.

The lad's father stood on the opposite side of the tracks and witnessed the horrible accident. When he saw his son go on the tracks he shouted, but the oncoming passenger made so much noise that the lad failed to hear him.

The train was stopped and the remains were gathered up and were later taken to Waverly. The coroner did not deem an inquest necessary.

About four weeks ago Lavere Huckle, a nine-year-old boy, was killed near the scene of yesterday's tragedy, in precisely the same manner.

AT THE LOOMIS

"The Queen of the Secret Service" is the title of one of the new plays presented by the New York Standard Stock Company, which will be at the Loomis this evening. It is a thrilling drama of Arizona and tells a beautiful story of the secret service. No expense has been spared to make this play a winner. The scenery for the production is galore. The play is in four acts and seven scenes, cleverly interspersed by some great vaudeville specialties. Other plays presented by this organization are "An Orphan's Prayer," "While Frisco Was Burning," "White Slaves of Egypt," "Young King Brady, Detective," "A Woman's Worst Enemy," "A Drunkard's Daughter," "For His Daughter's Honor," and others. The Gaspard Brothers head the vaudeville list.

THOMAS HARLEMAN

Thomas Harleman died yesterday morning at his home on Mahoning street, Lehigh, after an illness of several years, which was due principally to his advanced years. Mr. Harleman was an uncle of George M. Harleman, the present superintendent of the Lehigh division of the Lehigh Valley railroad. For many years he was a train dispatcher for the Lehigh Valley, and during his day was one of the best known and most popular railroad men of this section. There were three Harleman brothers, Thomas, Samuel and Edward, all of whom are now dead. All were at times employed in some manner by the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company.

MUSICIANS IN DEMAND

There is a great demand in this section this week for band men, nearly every man who can toot a horn being engaged in one place or another. Band men are wanted at Binghamton, Dryden, Newark Valley, and other surrounding towns, and the demand cannot be filled. All the bands in this section have been engaged for the firemen's parade which is to take place in Sayre tomorrow.

EXCITED FEMALE STOPPED THE SHOW

Declared That Her Son Had Been Murdered, but He Only Got His Bumps

A highly excited female, yelling murder until her lungs threatened to collapse, created consternation on lower Desmond street last night, and for a time broke up the performance at the street fair. The woman lives in Athens. Last night she visited the fair; her son accompanied her. He is full grown and wears a moustache. The mother and son wandered about the grounds for a time and then concluded to go home. Now, the mother is a widow, but she still flatters herself attractive. So does a certain man who lives in Sayre. He was at the fair last night and saw the mother and son when they left the grounds to go to their home. He did not know, however, that the woman had a son and he thought the latter a rival. He followed close behind the pair until they reached a dark place on Desmond street, just below the fair grounds. Then the unsuspecting son got his good and plenty. The man behind dealt out a wallop that put the young fellow to sleep.

The woman recognized her son's assailant as her lover; but as the mother love is the stronger, she set up a howl that awakened the entire neighborhood. She ran to the fair grounds, screaming that her son had been foully murdered. Then one of the carnival attaches yelled "Hey, Rube." Among circus and carnival people this means that one of their number is in trouble. It also means fight. The entire bunch got busy and left their posts. They followed the woman to the point where her son still lay on the ground. He declared that his throat had been cut from ear to ear. One of the carnival men made an examination, discovered that the young man's thorax was intact, assisted him to his feet, and after he found out that he was still in the land of the living, he took his mother by the hand and led her toward the historic town of Athens.

BOARD SELECTED SUPPLY TEACHERS

School Directors Held Special Meeting for This Purpose Last Night

The board of school directors held a special meeting last night, at which Directors Thompson, Whittle, Hutchinson, Talada, Cook and Baltz were present. The meeting was called primarily to select supply teachers and a truant officer. Recently two of the supply teachers have secured situations elsewhere, leaving the superintendent without assistance in the case of one or more of the regular teachers being absent. Yesterday Miss Emma Wells, one of the regular teachers, became ill, and it was necessary to close her room for the day on account of there being no one to take her place.

Miss Lillian Shumway was appointed a supply teacher and it was also decided to appoint Miss Anna Sarsfield, provided her services could be secured.

C. S. Gay, Esq., was elected truant officer, but as Mr. Gay is absent from home, it is not known whether he will accept the position. The board decided to allow the civil service examinations to be held in the high school hall.

A large quantity of necessary supplies were ordered for the present school year.

Superintendent Steller reported that 1261 pupils have been enrolled so far this term.

A motion was made and carried permitting the superintendent to close the schools tomorrow afternoon on account of the firemen's parade.

Director Talada reported that complaints had been made to him regarding a crowd of boys that congregated on the East Side school grounds at night and commit depredations of a various character. It appears that the building has suffered at the hands of the crowd, windows have been broken, and the police have been unable to catch the boys in the act. It was decided to take action by calling the attention of the borough authorities to the matter.

ANNUAL CONVENTION BEGINS TONIGHT

Valley Firemen's Association Fifth Annual Meeting Will Hold Business Session and Banquet This Evening

The Fifth annual convention of the Valley Firemen's association will be held this evening in the Packer hose rooms. The executive committee will meet at 7 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock the regular business meeting will be held. The delegates will be welcomed by Burgess Cross, and after the election of officers and the transaction of other business a banquet will follow, the expense of which is borne by the association. The members of the board of trustees of Waverly, the Sayre borough council, the press, and a few invited guests will participate in the banquet which will begin at 10 o'clock. Daly's orchestra will furnish the music and a most enjoyable time is anticipated. The convention will wind up with the big parade tomorrow.

LIQUOR STORE BURGLARIZED

An unknown thief, who evidently had an exceeding thirst, leaned against one of the windows in E. A. Wilber's liquor store last night, and after the weight of his body had broken the window he reached in, helped himself to a bottle of Sloe gin, and a bottle of cheap whisky and two quart bottles of wine. The matter was given to the police but it is probable that the guilty party will succeed in concealing his identity.

LOCAL MENTION

Ed. Loomis went fishing yesterday. He caught a few, but feels bad over those that he did not catch.

Dr. E. E. Williams is wearing an expansive smile and handing out the cigars along with it. It's a son and arrived last night.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Inez May, corner of Lincoln and Chestnut streets, Thursday, Sept. 20. Subject, "Sabbath Observance."

The G. I. A. to the B. of L. E. held an informal luncheon after meeting last night, at which time Mrs. Wm. Higgins was presented a pin, the emblem of the order. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

William Brown, who conducts a barber shop over Wilts's cafe, was the first man to decorate for the parade. Mr. Brown flung old glory to the breeze this morning shortly after 9 o'clock. Others have followed during the day and the decorations promise to be elaborate.

ERRATUM

In the new ad of the Big Store yesterday as it appeared in The Record the compositor made it appear that this firm has on hand a $35,000 to $40,000 stock of ladies outer garments. It should have read $3,500 to $4,500, and "the man at the case" acknowledges the error as his. He says, however, that all those piles of garments at the Big Store would make any man feel that the stock was worth twice as much as he stated.
