GAVE DINNER PARTY

Mrs. Hattie Smith of Washington, D. C, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tillman on Chemung street. Mrs. Smith was at one time a resident of this place, but it has been 18 years since she has been in this vicinity. Yesterday Mr. and Mrs Tillman gave a dinner in her honor at which 26 persons, most of them old friends of Mrs. S.nith were present. The guests came from Smithfield, Milan, Ulster, Sheshequin, Waverly, Athens and Sayre.

It is seldom that any of the veterans of the Civil war are overtaken by any great or unexpected prosperity. They are more often made to feel the pangs of destitution as old age creeps upon them. But a case has just come to light that will bring sunshine to twenty-three of the survivors of Company F, 121st P. V. John M. Clapp went out as captain of that company on the third day of September, 1862, the company being recruited from Venango county. The regiment served in the first corps under Col. Chapman Biddle of Philadelphia was in all of the fierce battles fought by the Army of the Poto mac. Capt. Clapp was obliged to resign August 7, 1863, on account of ill health, and he came home and engaged in the oil business in which he amassed a large fortune He died at Lakewood, N.
