CLANCEY'S DOWNFALL HAS BEEN RAPID

Ordered From Town Last Night Because He Failed to Return With a Ten Dollar Bill Which He Had Been Given to Change.

Last night Justice Nelson ordered "Jack" Clancey, a well known character out of town. Clancey was given twenty-four hours in which to shake the dust of Sayre from his feet, and as the time will be up about eight o'clock this evening, it is expected that he will have migrated to other parts.

Clancey was arrested by Chief Walsh in the early part of last evening on a charge of failing to return with the change for a ten dollar bill which had been given to him by a stranger during the holiday week. The stranger was a messenger for the Baldwin Locomotive company and he came over the Lehigh with two engines in his charge. When he reached Sayre with the engines the latter were in need of repairs. As it took two or three days to do the job, it gave the man in charge an excellent opportunity to see the sights. It is alleged that he fell in with Clancey and the two proceeded to decorate the town red. Finally the stranger is alleged to have given Clancey a ten dollar bill to get changed. He did not return in a reasonable length of time and the stranger hunted him up. He found him at a booze emporium and asked him for the change. Clancey failed to produce the coin, but finally arranged a settlement by agreeing to give the stranger two dollars. He said that he had a friend who would not permit him to go to jail for a small amount like that and he started out to find his friend. His friend must have been absent from town as Clancey hurriedly departed and nothing more was seen of him until last evening when he was picked up by Chief Walsh. In the meantime Justice Nelson had issued a warrant charging larceny; but when Clancey was arraigned last night the star witness for the commonwealth was not present, he having seen the sights of Sayre and recovered therefrom sufficiently to resume his journey with the engines. Therefore Clancey was told to get out of town.

Clancey's downfall is a temperance lecture in itself. A few years ago he was one of the best conductors on the Lehigh and held a fine position. He began to dabble with the liquid that cheers and it was not many months before John Barley corn had the under hold, and finally downed him entirely. When the Lehigh officials became aware of the fact they dispensed with Clancey's services, and from that time on to the present his downfall has been rapid.

MUSIC PUPILS GAVE A FINE RECITAL. Excellent Program Rendered at the Home of W. D. Warner Last Night.

The pupils of Mrs. Fanny Bourne gave a musical recital last night at the home of Mrs. W. D. Warner, No. 712 North Elmer avenue. An interesting program was rendered and consisted of two parts as follows:

- PART I. Piano Solo... Miss Mae Farley, Piano Solo... Miss Mildred Farley, Piano Solo... Miss Bernice Bourne, Guitar Solo... Mr. Harry Walline, Song... Miss Mary Raupers, Mandolin Solo... Miss Mertie Sisson, Piano Solo... Miss Beatrice Bourne, Mandolette Solo... Mrs. Anna Warner. PART II. Piano Solo... Miss Ina M. Warner, Duo... Mrs. Bourne and Miss Ina, Violin Solo... Miss Mabel Gumbert, Soprano Solo... Miss Mary Raupers, Piano Solo... Mrs. Fannie Bourne, Quartette... Miss Mable Gumbert, Mrs. Warner, Miss Sisson. Trio, Soprano Solo—Violin Obligato—Piano Accompaniment... Miss Mary Raupers, Miss Mable Gumbert, Mrs. Fannie Bourne.

SUSPECTS RELEASED FROM CUSTODY. Men Arrested at Susquehanna Were Not the Parties Who Robbed N. F. Ackley's Store.

The two men who were arrested at Susquehanna yesterday on suspicion of having been implicated in the robbery of N. F. Ackley's store on Stevenson street on Tuesday night, were discharged from custody. One of the men who had a couple of black shirts similar to the ones stolen from Ackley's, stated that he had purchased them of a Susquehanna clothing merchant. The chief of police went to the clothing merchant's establishment and found that the suspect's story was correct.

CHARGES WARD WITH ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Mix-up at the Power House Which Promises to Become Interesting.

Yesterday afternoon Pat Ward, the chief engineer at the Traction Company's power house, was arraigned before Justice Carey on a charge of assault and battery preferred by H. E. Brungess, who has been employed at the power house night. On Wednesday evening Brungess alleges that he went to his work but when about ready to commence was told by Ward that his services were no longer required. Brungess says that he asked the reason for his dismissal and was told by Ward that the men said he was unable to do the work to which he had been assigned. Brungess says that he replied, "Well if they say that, they lie," whereupon, according to Brungess, the latter was struck on the side of the head by Ward. Brungess secured a warrant on Wednesday afternoon and yesterday Constable Spencer Brougham telephoned for Ward to come to Justice Carey's office. When he arrived he was accompanied by Attorney Judge Bell of Waverly. The case was continued until tomorrow. Attorney Paul E. Maynard will appear for the commonwealth. It is expected that the case will be an interesting one as a large number of witnesses have been subpoenaed on the part of the commonwealth.

