A Bell, Eq., Bits. of Waverly and Myron Tompkins of Ithaca will appear for the village, and F. E. Hawkes of Waverly and Frederick Collin of Elmira are the attorneys for the water company. The appeal is taken from the decision of Justice Sewell to the effect that before the village could take any steps toward acquiryears without discounting all chances ing the Waverly water works that they must first obtain the consent of the state water commission. The attorneys for the village contended that the law did not refer to a case of the kind under consideration, and the appeal was taken.
