SKINNER CHARGED WITH NON-SUPPORT

His Young Wife Says That He Has Utterly Failed to Provide for Her Wants.

Lew Skinner, a Lehigh Valley switchman, was arraigned before Justice Nelson this morning on a charge of desertion and non-support, preferred by his wife, Carrie Skinner. The complainant is not over seventeen years old and was married to Skinner in June last. In her complaint she alleges that her husband has neglected to support or provide for her wants from the very first, notwithstanding that he receives from the railroad company in the neighborhood of eighty dollars per month. He says that he has only bought her one pair of shoes since they were married, and that at the present time she is wearing a pair of her husband's stockings, while he is bestowing his affections and money on another woman. Mrs. Skinner further declares that when she and her husband go to Waverly she is compelled to walk while he occupies a seat in one of the trolley cars. District Attorney Mills appeared for Mrs. Skinner, while the defendant in the case was represented by C. C. Yccum, Esq. At the conclusion of the hearing the defendant was held to court in the sum of $200 bail, and being unable to furnish the same was taken to Towanda.

BUSTER BROWN

Next Tuesday evening the management of the Loomis opera house has secured as its attraction "Buster Brown," the master success of the year in the somewhat overcrowded field of musical comedy. "Buster Brown" needs no introducing enconiums, we all know his face. All the children have worn clothes fashioned after his. It need only be said therefore that this is a second or new edition of the comedy in every feature. The scenery, costumes, music and songs are epic and span with newness, while the cast, headed by the little chap who fairly exudes mirth, Master Rosen is away and ahead of any yet seen we are promised. "Buster Brown" should be largely welcomed.

TRAMP HAD JAG

William Crotty, a tramp, who came to Sayre on Saturday, and in some manner managed to acquire a max-sized jag, fell into the hands of Officer Julius Vogel, and spent the night in the lockup. Yesterday morning he was arraigned before Justice Carey, who ordered him to get out of the town. He had lost his hat on the night previous, but Chief Walsh provided him with an old derby which some unfortunate drunk had left behind and he departed apparently happy despite the fact that the snow was falling thick and fast.

FELL FROM CAR DOOR

Gianonia Spataro, an Italian, in the employ of the Lehigh, was brought to this place yesterday afternoon suffering from severe injuries sustained at Towanda, in falling from a freight car. He was standing in an open door of a freight car when a shift of cars were thrown against the one in which he was standing. He was thrown to the ground, landing on his head. His scalp was badly lacerated and his shoulders were also bruised.

SUPERINTENDENT E. T. JAMES RESIGNS

He Had Been at the Head of the L. V. R. R. Shops at This Place Since They Were Opened

E. T. James, who has been superintendent of the new Lehigh Valley shops at this place since they first began operation a year ago, tendered his resignation today to take effect on the 15th of the present month. The resignation of Mr. James comes as a surprise to the railroad men and the shop employees. His future plans have not as yet been revealed, nor has his successor been named. He came here from Buffalo where he had been employed as master mechanic for the company. He was the first superintendent of the new shops at this place. Mr. James' resignation will be sincerely regretted by the men who have been employed under him.

THOMAS HOLMES HELD TO COURT

Charged With Aggravated Assault by Susan Berhans.

This forenoon Thomas Holmes was given a hearing before Justice Carey on a charge of aggravated assault preferred by Susan Berhans. The latter is 74 years of age and she alleges that on the 6th day of November Holmes hit her over the head with a club and otherwise maltreated and abused her. At the hearing this morning the commonwealth was represented by District Attorney Mills and Paul E. Maynard, while Holmes' interests were looked after by the Hon. L. T. Hoyt, of Athens. Holmes was held to the next court of quarter sessions in the sum of $200 bail. E. A. Wilber qualified in this sum and Holmes was released.

POSTOFFICE MOVED

The Sayre post office has been moved. On Saturday the furnishings and equipment were transferred to the new location in the Richards block on Desmond street, and the patrons will hereafter get their mail at that place. The new location has been fitted up in the most approved manner and Sayre now has a postoffice that is in every way up-to-date. While perhaps there are a few who have been somewhat inconvenienced the location is considered to be central.

MRS. EMMA G. HUDSON

Mrs. Emma G. Hudson died at her home 117 Hoover street at 9:45 last evening aged 44 years. She is survived by her husband M. K. Hudson, one son Orrin and one daughter, Mrs. Rosie A. Goodsell of Sayre and two sisters Mrs. Sarah Palmer of Sayre and Mrs. Mary Ellis of Athens township. The funeral will take place from the house at 1 o'clock Wednesday and from the M. E. church at 2 o'clock Interment at Tioga Point cemetery.

SPRING ELECTION

Now that the election of the state and county officers has passed it will not be very long before things will be shaping themselves for the elections in the various boroughs and townships of the county. The spring elections will be held the third Tuesday in February, but the primaries will be held the third week in January.

BROKE LEFT ARM

Agnes, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Richards, of Frederick street, fell on the slippery pavement near the family home yesterday and sustained a fracture of one of the bones in the left forearm. The fracture was reduced by Dr. C. A. Haines.

ERIE FIREMEN MAY STRIKE TODAY

Men Demanded Shorter Work Day But Were Refused by Company Officials

A strike among the firemen employed by the Erie railroad is imminent. Recently the men appointed a committee which waited on the officials of the company and a demand was made for shorter working hours. The men were met with a flat refusal. Yesterday the grievance committee held a meeting at New York and decided to take a poll of their fellow workmen whether or not a strike shall be ordered. The result of the vote will probably not be known until tomorrow morning. If the firemen vote to strike it will result in a large number of engineers, who have recently been promoted, going out in sympathy. A strike of the character indicated will result, it is said, in completely tying up the road.

LOCAL NEWS

There will be a matinee at Loomis opera house this afternoon at 2:30. "A Race for Life" will be presented.

There will be a meeting of R. H. Sayre hose company No. 3 this evening. All members are requested to be present.

Those who have business with the Valley Record, and they are becoming legion, will find the office located on Lockhart street, just west of the Wheelock block.

Joseph E. Havens the 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Havens died this morning at his home on Keystone avenue West Sayre. Death was due to typhoid. The funeral will be held tomorrow, interment at Elmira.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bentley had a house party Friday, Saturday and Sunday. They entertained the Misses Mabel Pierce, Lelia Beman, Mabel Flood and Francis Beman of Elmira, Misses Edith and Bertha Jones, Mrs. Thaddeus Jayne and Charlie Grant of Sayre.

Yesterday Sayre was visited by the first real snow storm of the season. Snow fell the greater part of the day. Toward night, however, it turned to rain, and as a result the streets filled with mud and traveling is a very disagreeable operation.

Riv Bennett, who left Sayre about six months ago to accept a situation with the Lantry-Sharp Contracting company, returned here this morning for a two week vacation. He has recently been located at Agudo, New Mexico, and speaks in glowing terms of the climate.

FIREMAN INJURED

F. J. Fowler, a Lehigh Valley fireman, met with a painful accident near White's Ferry yesterday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock. Fowler was in the pit of the tender, when the engine gave a sudden start throwing him against the firebox door. He sustained a severe laceration of the head and one finger was badly strained. He was brought to the hospital at this place for treatment.