New L. V. Docks.

All the plans are completed and the work of construction will soon be commenced on the new Lehigh Valley coal docks at South Chicago, which will replace those burned last summer. The new plant will be one of the most complete and up-to-date in this country when completed, and the very latest devices are provided in the plans and specifications. The structures will be of cement and steel with a storage capacity of $175,000 tons. Automatic car loaders will be installed, thus obviating the use of shovels. The coal in being loaded into cars will also be screened, a new departure and one that commends itself highly.

BREVITIES

Many New Year's resolutions are bearing up under a terrible strain.

West Sayre Chapter Eastern Star No. 43, will meet in Tralmen's hall this evening.

"When Women Love" is the attraction at Loomis opera house tomorrow afternoon and evening.

M. J. Murphy of Wilkes-Barre, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Murphy on South Elmer avenue.

There will be a matinee at Loomis opera house tomorrow afternoon, the attraction being "When Women Love." Popular prices will prevail.

There will be a regular adjourned meeting of the Sayre borough council this evening. The sewer question will come up for consideration.

Two express trains loaded with automobiles passed through Sayre last night enroute to New York city. There were at least 300 of the machines and they came from Chicago. They will be exhibited at the automobile show which is to begin in New York on Monday next.

We agree with one of our exchanges when it says: "We want all the legitimate local news, and to learn all the good that can be said of your neighbor, but if you want to give him a 'rub' or 'roust' please attach your signature to the communication and we'll hand it to him."

The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin declares that the rent-raising landlord is an enemy to progress. Our contemporary does not take much stock in the excuse of "increased taxes." It declares that is a "flimsy pretext." The Gazette and Bulletin further remarks: "The greedy landlord's tax may be two or three dollars a year more. To offset this he increases rents a dollar a month. The increase therefore gives him from nine to ten dollars more than he was getting before. It is not the landlord, therefore, that pays more taxes. It is the tenant. The landlord reaps a rich harvest."

Declared Dividend. The executive board of the National Protective Legion held a meeting at Waverly yesterday forenoon and declared a dividend of $250 on all policies that will mature during the year 1907.

It would thus appear that the N. P. L. is on a strictly solid foundation and is in first-class shape to protect all its policy holders.

ELY WILL ASK COURT FOR MERCY

Railroaders Are Warned By Company Officials Not to Sign a Petition in His Behalf.

A petition for judicial mercy for Clarence Ely, the young man who robbed the Ithaca station on the first of October last, is being circulated among the men employed by the Lehigh Valley. The petition does not meet with approval on the part of the company's officials. They are anxious that Ely shall be punished and the officials have therefore instructed the special officers to warn the men employed by the company not to sign the document. Those who have appended their names thereto will be politely asked to withdraw their signatures, and if they refuse, well, it is not known what will happen.

Ely's case is to come before the court and a trial jury at Ithaca on the 25th of the present month, he now being out on bail. It will be remembered that he entered the Ithaca station between five and six o'clock in the morning while Bert Bryant, the ticket agent was asleep. Ely and Bryant are alleged to have made a pact to rob the station at a certain time, but Bryant got cold feet and the pact was never carried into effect, so far as Bryant was concerned. On the morning in question, however, Ely, who had in some manner secured a key to the ticket office door, entered while Bryant is alleged to have been slumbering, and extracted nearly $1,200 from the money drawer, the proceeds of the sale of excursion tickets. The company detectives were not long in unearthing the crime and they soon had evidence enough to not only implicate Ely but convict him. He was traced to Watkins and caught. He confessed and aided the detectives in recovering all but thirty dollars of the money which he stole. The missing sum was made good by Ely's friends. Bryant was discharged from the company's service, but after holding him awhile for an investigation he was released from custody.

Ely was indicted by the Tompkins county grand jury and his attorneys entered a plea of not guilty, with the privilege of withdrawing it later. Now his attorneys seek to secure a suspended sentence and they have accordingly prepared a petition which the railroad men are being asked to sign. The company's officials, however, are determined that Ely shall be punished and have instructed the special officers to inform the men in the employ of the Lehigh that they must turn the petition down.
