WINS NOBEL PRIZE

Norwegian Parliament Presents Trophy to Roosevelt.

FOR ENDING RUSSO-JAPANESE WAR

President Will Use Amount Given Him ($40,000) to Promote Industrial Peace Between Capital and Labor in This Country.

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Dec. 11.—The Norwegian parliament has conferred the Nobel peace prize of $40,000 upon President Roosevelt.

The American minister, Mr. Peirce, in an eloquent speech, thanked parliament in the president's name. He said that words were inadequate to express the deep emotion which he experienced at receiving this distinguished testimonial in behalf of the president, who recently called that he regarded this prize as one of the greatest honors which any man in any position throughout the world could receive. The award, Mr. Peirce added, would deeply appeal to the hearts of the American people.

Mr. Peirce then read a message from President Roosevelt expressing his deep thanks and saying there was no gift he could appreciate more. The president also announced that he had concluded to use the prize to establish at Washington a permanent industrial peace committee, with the view of maintaining righteous peace in the industrial world, which was as important as the maintenance of peace in the world of nations.

The Nobel peace prize is awarded to the president in recognition of his services in bringing to an end the Russo-Japanese war. Candidates for this prize must be proposed by legislative bodies, peace organizations or universities, and it is understood that Mr. Roosevelt's sponsors were Professor H. P. Judson, acting president of Chicago university; Professor Baldwin of Yale, Professor Harberger of the University of Munich and the faculty of Georgetown university, Washington.

This distinction went last year to Baroness von Utner of Vienna and in previous years has been conferred upon W. H. Cremer, M. P. of England; Professor de Maartens of Russia and Henri Dunant, founder of the Red Cross.

The Nobel peace prize is part of a bequest left by Dr. Alfred Bernhard Nobel, the famous Swedish chemist, who died in 1896. By his will a large portion of his fortune was devoted to five annual prizes, each valued at about $100,000, to be awarded for the most important discoveries in physics, in chemistry, in physiology or medicine, for the most distinguished work of an idealistic tendency in the field of literature and for the best effort toward the fraternity of nations and the promotion of peace. The last named is awarded by the Norwegian storting. The others are awarded by various institutions at Stockholm.
