GREEK TAR A HERO.

Rescues Captain and Sailor From Wreck When Others Refuse to Go. PROVIDENCE, R. I. Dec. 11 -When every other man on board the ing Walter A. Luckenbach declined to risk his life in an effort to rescue two men on the foundering barge Buena Ventura, which was in tow of the Luckenbach, Mitchell B. Bruso, a Greek seaman, stepped up to Captain John Dailey and said that he would make the "ip alone. In a small boat, at the height of flerce northeast gale, Bruse rowed to the barge and rescued the captain, Olie Owarrond, whom he found frozen to the topmast, and as soon as he placed the helpless captain on board the tug without a moment's rest and covered with a coating of ice from head to foot unt out again on the heaving water and released Seaman Charles Martin, who was frozen to a floating hatch on which he had been carried away from the sinking burge.

These two men of a crew of five. were the only ones to escape death. The drowned were S. Peterson, John Mallett and a deckhand known as Jack of Fall River, Mass.

The heroism of Bruso was looked row evening. upon by his shipmates as no less remarkable than his escape from death in the little boat, which every moment for appendicitis yesterday morning nountainous seas.
