Old English Election Costs. A burlesque "bill of costs for a late Tory election in the west," printed in the Flying Post for 1715, contains some very significant items concerning oldtime English election expenses, "For roarers of the word 'Church,' £40" is one; "For demolishing two houses, £200" is another. Others were: "For secret encouragement to the rioters, 240;" "For a dozen of perjury men, £ 100:" "For breaking windows, £ 20;" "For a gang of aldermen abusers, £40;" "For a set of notorious lyars, £50."

Political Leader's Sons. In recent years no political leader Vawter yesterday and bagged a lot In New York state has had a son with a taste for politics. Senator Platt's son shows neither aptitude nor inclination for the game. Boss Tweed left no son, and Boss Murphy died childiess, while Murphy, the present leader of Tammany, is in the same position. Richard Croker had three sons, but none of them cared for poltties. Richard the only remaining one, has not voted in years.

First Russian.

Rurik the Rodsen, or Oarsman, a daring sea rover, landed in 862 on the Russian shore of the Baltic with bis brothers, Sineus and Trawer. He subjugated the country from Novgorod to the Volga, and his followers were called the Rodsen, or Russians, Rodsen, in the Scandinavian tongue of the period, meaning oarsmen, Rurik died in 879. The Russian warship Rurik, it will be remembered, went down off Sakhalin last summer.

BRANCHES OF TREES

Over Antics of Creature Who Inhabits Nests,

Baldwin, L. I.—That a wild man urks in the woods hard by this village there can be no possible doubt. Constable Stephen Petit led a posse into the haunts of the creature, but was able to find only a few deserted nests in the trees where the unwel-They bar and bolt their doors at night and two or three of the inhabitants supply a portion of Brooklyn. He has also appeared at dawn to Mr. Simpkin, who was gathering the products of his Plymouth Rocks. The wild man seized the rubber dating stamp with which Mr. Simpkin was about to imprint an egg, and with a flendish cry tore across the railroad track and disappeared in a clump of blackberry Young persons who are accustomed o visit the kissing bridge at twilight now shun it, for the unpleasant experience of a Freeport couple there has alarmed the community. They were leaning against the rail when the wild man approached and laid a heavy hand on the youth's shoulder, and then laughing in his face suddenly swung himself into the branches of a weeping willow which was on the overhanging bank of the stream.

Miss Conway, who lives outside of the main portion of this village, declares that the other afternoon she saw a tall man emerge from the woods. His clothing, which was torn and threadbare, was black. His hair was in tensely black, and he also wore a black mustache.

His eyes h pression, and she noted also that his feet, which were incased in patent leather shoes, seemed small and that he apparently had little or no toes. The wild man looked about him in every direction, and, catching sight of an automobile, gave vent to ribald laughter and receded into the under brush.

Wild men have been seen from time to time in this vicinity, for several sanatoriums for the weak-minded are within a radius of ten miles, but this is the first one who goes to roost. Rude platforms of branches on which he had been in the habit of sleeping are in evidence.

GIRL FIXED HOUR OF DEATH Writes Her Obituary with Strange Exactness Two Months Before

Newcastle, Pa.-Miss Nannie Kyle, handsome young woman of Spring field township, handed a sealed en velope to William Johnston, an un dertaker of Newcastle, two months ago, with instructions that it be not opened until after her death.

The undertaker laughingly tool the envelope, and declared that, judging from appearances, he would keep it a long time, as Miss Kyle, who was 27 years old, was the picture of good health. He placed the envelope in his safe and forgot about it.

Johnston was called to the Kyle res idence the other day and found Miss Kyle dead. She had died of stomach trouble. When the undertaker returned to his office he opened the envelope and found that it contained the announcement of the girl's death, giving the day and hour correctly, the cause of her death, and her biography.

Ear Nipped Off by a Horse. New Rochelle, N. Y .- Harry S. Green, a dairyman, had his left ear bitten off by his pet horse. Green grabbed the chewed ear in his handkerchief and, boarding a trolley car, hurried to the home of Dr. Emberson, where it was grafted in place. There is hope of the dismembered ear growing in place. Green was horseback riding when the accident occurred. The animal stumbled and threw Green over his head, rendering him uncon scious. The horse attempted to assist him to his feet and in doing so nipped off the ear.

WALL OF CHARACTER SURROUNDS THE D. S. ANDRUS and DOYLEMARX PIANOS.

D. S. Andrus & Co. have been over forty-six years erecting this wall of character. Every piano bear-an absolute guarantee that the piano must be as represented or your money refunded as cheerfully as we sold you the piano in the first place. Better still, D. S. Andrus & Co. will sell you a piano ON ONE YEAR'S TRIAL, and if at the end of that period the piano is found to be defective in the minutest degree of our recommendation, we will take it back and it will not cost you one cent of expense. The firm name of D. S. ANDRUS & CO. has become a household word, and is synonymous with HONESTY, RELIABILITY and BUSINESS INTEGRITY. If in doubt, ask your banker, or any one of our hundreds of patrons in your vicinity, and D. S. Andrus & Co. have a strictly ONE PRICE SYSTEM TO ALL.

EASY TERMS---NO INSURANCE---NO EXTRAS

For the benefit of the man, woman, or family who cannot afford to pay cash for a piano, D. S. ANDRUS & CO. have inaugurated an EASY PAYMENT SYSTEM, by which they practically loan you the money to purchase your piano. This they do freely. A small sum down and a few dollars per month, arranged to suit the convenience of the wage-earner of the household, will soon make you the owner of a piano. You are not experimenting—the piano we fell you is a really good instrument, and will be worth in good cash every dollar you invest in it.

FREE WITH EACH PIANO SOLD D. S. Andrus & Co. give free a handsome stool, to match the care, a stylish scarf of your selection, a music book, one year's tuning, an absolute guarantee, and the piano delivered to your home without
