The black bass still continue to bite and fishermen are coming in with fine catches.

There were 325 tickets sold for Towanda at the local Lehigh station yesterday.

Acting under the advise of his physician, Judge Fanning, who has been ill for some time, went to Asbury Park yesterday, where he will remain for a few days.

Chief Walsh arrested a stranger this afternoon on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The man, whose name is not known, was staggering along Desmond street when arrested.

It is said that a number of local hunters are out after squirrels under the impression that the season opened on the fifteenth. The season, however, does not open until Monday next, October 1, and hunters are liable to arrest and conviction who shoot squirrels before that date.

WIFE MISSING ALSO NINETEEN DOLLARS

Woman Takes Her Child and Leaves Husband in the Lurch

A tall, serious looking man, whose countenance bore a look of extreme anxiety, eagerly scanned the faces of the passengers who were waiting on the platform for the arrival of Lehigh train No. 8. As the train pulled away from the station the tall, serious man turned away evidently sorely disappointed. A newspaper man noticed his agitation and asked him the cause thereof. In a voice trembling with emotion he replied by saying that he was looking for his wife. He said that the woman who had promised to "love, honor and obey" had left home yesterday. With her went a trunk, a satchel, their little nine-year-old daughter, and nineteen dollars, coin of the realm, the hard-earned cash belonging to the husband. The husband admitted that he had worked in the Lehigh shops until he had acquired this snug little sum, and now that his wife had gone and taken it with her ambition to become a bloated monopolist had vanished into the dead and past subsequently. He said that the woman had doubtless gone to New York, and that it would be useless for him to follow her to the metropolis, as he had never been in the city and would in all probability get lost, while the idol of his heart would continue on in her mad career, spending the nineteen dollars right and left, without regard as to the many hard knocks it took to earn it.

With the dejected look still on his face he went to the ticket window. He gave the man with the blue uniform a description of his missing wife. "No," the ticket seller had not disposed of a ticket to a woman answering the description. The tall, serious man turned away. This time tears stood in his eyes. The newspaper man got busy looking in another direction, but gave the man in trouble no advice. The last seen of the tall, serious man, he was looking up the driveway to ascertain if any of them had done any carting for the woman.

ELECTED OFFICERS

Sayre lodge, No. 1090, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers last evening in their regular weekly meeting: Noble Grand, William R. Conine; vice grand, Miles K. Hudson; financial secretary, Willis B. Weeks; recording secretary, Clarence C. Walker; treasurer, B. L. Lewis; trustee for 18 months, Ed. Peter; representative to the grand lodge, James Adam.

There were two applications for membership presented and one balloted upon for admission. At the regular meeting next Thursday evening the elected officers will be installed by District Deputy Grand Master Molyneux. The initiatory degree will be conferred the same evening.

Members of Sayre lodge who are at liberty are earnestly requested to come to the lodge room next Wednesday evening to drill preparatory for the initiatory degree.

FAIR CLOSES TODAY

Today is the last day of the big Bradford county fair. There were an unusually large number of tickets sold at the local station this morning, and the last day promises a larger attendance than usual. Yesterday it was estimated that 10,000 people were on the fair grounds. The rain early in the morning probably prevented many from going, but as it was the management has no cause for complaint.

