SERIOUS CRIME CHARGED TO HEALEY

Alleged That He Stole $125.00 Diamond Ring and $26.00 in Money from Richard Lynch

Charged with the larceny of a diamond ring valued at $125 and $26 in currency, John Healey, a Lehigh Valley brakeman, was arrested here this afternoon by Chief of Police James Walsh, and will be arraigned on the charge late this afternoon. Richard Lynch, a young man, is the complainant in the case against Healey.

Lynch says that the ring and money were taken from his room in the Bradford house, and that Healey, who formerly boarded at the house, was familiar with the fact that the valuables had been left in the room. Among the money which Lynch lost was a British coin, and this coin with other change Healey left with a man named Cummings with whom he is now boarding.

BOARD OF AUDIT NOW IN SESSION

Waverly—The board of audit of the town of Burton will sit today, tomorrow and Saturday, and will pass upon all bills against the town, and any one having a claim should present the same at once.

There is considerable objection on the part of several farmers over an assessment that has been levied against them for the cost of cutting the brush along the roads abutting on their farms. The board notified them to cut the same, and then notified them if they did not that the town would do so and tax it against them. Many paid no attention and they were charged as notified.

Rather Sharp. Stubb—Yes; the Colossal Wild Animal Shows went to pieces. The creditors seized everything until they reached the animal in the last cage. Penn—And why didn't they seize that? Stubb—It was a porcupine—Judge.

Would Disperse Them. "But I feel timid about singing before so many people."

"Well, if you say you'll sing I'll fix that all right."

"How?"

"I will announce that you are going to sing."—Houston Post.

Pardonable. Mrs. Filinfiam—Why don't you wear a glass eye, Mrs. Whitwam? Mrs. Whitwam—Shouldn't think of it, my dear; it's a deception.

Mrs. Filinfiam—Oh, well, even if it is, it's a deception that no one can see through.

TRUSTEE MEETING

Waverly—The village trustees held a regular meeting last evening. D. V. Personius appeared before the board and asked that he be granted permission to use a part of the sidewalk next to his mill during the busy season for wagons to stand upon while unloading. He stated that it did not block the walk, but left over seven feet of it open to traffic. The board took the request under consideration.

The board then ordered a large number of bills paid.

Bids for coal to be furnished the village were read. Bids were received from Messrs. Hassler, Genung and Guyer. Mr. Guyer's bid at $5.45 the ton being the lowest was accepted.

A petition for a light to be placed at the corner of Williams and Center streets was referred to the light committee.

The board adjourned until next Monday evening.

KELLOGG-SCOTT

Waverly—Charles Kellogg, an old and well known resident of Athens and Mrs. Helen M. Scott were married at the home of the bride at 426 Park avenue this morning at eleven o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. B. Cook, Pastor of the Methodist church. After the nuptial rites a wedding breakfast was served, following which Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg left on the Lackawanna for New York city. Those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Hess of Binghamton, Mrs. R. S. Whitman of Union, Charles Kellogg of Athens, Mrs. Griffin and Miss Maud Flint of Waverly.

WINTERS WINS BY 432 VOTES

Waverly—The complete returns show that Hon. Byram L. Winters has a majority in the county of 432. The majority in Barton is 552 not 573 as stated in yesterday's issue. Candor shows a reduction from 71 to 40 and Spencer a falling off of 4. This leaves Winters a majority in the towns that he carried of 816. Owego gave Davis 358 instead of 227, and Tioga gave him 26 instead of 15 as previously stated. Winters majority in the county was therefore 432.

AN APOLOGY

Waverly—We wish to make an apology to our Waverly patrons for the failure to deliver the paper last evening. The papers were placed on the street car at Sayre at the usual time yesterday afternoon, but owing to a mix up, incident to some delay, that the traction company suffered the papers were miscarried, and the Record office did not find out about the non-arrival of the papers at Waverly until too late to secure their delivery.

RESISTED ARREST

Waverly—Chief of Police Brooks placed a man named Sweeney under arrest last night but he didn't want to be locked up. He fought all the way to the lock up and three men practically carried him part of the way. This morning he was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

HARROWING RIDE IN A RUNAWAY AIRSHIP

AERONAUT TELLS OF VOYAGE ABOVE LAKE MICHIGAN.

