LEHIGH'S OLDEST BAGGAGEMAN DEAD

Maurice Condon, a Respected Citizen of Towanda Expired at the Hospital Last Night

Maurice Condon of Towanda died last night at 9:15 o'clock at the Packer hospital following an operation for strangulation of the bowels. The deceased was brought to the hospital on Saturday evening and his illness is thought to have been occasioned by an accident which happened to him in the Lehigh Valley station at Towanda Saturday morning. Mr. Condon was baggeman at the station and while unloading a truck a large trunk struck him in the back. He was taken ill shortly afterward and in the evening it was decided to remove him to the hospital at this place. The remains were taken to his home at Towanda on Lehigh Valley train No. 8 this morning.

The deceased was probably the oldest baggageman on the Lehigh Valley, having been in the employ of the company 38 years, or since the road first opened for traffic. He was 59 years of age and held the respect of all who knew him.

He was well known by railroad men and the traveling public, by whom he was held in high esteem. He is survived by his wife, one son, James, and one daughter, Mrs. Peter Allen, of Towanda. The funeral arrangements are not yet completed.

MRS. MARY HADLOCK

Mrs. Mary Lawrence Hadlock, relict of David Hadlock, died at Jersey City yesterday noon, aged 59 years. Her maiden name was Mary Lawrence and she was born and spent her early life in Athens. After her marriage to David Hadlock they resided at the farm now owned by J. B. Knapp, east of the Susquehanna. Her husband died four years ago, since which time she has resided with the family of Mr. Knapp. Three weeks ago she went to Jersey City on a visit, and a few days ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which she never recovered. One brother, Theodore Lawrence, of Centerville, N. Y., survives. Her remains arrived this morning and the funeral will take place from the J. B. Knapp residence tomorrow at 2 p. m., Rev. W. A. Kelley officiating. Interment in Tioga Point cemetery.

DIED OF DIPHTHERIA

Mildred Lockett, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lockett, of No. 310 South Lehigh avenue, died last night at the family home. Death was due to diphtheria, with which the little one had been afflicted for several days. The disease developed rapidly despite the fact that anti-toxin was administered. This is the first death from diphtheria to occur in Sayre since a year ago last summer. The remains of the little girl were buried this afternoon, the funeral being held from the family home.

CITIZENS' COLUMN.

Editor Valley Record:

Sir:—We have read with interest the articles appearing in your paper of late relative to the political situation in this congressional district, and feel that you are to be commended by all good citizens, and those who believe in public cleanliness and decency in politics, for the stand assumed by your paper. A fair-minded and honest-thinking citizen, be he politician or layman, regardless of his national politics, must clearly see that in this county we are in a bad way; not only a bad way, but a rotten way. It is not necessary to go into the private life of any candidate to find rottenness, although your contemporary, the Daily Times, tried in a recent issue to say something against the private life of Mr. Kipp, and his associations with various enterprises. It is a well known fact that he is associated with various large enterprises, and is a public-spirited and well-meaning and well-doing citizen. We think, however, that his connection with various banking institutions and water companies will bear investigation.

Inasmuch as the Times is shedding information right and left concerning the various companies in which Mr. Kipp is interested, why not go a little further and expose the inside workings of some of the "enterprises" with which Mr. Kipp's opponent is alleged to have been identified. People who have good memories will recollect a certain "GREAT LAND SALE," which was to have taken place at Athens some time ago. Mr. Lilley evinced considerable interest in this "enterprise," and investors who put their hard-earned coin into the concern can tell what a glorious thing it is to be on the inside with Mial. Men who put in time and material for this company, which promised to have fifty houses on the silk mill plot some two or three years ago, who have tried every legal method known to obtain their pay, can explain how good the promises made by this corporation are. One firm of contractors went to the wall and were forced to assign. They have never recovered from the blow and are no longer extant. Those who invested in the great sacrifice bargain counter sale, with the promise of becoming shareholders, would like to know when all the promises that were made are going to be fulfilled.

The Republican candidate for congress is an artist when it comes to making promises. When he is asked to fulfill them, however, the promisee is told to see the other fellow. If there is a voter in Bradford county who would like to try his hand at living on promises let him go see Mial. He will put on his most engaging smile and promise the voter anything from a job as United States juror to a sinecure in the government offices at Washington. Recently Mial is promising voters an opportunity to visit Pittsburg and other places where the United States grand jury sits. According to report the visits may be made at the expense of the government, provided the visitor's vote is cast "right" at the ensuing election. If these promises were to be fulfilled there wouldn't be enough men left at home when the grand jury is in session to make a corporal's guard. As a matter of fact Mial knows that he cannot fulfill the promises that he has made. Should he make the attempt it would be necessary to create a new line of offices in order to take care of them. Time was when Mial's promises might have been taken in good faith, but the voters have got next to him. They listen to the song, then wink the other eye, and on election day will vote for the other fellow.

There was a time when the office sought the man, but from the actions of Mial in Sayre and Athens during the past two weeks, that has been forgotten, and instead of the office seeking Mial, he is making a regular foot race to overtake the office, in order that the people of this congressional district may have a proper representative. If he people of this district are not able to choose for themselves in this matter, for God's sake let them leave the choice of a representative to someone besides a politician of the Lilley stripe. If there must be a boss let it be someone that has not yet been tried, for it cannot be made any worse than it now is, and the rights of the people cannot be trampled on more than they have been by this trickster and tool of the politicians "higher up."

The "Capitol Grant" is all that is necessary to open the eyes of any reasonable voter, and this was the work of the gang of which Mial is part and parcel. In the name of common decency, what should be done to remedy this rotten state of affairs? Surely the return of Mial E. Lilley will not help any, for he has been tried and found wanting, but he bobs up serenely, and tries to tell the people of this district that the only way in which things can be changed is to send him back to congress. (It should be "back to the woods," where the $850 flagstaff came from.) Mial is a good hand at "explaining" what he is able to do, but his ability as a candid performer of the will of his constituents will hardly bear close scrutiny. The voters of this district have been hoodwinked for a long time, and it is now up to them to shake off the yoke of Mial E. Lilley and his gang of political rounders, and let them know that the Bradford county voter is able to step to the polls and cast his vote as an American citizen, without the dictation of any ringster.

Mial evidently sees the "handwriting on the wall," for the road between Towanda and Sayre has been kept very warm by him for the past few weeks, and the work he has been doing here of late has been an insult to the intelligence of the citizens of this valley, who do not need to be told what to do, nor when to do it. It will be the most glorious thing that ever happened to this county, when the will of the people has asserted itself, and politicians of this stripe are compelled to take their stand in the sphere where they belong, instead of obtaining their living from the people who represent the brain and brawn of this commonwealth. Mial evidently believes the phrase "they toil not, neither do they spin," was made to fit his case, but it is time that his eyes were opened, and they undoubtedly will be when election day is past and the returns are in. Citizen.

GORE CAUGHT BY OFFICER MILLER

Man Wanted Here for Jumping Board Bill Taken in Custody at the County Seat.

In July last John Bruadage went before Justice Carey and caused a warrant to be issued for W. O. Gore on a charge of jumping a board bill. The document was given to Constable Brougham and the latter located Gore on Thomas avenue. The constable brought his prisoner as far as the Packer avenue bridge, and then something happened. Gore gave a jump and before the constable could prevent it he had vanished. Recently Officer Guy Hollon was notified that Gore was wanted here and on Monday succeeded in locating him at Towanda. Chief Miller placed Gore under arrest. Yesterday Gore was released, he having paid the amount of the bill and the costs.
