LADIES' LIBRARY CLUB
MET YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.
Program Was Very Interesting and Covered Number of Subjects.

Athens—The meeting of the Ladies' Library Club yesterday afternoon was very well attended. The program as published yesterday was rendered with some variations that added greatly to its enjoyment. Mrs. L. W. Murray under the head of "Historical Places" gave some interesting incidents of the building of the Spalding Library, and of the relics found when they excavated the ground for the basement. Mrs. Myer described some of the historic buildings of Philadelphia, Mrs. C. M. Smith gave two recitations in her usual happy style; one entitled "Lucky Jim" and the other a humorous selection. Mrs. Maynard in describing "Old Forts" referred to some of historic interest. The Misses Jordan and Corbin rendered a fine duet and the meeting closed with a discussion in regard to subjects for the next year.

Chicago Stock Next Week.
The saying that "history repeats itself," certainly holds good as to the reception extended Charles H. Rosskam's Stock Company upon its annual visits to all cities, his organization being looked to as a fixture in every place, in the minds of dramatic patrons. His company will be seen all next week at the Lomis opera house at prices within the reach of everybody, so that more than one evening can be enjoyed. The plays to be presented by the Chicago Stock company are each a heavy royalty production, requiring a company membership of twenty-five people and ten tons of scenery, costumes and stage accoutrements. The opening play will be "A Soldier of the Empire." Howard Hall's greatest dramatic work. Sale of seats begin Friday morning at the shoe store of Hall's. Matinees will given on Wednesday and Saturday. Ladies' tickets Monday night at fifteen cents, limited to 200.

BOY BURGLARS

ROUNDED UP

Hobbed Three Places in Athens on Monday Night and Confess the Crime.

Athens—The problem of "who stole the chickens" is satisfactorily and conclusively settled and all of the stolen property has been recovered and returned to the owners. Three young fellows yet in their teens did the mischief and when they were cornered they went with the officers and took it from the places where they had concealed it with the exception of the beer they had drunk and everything is restored to the persons to whom they belonged. Pat Shannon deserves great credit for this job, for it was on clues that he gave the boys were cornered and made to own up all of the facts in the case. Joe Lilly and Ray Harding were in Wil-cott's store that afternoon and afterwards were seen at the depot. Shannon told the story and gave his suspicions to Chief Mulligan and it soon became evident that they were concerned in the matter and on further investigation it was found that Fred Beers was with them. The three were arrested about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and again last evening and finally they owned up and went with the officers. Mulligan and McGovern to the places where the property was concealed and gave it up to them. The gold watch was found in a cellar of a house on Paine street, the kit of tobacco and the cans of goods were found in the yards above the Bridge works covered up with iron and sod. After the goods were secured the boys were brought before Justice Johnson for a hearing which was adjourned until 2 o'clock today, and the boys were held in the borough lockup pending the hearing.

BISHOPS IN CONFERENCE.
Assembly at Paris Assures His Fidelity.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The French episcopate, eighty distinguished prelates being present, opened its special session at the Chateau de la Muette. Hundreds of curious persons surrounded the walls of the famous old structure, built for the Duc de Berry, daughter of Philippe, duke of Orleans, who was regent of France from 1715 to 1723, to witness the assembling of the ecclesiastics.

The first act of the assembly after being called to order was to send a telegram to the pope assuring the pontiff of the fidelity and obedience of the French church.

After a service in the chapel of the chateau and singing the "Veni Creator" the cardinals, archbishops and bishops, under the presidency of Cardinal Lecot, inaugurated the business of the day by electing four commissions as follows:

First.—To consider the questions in connection with worship, which must remain public for the present, Mr. Dardelle, the bishop of Dijon, having brought a formal order from Rome not to consider the contingency of private worship.

Second.—The question of funds.

Third.—The support of the clergy.

Fourth.—The seminaries and primary schools.