CLOTHES FROZE TO BODY.

Capt. William Mattery Gives Graphic Account of Unwelcomed Trip—Single Misset Meant Plunge Into Eternity.

Gaylord, Mich.—Dressed in a natty, grayannel yachting suit, Capt. William Mattery was seen the other morning at Wolverine shortly before he started off in search of his airship, the Columbia, which he left anchored to some trees in a big swamp 15 miles east of Wolverine. His experience, both while on board the disabled ship and after landing, will be enough to fill a book. He was nearly drowned three different times, encountered wild animals after making the landing, slept in the dense forest, miles from any human inhabitant, lost himself in the woods after waking and finally reached a place where he could be directed back to civilization.

Capt. Mattery was 25 years old on the day he started his famous trip. He is a native of Paris, France, where he got his early training. He has crossed the English channel by the air route. Has exhibited in the east and middle states and as far west as the Iowa cities. He gives a graphic description of his adventure.

"The crowd was so great at the fair grounds, I at first did not care to make the trip, but account of the high winds which I could see by the traveling clouds. The crowd, which had come over 100 miles to see the big ship, which had been on exhibition for two days, began to talk, and I saw no way out of it. I started to make the trip between 5:30 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and in about two minutes after she got under way I ran into the high winds which threw the gasoline engine out of kilter. I was already over Green Bay. I got there so fast that landing was impossible. It began to get dark; I tried to land again, but got into the water. I threw out some ballast and rose above the clouds. The next time I tried to land it was in a big lake. I think it was Lake Michigan. I could see nothing but water.

"I had thrown the engine out shortly after I started, as I wished to save the lighter ballast to make a landing if I got a good chance. "The next time when I arose I got into the higher atmosphere and my wet clothes froze to my body, the big gas bag was dripping, and as soon as we struck the higher air it was covered with a thick coating of ice. I expected to get killed any moment, but made up my mind I would stick till the finish, but was going to cut the ropes from the frame work of the ship and float with the gas bag if the worst came. The frame work was so frail that one misstep would have thrown me out into space. "I was hungry and thirsty from being in the high air and nearly frozen and became exhausted, so I made a net out of the landing rope across the frame of the ship, tied myself to it and fell asleep. I must have slept a long time and was awakened by the basket striking on a tree. I untied myself, made a lasso out of the drag rope and after striking several trees finally got the rope over one and fastened it, climbing down to the ground and pulled the ship with me. Unfastening the canvas rigger I made a bed of it at the foot of the tree and went to sleep.

"I was awakened in the night by a big black bear which came sniffing around, but he did not attempt to do any harm. I saw all kinds of wild animals and dozens of deer, which would give a stare at the big thing in the air and run away in alarm. "I arose in the morning and walked around for four hours, covering about ten miles, and found myself at the starting point. Took another start and late yesterday arrived here in an exhausted condition. I am now going after the ship."

Capt. Mattery has been sailing the air for 15 years and has had several narrow escapes.

Her Point of View. Him—I wouldn't marry the best woman on earth. Her—That's a sensible declaration. Him—I'm surprised to hear you say so. Her—But it would be such an ill-assorted match, you know.—Chicago Daily News.

Fiction and Real Life. In the books, says a writer, when a girl marries and goes away her old room is left just as she left it, that she may come back to it at any time. Not so in real life; the other brothers and sisters have a quarrel as to which shall have her room the day her engagement is announced, and some one has moved in before the wedding party has reached the gate.

Unclaimed Money in England. In England there is no legal provision for unclaimed bank accounts, as there is in this country and in France, where the law requires that every five years all banking institutions shall publish the names and last known addresses of owners of dormant or unclaimed accounts. It has been estimated that in chancery, the bank of England and the thousands of private banks there is a total sum of over $12,000,000 unclaimed.

Tip for Eyeglass Wearers. Wearers of eyeglasses have noticed how they become dim when subjected to a sudden change of temperature—as, for instance, when the wearer goes from the cold outer air into a warm room. This may be prevented by rubbing the glasses with soap every morning. They may be polished bright after the soap is applied, but an invisible film is left on them that will prevent the deposit of moisture.

