BUILT HIGH FENCE ACROSS HIGHWAY

And Therefore Ridgway Township Commissioners Are Under Arrest Charged With Maintaining a Public Nuisance

John McKay, J. L. Easton and M. W. Chamberlain, residents of Ridgway township, this county, will be arraigned before Justice Carey tomorrow afternoon on charges of maintaining a public nuisance. The men were arrested at their homes in Ridgway on Saturday afternoon by Constable Spencer Brougham of this place. They were immediately released on their own recognizance to appear on the date mentioned above. McKay and Chamberlain are commissioners of Ridgway township, and Easton is a former commissioner, his term of office having expired last spring. The arrest of the men is alleged to have resulted from political conditions which exist in that locality and it is expected that some highly interesting developments will follow.

The complaints upon which the warrants were issued for the arrest of the men were drawn according to the common law form and ancient usages. They set forth the offense with particularity, and the form thereof was dug from the archives of the past. M. W. Evans, a resident of Ridgway, is the complainant in the cases against the defendants, and he alleges that a certain ancient and public highway over and through which the good people of Pennsylvania have been wont to pass on foot and horseback, with carriages and wagons, for an hundred years or more, and known as the Farrell road, has been obstructed by the erection of a high fence made of boards, posts and barbed wire, and that by reason of such obstruction the aforesaid good people of Pennsylvania, and particularly the residents of the township of Ridgway are prevented passing along by and through the said ancient and public highway to their great damage and inconvenience. The complaint also recites that the fence was erected by the defendants in September last and that they have persisted in maintaining it until the present time; that it is a public and common nuisance that should and must be abated.

The road in question is a short one, and is situated in such a manner as to save many people considerable travel, but for certain reasons which are expected to appear later, the road was closed a year ago by the township commissioners. The decision of the commissioners was not acquiesced in by all the residents of the community and foreign commissioners were called to settle the matter. The latter decided the road should be closed, but Messrs. Maynard & Schrier, attorneys for those opposed to the closing of the road, secured a writ of certiorari, and the matter is now pending before Judge Fanning. It will be alleged that following the issuing of this writ the defendants erected the obstruction cited in the complaint and that they have maintained it ever since.

PRESENTED AN OVERCOAT

B. F. Dunfee, the well known and deservedly popular railroad man, of Towanda, and a writer of native ability, has been presented a handsome overcoat by his brother railroaders. The presentation was made at Towanda on Wednesday evening last, and for once Mr. Dunfee failed to find words to express his appreciation. Mr. Dunfee, who knows the business of railroading from start to finish, is highly esteemed by his fellow workmen, and the overcoat gift was just a slight token to show their feeling toward him.

LEHIGH'S NEW OFFICER

William Douglas, of Wilkes-Barre, who was recently appointed a special officer for the Lehigh Valley, to take the place of J. J. Johnson, who has tendered his resignation, assumed the duties of his new position this morning. Mr. Douglas has occupied a similar position with the Lehigh at Wilkes-Barre and comes to Sayre fully acquainted with the line of work which he is to take up.

QUARTER SESSIONS COURT BEGAN TODAY

Many Cases from Sayre Will Occupy the Attention of That Tribunal

The regular December court of quarter sessions opened at Towanda this morning and nearly all of the Sayre members of the bar are in attendance. There are several cases set from Sayre which will occupy the attention of the court before adjournment, among them being the case of Thomas Holmes, indicted for aggravated assault; Frank Delaney, larceny, and Lyman Heeman, Jr., larceny. Holmes is charged with beating Mrs. Susan Berhan early in November last, while Delaney will be confronted with a charge of stealing an overcoat from the Bradford House. The coat belonged to Daniel Creggan, a boarder at the hotel, and he succeeded in capturing Delaney with the goods on. The Heeman case is still fresh in the memory of Sayre people. He was arrested for stealing copper and iron from the Lehigh railroad company, committed to the borough lockup, pending his transportation to the jail at Towanda, and succeeded in going up through the roof of Sayre's excuse for a prison. He was captured later at Towanda and brought before Justice Carey of Sayre on a charge of jail breaking. He was recommitted to the jail at Towanda, and along with this charge will be compelled to face several others. He will plead guilty.

