NO. 2 DITCHED AT L. B. JUNCTION

Passengers Rudely Shaken Up But None Were Injured

Lehigh Valley passenger train No. 2 eastbound was derailed at L. B. Junction, near Coxton, about 4:15 yesterday morning, the engine and baggage car and the day coach leaving the rails, but no one being injured. The accident was due to a misunderstanding of signals, and an investigation which is being conducted by the Lehigh officials today will probably place the blame.

The D. L. & W. crosses the Lehigh at L. B. Junction and the signals are arranged in such a manner that a Lehigh train can be derailed if it undertakes to go over the crossing when the Lackawanna has the right of way. Yesterday morning No. 2 approached the signal and the engineer Charles Burton, of this place, claims that the signal was set for him to go ahead until his engine was nearly upon the "dead" rail when the operator turned the signal against the train. The operator disputes this and says that the engineer went by the signal which was set against him at the proper time. The train was running at a fair rate of speed and when it left the rails the passengers were rudely shaken from their seats but none of them were injured. The baggage and passenger coaches were thrown upon their sides and the engine was ditched. Traffic was delayed for about two hours.

NATIONAL BANK WILL ENLARGE

Plans for Extensive Building Alteration Has Been Prepared.

Within a few weeks C. M. Driggs will move his drug store from its present location on Desmond street to the building on Lockhart street lately vacated by the postoffice department. The removal of Mr. Driggs will be followed by extensive alterations in that locality as the National bank of Sayre is to occupy the store he vacates, the plans having been prepared for a first class banking building.

The present entrance of the bank will not be changed, but the lobby will be enlarged to a room 13x17 feet, with a mosaic floor and desk accommodations for patrons. back of the lobby will be a work room 18x26, while on the Lockhart street side of the bank will be the cashier's and directors' rooms. The former will be 9x13 while the latter will be 11x16. The plans also include a room 31x17, which will be rented for mercantile purposes.

UNUSUAL MERIT

In behalf of "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," which will be presented at the Loomis Opera House on Saturday afternoon and evening by Jules Murry's Own Company with William A. Whitecar in the stellar role of "Lord Lumley," it can be declared without reservation that it is a play of unusual merit, written along lines that are not hackneyed and worn; that it contains novel situations and brilliant dialogue; and that from beginning to end it is filled with dramatic action and these qualities are, in themselves, sufficient to constitute it a great play. The members of the cast, which again includes Henry Carl Lewis as Giuseppe, the organ grinder, are said to be especially adapted to the requirements of the various roles, and the comedy is announced as being staged and mounted in a worthy manner.

DIED SUDDENLY OF HEART TROUBLE

Laurel Hill Farmer Expires While His Family Is Attending Church

Joseph P. Newberry, a farmer, who lived at Laurel Hill, and who is well known to many of the older residents in Sayre, was found dead at his home in that place yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock. His family went to church at East Smithfield in the morning leaving him alone at the house. When they returned they found his lifeless body lying on the ground in the yard back of the house. Death was due to heart disease, and he had been dead some little time when found. The deceased was 70 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon and 1 o'clock and the remains will be buried at Smithfield.

PIGEON THIEF GOT TWENTY BIRDS

J. Williams' Loft Was Robbed While He Ate Supper.

Last night J. Williams, who lives on Hospital place, went to his chicken coop to feed his fowls. In the upper part of the coop he has a pigeon loft, and in order to reach it he is compelled to use a ladder. He fed the pigeons, removed the ladder, and went into the house for supper. An hour afterward he returned to the coop, found that the ladder had been again placed in position for entering the pigeon loft, and that twenty of the pigeons had been stolen. The thieves left no clue to their identity. Mr. Williams notified the police.

This afternoon a young man named Simon Clemens of West Sayre was arrested on the charge of stealing the pigeons. He was arraigned before Justice Nelson and admitted his guilt. He will be compelled to appear at the next term of court.

William A. Whitecar will soon be seen here with Jules Murry's Own company in Isaac Henderson's great comedy success "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," a play that has been translated into more languages and performed in more foreign countries than any other modern drama. Mr. Whitecar has become thoroughly identified with the role of "Lord Lumley" and his splendid performance has assisted materially in placing the play in the prominent place it holds in public favor. The supporting cast this season is announced as the strongest that has ever presented the piece, and again includes Henry Carl Lewis as Giuseppe, the Italian organ grinder.

THE MUMMY AND THE HUMMING BIRD

Stellar Attraction to Be at the Loomis Saturday Afternoon and Evening

William A. Whitecar at the head of Jules Murry's Own company, an organization composed of specially selected members, each chosen by reason of possessing individual ability peculiarly adapted for portraying the role undertaken, will be seen at Loomis' opera house on Saturday afternoon and evening in Isaac Henderson's celebrated comedy "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," which in the last four years has proved one of the most signal successes ever produced. Rich in dramatic incident, unique in its manner of treatment and brilliant in its dialogue, this play has won universal commendation wherever it has been presented by Manager Murry's companies. This will be the last opportunity to witness this magnificent play and performance in this city, as a new comedy has been secured by Manager Murry in which Mr. Whitecar and this organization will be seen next season.
