The mechanical effects required for the proper rendering of "The Proud Prince" which will be seen here soon, cost a small fortune. The most elaborate effect is the storm scene in the first act which is said to rival anything of the kind hitherto attempted, namely that of burning a martyr at the stake. Robert the Bad, King of Sicily is the martyr and the redemption of his soul is accomplished through fire, leaving him a good man. This scene offers the star, Porter J. White a splendid opportunity for the display of his talents. At the Loomis, Monday, Oct. 22.

VERDICT AGAINST LEHIGH

John Masterson of Wilkes-Barre has secured a verdict of $1,250 against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company for damages done to his property in that city. Mr. Masterson's property is so situated that a sewer belonging to the Lehigh company floods his lands. As many as 20 of these floods have occurred and Mr. Masterson at last secured the company. ## WHOOPING 'ER UP FOR BOSS LILLEY

Mial's Lieutenants Uncorked Enthusiasm in Large Quantities at East Smithfield Last Night

Ever since the campaign opened Mial E. Lilley, the machine candidate for congress, has been possessed of an uncontrollable desire to get out and stump the county. Mial believes that he has sufficient lung power to redeem his lost prestige in Bradford county and therefore has decided to make a few speeches. Mial decided to try his oratorical powers first on the citizens of Smithfield township, as this is where he began his "brilliant career as a statesman." Accordingly a meeting was arranged for last night. J. Andrew Wilt, a former prothonotary of Bradford county, W. J. Stone of Canton, and Kent Mitchell, who has been promised the district attorneyship were secured to address the meeting along with Mial. The town hall, which is located in the shadows of five churches, was secured, a brass band was advertised to be in attendance, and Mial's lieutenants were instructed to procure the necessary amount of "enthusiasm," whoop 'er up and have a big time.

That the citizens of Smithfield might be impressed with Mial's greatness a bunch of his willing followers in Sayre and Athens were ordered to secure rigs and drive over to Smithfield and make Rome howl. According to a long distance telephone message which The Record received from that place this morning it appears that the orders of the boss were carried out so far as the "enthusiasm" was concerned. According to The Record's informant there were less than one hundred present and considerably over one half of this number were from Sayre and Athens. The visiting delegations carried out the orders of the boss to the letter, and the citizens of Smithfield will not ask them to play a return date. The "enthusiasm" which the Sayre and Athens bunch uncorked will long be remembered by the residents of that quiet hamlet. When the Sayre and Athens bunch started to return home one of the rigs, in which the "big" boss was seated, got lost.

Being a stranger in that section the driver got mixed as to the homeward route. He depended upon his passengers to keep him straight, but by this time they were badly mixed, too. They all attempted to give directions at once, with the result that about 1 o'clock this morning the rig brought up at Mountain Lake, having gone in an opposite direction from that which was intended. About 3 o'clock this morning the rig pulled up in front of the Forrest house. The inmates were wet to the skin. A session was held in the Forrest, however, and things were balanced up, so far as the wetness was concerned.

This morning three men who went from this place to attend the meeting denied having been there.

LECTURE OCTOBER 25

The Socialist local held a meeting at the West Sayre hose house last night and final arrangements were made for the lecture that will be delivered by Ed Moore of Philadelphia on Thursday, October 25. Mr. Moore has been at Sayre before and an interesting talk is assured.

Tomorrow will be Rally Day at the Presbyterian church. There will be a rally of the church and congregation at 10:30 and 7:30, of the Sunday school at 11:45 and of the endeavors at 6:15. Special music at all the services. All are welcome.

CLANCY SAYS HE WAS KNOCKED DOWN

Charges John Maroney With the Offense, Which Is Alleged to Have Been Committed at the L. V. R. R. Station

John Maroney was arrested this morning about 1 o'clock by Officers Vogel and Lewis on a warrant sworn out before Justice Carey by John Clancy. Clancy claims that he went to the Lehigh Valley station this morning to take train 20 for Towanda. While on the station platform near the steps leading to the superintendent's office he says that Maroney knocked him down. Clancy also claims that he had a small sum of money when he was knocked down, but that when he recovered from the blow his money was missing. Maroney, when arrested, denied the charge and said that a fellow named Norwood, who was with him, knocked Clancy down and then ran away.

When Maroney appeared in court he was represented by D. W. Allen of Waverly, who entered a plea of not guilty. Maroney was released on his own recognizance until 10 o'clock this morning. When the hour of 10 arrived Maroney failed to show up. It was ascertained that he was at his home sleeping off the effects of a large sized jag which he secured after he was released on bail. It also developed that early this morning he got into an altercation with a bartender in a saloon and came out second best in the mix-up that ensued. Officer Vogel was sent after Maroney this afternoon and located him at his home. When he appeared in court he was wearing two beautifully discolored optics which he had received in the fight with the bartender. The evidence being insufficient to hold him upon the charge of assaulting Clancy he was discharged.

During the past two years Maroney has given the police authorities of the valley no end of trouble. He has been charged with various petty offenses and is now under suspended sentence.

MEETING PLACE STILL UNSETTLED

Question As to Where Mial Will Speak This Evening Is Undecided

When The Record went to press this afternoon the question as to where Mial E. Lilley and his henchmen would hold their political meeting this evening was still unsettled. Yesterday's Record announced that the meeting would be held in the Packer hose rooms, and that plans for holding it in the pavilion at Oak Grove park had been abandoned. This morning, however, it developed that there was a disposition on the part of some of the members of the hose company to not let the rooms for political purposes. These members say that the company has never meddled with politics and that it is not considered good policy to commence at this time. This decision on the part of the company caused Mial's henchmen to get busy. The inclemency of the weather has made the pavilion almost out of the question, and if the members of the hose company persist in their determination to not let the rooms for the purpose Mial and his coterie of spicifiers will have to do the curbstoep act, as there is not another hall in town that can be secured.

If Mial is unsuccessful in his efforts to secure a hall it will be a matter of sore disappointment to "some" and particularly to those who are interested in hearing Mr. Dunfee of Towanda explain just how he came to meet with a sudden change of heart. Perhaps, however, Mr. Dunfee will be better pleased under the circumstances if the whole thing is called off.