GAME DINNER WAS A BIG SUCCESS

Large Number in Attendance and An Auxiliary Club Organized

The game dinner given at the Sayre City Club on Saturday evening was a most successful affair and was attended by a large number of club members and their invited guests. The feast was a most sumptuous one, and included nearly all kinds of small game. One of the features of the evening's entertainment which followed the feed was the organization of an auxiliary club which has been dubbed "The Dandelion Club," and which has already acquired a large membership. The new organization has only one benefit and this is immediately given to each member as soon as he signifies his intentions of "joining." The benefit is a thorough bath from head to foot, and those who joined on Saturday night were given a bath whether they needed it or not. There was considerable kicking but the degree team was there with the goods and the benefits were distributed with alacrity.

MRS. SARAH A. WOOD

Sarah A. Wood, aged 76 years, died last night at her home, No. 104 Pleasant street, after a long illness. She had been confined to her bed only two days and her death was rather sudden and unexpected.

The deceased was born in Ulster county, N. Y., and came to this vicinity about fifty years ago, where she has since resided. She was a woman of most estimable character and her death will be sincerely regretted by scores of friends.

She is survived by two daughters Mrs. Augustus Brooks and Mrs. G. S. Rounds, and one son, J. C. Wood, all of Sayre; two brothers, Dubois and Jesse Bell, of Sayre; one sister, Mrs. Rachael Coddington, of Ulster county, N. Y., and twelve grand children and seven great grand children.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock from her late home, the Rev. J. F. Warner, pastor of the Methodist church officiating. The remains will be taken to Tioga Point cemetery for interment.

YOUTHFUL VAGS CARED FOR HERE

Two Lads of Tender Years, Arrived in Sayre This Morning on Their Way West.

Shirley Culpepper, who says that he is 17 years old, but who don't look to be over 12, and Edward Allen, 15 years old, arrived in Sayre this morning via the Lehigh Valley freight line, and sorry looking youths they were indeed. Culpepper says that his home is in Norfolk, Va., and that recently he went to New York city to see the sights and while there fell in with Allen, who claims Fitzgerald, Ga., as the place of his nativity. The latter claims to have a sister in Clinton, Ia., and the two decided to go to that place, as they are both orphans. Accordingly they boarded a Lehigh freight train. They were shivering with cold as both are thinly clad and wore no overcoats. They were interviewed by Chief Walsh at the station this morning, in the presence of a large crowd of men who were waiting for the southbound train. Their teeth chattered as they told of their being orphans and having no home nor money. Tony Dabberio, the Italian police officer, dove down into his well filled pocket and pulled forth the price of breakfast for both boys. They immediately hunted up a restaurant where they appeased their hunger. Chief Walsh has kept them in custody all day, and will endeavor to look up their friends if they have any. They are too young to be roaming about the country at this season of the year, and if their records appear to be straight the chief will endeavor to find places for them to work.

WAY DOWN EAST

At the Loomis, Dec. 8, 1906, "Way Down East" is a descriptive story of New England farm life, exemplified in its quaint and homely characters, set out in bold relief against a background of rustic honesty and simplicity—the play, although as familiar as any play possibly can be, from its having been before the public so many years, is seemingly still as well anticipated as though comparatively a new vehicle.

Mr. Brady is sending one of the best quartets he has ever had in the show this season, and the good old-time songs that one hears only when "Way Down East" comes around will be rendered from the corner of the porch by the berry pickers after finishing the toil of the day. It is not difficult to account for the phenomenal popularity of "Way Down East." It is a story of plain people, telling an everyday tale, with the ingredients of sunshine and laughter, clouds and tears so deftly dramatized and so splendidly acted that it is liable to be played for years to come to the same high appreciation that continues to mark its course in the greatest theaters in the country.

Winter has arrived at last. The ground is completely covered with "the beautiful" and the small boy is happy.