Great Swimming Feat. Prof. Swezey, D. V., jumps overboard with a paper box of sulphur matches in one pocket, some tobacco and rice paper in another, and when these articles are thoroughly saturated will tread water while rolling a cigarette and striking a light. He dries the head of a match by rubbing it against his scalp where the hair is thickest.—N. Y. Press.

Singing Statesman. Thomas Bent, the premier of Victoria, introduces songs in his speeches. A word or phrase strikes a chord of memory, recalls some half-forgotten melody and then the premier breaks forth into song. Replying to critics, Mr. Bent says he never introduces songs of the present day, of which he has a very poor opinion.

Wanted No Artificiality. A maiden lady resident of Northampton, England, who has lately died, bequeathed the whole of her estate to her niece, on condition that no artificial flowers are placed on her grave. The concluding words of her will run as follows: "Let there be no artificiality in God's acre."

Spain's Money. Although Spain is on the gold basis, gold is never seen there, the silver peseta being worth only about 15 cents, while the gold one is worth nearly 20. The silver and paper currency is ever changing, varying from 126 to 139 for gold pesetas during the last year.

Woman's Novel Inventions. Very numerous are the patents that have been issued to women upon novelties in furniture. One piece, which appears to be a school desk, also contains an organ. With simple manipulation, an innocent looking sofa is converted into a bathtub.

Simple Arithmetical Calculation. By a simple rule the length of the day and night at any time of the year may be ascertained. By doubling the time of the sun's rising, the length of the night is obtained and by doubling the time of the setting the length of the day is given.

Ohio's First Capitol Building. The first capitol of Ohio, at Chillicothe, was built of logs. It was built two stories high, which made it a building of mark in its time, and its dimensions on the ground were 36 feet by 24 feet—which was big for Chillicothe.

Pedagogical Observations. "The road to knowledge, nowadays," said the first old schoolmaster, "is too swift and too easy. It's a regular railroad." "Yes," agreed the other old pedagogues, "and it's a railroad with fewer switches than are necessary."

Compensation. If there were no public maladies, for our country to fall ill with, what would there be, in that event, for the magazines to fill with? And what would the reading classes have, their leisure hours to kill with?—Puck.

Undue Haste/Depreciated. Yes, the man with one dollar may be a better man than the one with $20, but let's agree to let the $20 man live a few years longer. We may want to borrow the $20.—Brooklyn Eagle.

No Doubt About It. When a man is known as a confirmed bachelor, it means that a great many girls have assisted at the confirmation.—Philadelphia Record.

Growth of the Finger Nail. For a finger nail to reach its full length, an average of seven-twelfths of an inch, from 121 to 138 days of growth are necessary.

Rice Popular in Colombia. In Colombia rice is served twice a day at the tables of the rich as well as the poor.

Homelike. "I suppose you miss your wife dreadfully while she is away?" "I did at first." "And you don't now?" "None; I've arranged the phonograph so that it starts a conversation the moment I put my key in the keyhole of the front door."—Houston Post.

A Speedy Cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaints, First Feeling, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bad Complexion, Nervousness and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

"Bloodline Liver Pills" act gently, yet thoroughly upon the bowels, liver, stomach and digestive organs. The pills, in old and chronic cases of constipation and indigestion, act at once, without griping, nor do they leave any unpleasant after-effects, nor form a constant habit of purging, produced by other cathartic remedies. To assist in attaining this end, the following suggestions are offered.

REMARKS: Everyone who uses pills for their action on the liver, should know that large doses rarely prove as satisfactory as small ones. Large doses simply purge and pass out of the system, usually leaving the cause of the trouble, or impairing the general health. On the other hand, small doses develop the alternative effect of the medicine, do not irritate or constipate the bowels, but gently stimulate the liver and prevent the accumulation of bile by directing its flow into the proper channels. This end, the following suggestions are offered.

FOR SALE: I find your "Bloodline Liver Pills" the most effective pills I ever used. They cure me no griping or constipative after effect as most liver pills do. Yours truly, MRS. AMADA RICHARDSON.
