SHOP MEN RECEIVE

INCREASE IN PAY

Wages of Lehigh Employees at This Place Substantially Advanced—Will Mean $4,000 More Money For Sayre.

It was officially announced this morning that the men employed in the Lehigh shops at this place, beginning with January 1st will receive a substantial increase in their pay. Laborers are raised from 13 cents to 15 cents per hour, machinists who are now receiving from 26 to 28 cents per hour, will now get 25 cents to 34 cents and boiler makers will receive the same increase as the machinists.

The news will be exceedingly welcome to the men and it was given out by A. W. Whiteford, the shop superintendent, this morning. In this connection Mr. Whiteford stated that in his opinion, and basing this opinion on former experience, the men employed in the Sayre shops are the steadiest bunch of men with which he has yet come in contact.

Another thing which is of interest to the men is the fact that the present piece work system is not to be disturbed. This morning there was a rumor to the effect that the piece system was to be abandoned, and the men thus employed were to be placed on day work, receiving a bonus after they had accomplished a certain amount.

AUTOPSY EXPLODES

FOUL PLAY THEORY

McCracken Child Which Died Sunday Night, Was a Victim of Acute Indigestion.

Monday night Doctors M. A. Hunter, Harry L. Towner and C. S. Cummings performed an autopsy on the body of John McCracken, Jr., whose death occurred on Sunday night at six o'clock, under circumstances which the father of the child believed to be a suspicious character.

The autopsy disclosed the fact that the child's stomach was filled to its capacity with undigested food, and the three physicians were unanimous that acute indigestion in the worse possible form was directly responsible for the death of the child.

The result of the autopsy has completely destroyed the theory of foul play in connection with the death of the child, and District Attorney Mills will take no further steps. The innocence of Mrs. McCracken, who was under suspicion has been clearly established.
