ENGINEERS ARE

GIVEN GOOD ADVICE

Asked to Not Frequent Saloons and Thereby Shun the Very Appearance of Evil.

Yesterday morning several of the passenger engineers in the employ of the Lehigh Valley were called to the office of Superintendent Kinney and while there listened to some good advice relative to frequenting saloons and looking upon the wine when it is red. Superintendent Kinney did not accuse any of the men of drinking. In fact he conveyed the idea that the men at the throttle on the Lehigh are for the most part sober, industrious citizens, who are to be relied upon to perform their duties with a clear head, but the object of the superintendent in calling them into the office was to impress upon their minds the value of shunning the very appearance of evil.

Each year shows a marked determination on the part of railway officials to promote sobriety among the employees. In fact it has reached a point where the officials will almost demand that men at the throttle, especially in the passenger service, shall be sober at all times. The best men make mistakes when they are strictly sober, but the chances for mistakes are infinitely greater with whiskey. Railroad accidents galore have been charged up indirectly to the man who fills his system with whiskey, and the time will come when a man cannot hold a responsible railroad position and at the same time daily with the wine cup.

LEHIGH STATION AT ATHENS ROBBED.

Burglars Effect an Entrance Through One of the Rear Windows.

The Lehigh Valley station at Athens was entered by burglars last night, but until the ticket agent finishes checking up the office it will not be known whether anything of value was secured by thieves. The thieves were persistent and made two attempts to effect an entrance before they were successful. They first broke out a pane of glass in one of the front windows, and then attempted to work the window catch. Unsuccessful in this effort they went to the rear of the station and finally gained an entrance. The ticket case was opened, but no attempt was made to get into the money drawer. The police of the three towns have been notified, but as yet there is no clue to the perpetrators of the crime.

Attention, Subscribers.

The management of the Record will esteem it a favor if subscribers will report any and all failures on the part of carriers to deliver papers regularly. A radical change has recently been made in the system of delivering papers by the carrier boys and the management in order to ascertain how the new system is working must be informed by the subscribers if they are not receiving their papers regularly. Therefore, if you fail to receive your paper reach us by telephone, send a messenger, a postal card, or call in person and enter your complaint. We will then endeavor to get the matter straightened out to your entire satisfaction.

Railroaders Expect Another Advance.

Members of the Brotherhood of Trainmen in Harrisburg expect a decision any day upon their application for shorter hours and advanced wages. Many of them are confident that their requests will be granted and it is intimated that the committee which waited on the officials a few days ago received very encouraging information on the subject.

RAILWAY MEN MUST

NOT BE OVERWORKED

Senate Passes Stringent Bill Almost Unanimously.

By a vote of 70 to 1, the senate has passed a bill providing that railway employees engaged in the handling of trains shall not work more than sixteen consecutive hours, which period is to be followed by ten hours off duty, the one negative vote being cast by Senator Pettus. This accomplishment was reported after an entire day spent in consideration of the subject. The parliamentary questions were confused during the entire time, caused by the forty pending amendments and the three substitutes for the original bill, all of which had to be disposed of.

The bill which was finally passed, was a substitute offered by Senator La Follette and not in print. It was amended in several respects by the senate. The bill provides that in certain contingencies and in case of accident the time fixed may be exceeded. The enforcement of the law is placed in the hands of the interstate commerce commission and the federal courts, the penalty provided being a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000. The act is to apply to trains doing an interesting or foreign commerce business.

The bill as finally passed provides: "That it shall be unlawful for any common carrier by railroad in any territory of the United States or the District of Columbia, or any of its officers or agents, or any common carriers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce by railroad, or any of its officers or agents to require or permit any employee engaged in or connected with the movement of any train carrying interstate or foreign freight or passengers to remain on duty more than sixteen consecutive hours, except when by casualty occurring if such employe has started on his trip or any unknown casualty occurring if such employe has started on his trip, or any unknown casualty occurring before he started on his trip, and except when by accident or unexpected delay of trains scheduled to make connection with the train on which such employe is serving, he is prevented from reaching his terminal; or to require or to permit any such employe who has been on duty sixteen hours to go on duty without having at least ten hours off duty or to require or permit any such employe who has been on duty sixteen hours in the aggregate on an twenty four hour period to continue on duty or to go on duty without having at least eight hours off duty within such twenty-four hour period."

"Section 20. That any such common carrier or any officer or its agents violating any of the provisions of the act, is hereby declared to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars; and it shall also be the duty of the interstate commerce commission to fully investigate all cases of the