MR. KIPP'S PLATFORM

In another column of today's Record will be found the letter of acceptance of George W. Kipp, the nominee of the Democratic party for member of congress from this district, and who was also endorsed by the Lincoln Republicans of Bradford county. The letter is a straightforward statement of Mr. Kipp's position, and should be read by every voter who believes in supporting and giving fresh impetus to the great wave of reform which is at present sweeping over the length and breadth of this great Commonwealth. Mr. Kipp is fully alive to the issues which confront the people and he pledges his support to the efforts which are now being made to redeem the State of Pennsylvania from the grasp of a machine controlled by men whose names have long since been synonymous with corrupt political methods, official robbery and public plunder. Mr. Kipp calls upon all good citizens to unite in a combined effort to rescue the grand old State of Pennsylvania from the slime and mire into which a set of unscrupulous political bosses have dragged it. Mr. Kipp logically declares that we are not confronted by national issues but by present conditions in Pennsylvania. Politically they are rotten to the very core, and the time has come when those who are responsible for the rottenness must retire. If reform is to be a success the machine gang in this state must be annihilated. Scattered leaders and self-appointed bosses must be supplanted by men who will conduct the affairs of the state in a manner which will receive the unqualified endorsement of every honest citizen within its borders.

With reference to his attitude toward the present national Republican administration, Mr. Kipp says: "It has been said that Republicans cannot vote for me, as Roosevelt must be supported." And in the following sentence asks this pertinent question: "Let me ask, what Pennsylvania Democrat has failed to support Roosevelt in any of his great measures of reform?" And then he adds, "Roosevelt at heart embodies the ideals of a true Democrat." Republicans, therefore, need have no fear of voting for Mr. Kipp on the grounds that he would oppose any of the great reform measures which have the endorsement of the present administration.

The platform on which Mr. Kipp comes before the voters is a ringing presentation of the conditions as they exist today. The principles enunciated therein have the true tone, and the statements are absolutely void of buncombe. It will receive the most cordial endorsement of that class of American citizens who are seeking to be delivered from the hands of the political boss.

HENRY E. DIXEY

The engagement of Henry E. Dixey at the Loomis on next Wednesday evening is attracting considerable more than ordinary notice from theatre-goers. It is not often that small towns are given an opportunity to witness the performance given by so eminent an exponent of comedy roles and Mr. Dixey's appearance here will doubtless be greeted by a crowded house. Reserve seats go on sale on Monday next.

LOETZER VALVE COMPANY MOVING

Will Leave the County Seat and Go to Monroeton.

The Loetzer Valve and Manufacturing company, for the past five years one of the leading industries of Towanda, will move from that place to Monroeton. The company has occupied quarters in the J. O. Frost building on Pine street, but as Frost & Sons need more room the valve manufacturing company will vacate. At a meeting of the Loetzer company held on Wednesday afternoon it was decided to remove the plant to Monroeton, where the business of Boothe & Miller will be taken over and their building occupied.

C. E. Loetzer of this place, is the originator of the valve, which is gaining a wide reputation, and there was a time when prominent business men of this place were desirous of bringing the industry here. Capital was forthcoming, a site had been selected, nearly all the necessary details arranged, but for some reason the plan failed. Towanda, however, seems to be losing industries one by one. The cause is a matter of speculation.

MORGAN RICHARDS

Yesterday the news came of the death of Morgan Richards, for many years a resident of Sayre. About a year ago he gave up his position in the shops at this place and removed with his wife to Jamesville, Mass., a suburb of Woonsocket. His funeral will be held at Catawauqua tomorrow. Mr. Richards had been in poor health for several years and while his malady was known to be incurable, there will be universal sorrow at the news of his death by those who knew him however slightly. His life was singularly pure and upright, and though he was a man of few words his daily life spoke eloquently for the things that are right and true. For more than 14 years he served as an elder in the Presbyterian church of this place, being elected to that office at the organization of the church and serving faithfully until he went to Massachusetts, and those who knew him best can speak with feeling as to his fidelity to the church and his quiet unassuming labors for the cause that was never out of his thought. Mr. Richards has left in this town the record of a life remarkably free from flaws or taint of any kind.

AFTER POTATO TRUST

Merchants in some of the interior towns of Pennsylvania are going after the potato trust. Merchants say that the farmers control this trust and are attempting to force the price of tubers way beyond what they are really worth. At the present time they have succeeded in getting 65 cents a bushel, while the merchants declare that 50 cents is all they are worth, when it is considered that the crop this year is large.
