Homes furnished complete from cellar to attic. We carry goods and make the price; that's why most people do their shopping here.

Buy with the store that champions the policy of "The Best Goods for the Least Money."

We thrive on comparison. That's why the present sale is not an ordinary clearance sale.

ATHENS.

Frank Little has gone to work at Elmira.

There were three tramps enjoyed the hospitality of the borough lockup last night.

George McDonald with his mother and brother have moved into the Andrews' building. Mr. McDonald clerks in Carner's.

W. T. Nix, assistant superintendent of the Prudential insurance company was in Athens today in consultation with their local agent, Geo. L. Fuller.

Don't forget that the best concert of the season will be given at high school hall tomorrow evening. The Lulu Gates concert company is certainly first class in every respect.

The young ladies' B. V. Sodality of St. Joseph's church will hold a special meeting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the election of officers for the ensuing year. A full attendance is desired.

J. W. Beaman will go to Kentucky Sunday night where he will organize Keystone Guard lodges in different parts of the state and from there he will go to West Virginia for the same purpose. He intends to be gone two weeks.

A meeting of the Athens W. C. T. U. will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Colgrove on Frederick street. Mrs. Hartz and Mrs. Hosmer will be in charge. They are the superintendents of the mercy department.

The "Rector of St. Mark's" drew a large house last evening and the performance was fine. Will J. Vance is a gentleman so genial and dignified that he does not need to put on any disguise to take the part of rector. Miss Nellie Vanwoert acted her part charmingly and Miss Mame McDaniels was just as happy as could be. Miss Ruth Palmer sang the illustrated song very prettily. Altogether it was a good success and the P. O. S. of A. will be benefitted many dollars from the performance.

BOY BURGLARS HELD TO COURT.

Unable to Give Ball Are Taken to Towns by Constable McGovern.

Percy Harding and Fred Beers and Joe Lilley had their hearing before Justice Johnson yesterday afternoon and were all held for their appearance to answer to the charge of burglary and Constable McGovern took them to Towanda this morning, where they will be taken before Judge Fanning and an application will be made to secure bail for them. They started out on their raid and first visited Union Bottling works, where Harding gained access by the back window while Lilley and Beers stood guard on the outside. Here they took 13 bottles of beer which they carried up to the station and drank. On their way they stopped in the rear of the Pierce store and fired the shot of the oil cup through his back window. They then went down to the Bowling alley under the Stimson House where they spent some time. From there they went to the Wolcott store and entered up through the coal bin and took the watch. By this time they had succeeded so well that they returned up town and made their raid on the depot getting no plunder, but before they left they broke open the freight car and secured the tobacco and fruit cans. They eat some of the fruit and threw the can away and then hid the tobacco and that ended their raid. When brought before the court they had confessed enough so that there was nothing to conceal, and they will make the same confession before Judge Fanning, and an effort will be made to procure bail for them. It is a lamentable state of affairs that these young men are starting out so young in crime and with such effort trying to cover up their rascality. In consideration of their age there is no intention to prosecute the case farther than to teach them a lesson that will restrain them from a course that will eventually make hardened criminals of them.

Richard Vail.

Athens—Richard Vail, a former resident of Athens, died in Elmira suddenly night before last aged about 65 years. He has been suffering from heart disease for several years and but a short time ago he and his wife visited in Athens. At this time he was feeling as well as usual, but being tired lay down on the bed about 8 o'clock in the evening and was resting. About 9 o'clock his wife went into the room and found him breathing heavily and tried to arouse him, but he grew gradually worse and soon passed away. He was a brother of George E. Vail and Mrs. H. S. Mitchell of this place. George Vail went to Elmira yesterday and made arrangements for the funeral which is to be in charge of the Masons Friday afternoon. Mrs. Vail and daughter will go today.

ATHENS SENSATION FULLY EXPLAINED.

Man Who Passed $50 Confederate Bill Redeems Same and Vindicates Himself.

Athens—Albert Chaffee, a former resident of Athens came to town night before last and stopped at the Forest House over night. During the evening he visited the town hall where the young men were arraigned for the burglary the night before and talked with several persons he had formerly been acquainted with. He had just come from Warren, Pa., where he had been working for the United Refining Company, and had the money $63.35 with him that he had received in an envelope as payment for his services. He gave the money to Vance the night clerk to keep safely over night. In the morning Fred L. Smith was on duty in the office and he desired to pay his bill amounting to 75 cents. He had a $50 bill issued by the United States Confederacy with his money and handed it to Fred saying that he would like to have it changed and saying that if he had any doubts about its being good to take it to the bank and find out. Fred took the responsibility and gave him his change $49.25 and Chaffee went away saying that he would be back at noon. Thinking that all was right Chaffee went up town to see a relative, Wm. Leighton and from there he went to the J. F. McKean grocery. In the meantime Smith found out that the bill was worthless, thinking that he had been duped by a sharper he at once told his story to Chief Mulligan and from there went to Sayre and put the police on guard and a thorough search was at once instituted to capture the man. A great sensation was aroused all over town and everybody thought that Smith had been victimized to the tune of $50. While Chaffee was in McKean store he got wind of the ripple he had produced and he at once telephoned to the Forest House that he would come down right away and redeem the bill, he did. He is a young man of unquestioned veracity and honor and regretted deeply the trouble he had made.

He is a son of M. W. Chaffee, who resided in Athens several years ago and went to school while he resided here, and is well acquainted with the older residents of town. He saw the bill was worn but had no idea that it was worthless and he will take immediate steps to have it redeemed by the parties who passed it on him. He intends to come to Athens to reside soon.

Harriet N. Jakeway.

Athens—Harriet N. Jakeway died in Athens, January 16, at about 11:45 a. m., aged 83 years. She was born in McLean, Tompkins county, N. Y., in 1824, and removed to Litchfield, Pa., while quite young, where she resided up to about ten years ago, when she came to Athens. She was married to George W. Jakeway in 1853. Mr. Jakeway served in the army in the One Hundred and Seventy-ninth N. Y. Regiment, and died several years ago. Mrs. Jakeway was a woman of sincere christian character, and had such a happy nature as to make everybody better for her influence. She was a member of the Methodist church until after her marriage when she and her husband united with the Baptist church at Windham Summit. She leaves the following children, all living at the present time: Mrs. Julia Reynolds of Orwell, Pa.; Coleman Jakeway of Athens; Ethan of Elmira; Elmer of Smithfield, and a daughter Olive, who resided with her at Athens. Her funeral will take place from her late residence on South street tomorrow at 11 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Simpson officiating. Interment at Tioga Point cemetery.

Mr. Carondelet Remembered.

Miss Backbay—You are familiar, in a general way, with paleontology, are you not? Mr. Carondelet—No, I don't remember that I ever happened across it. But I once read Paley on "Evidence of Christianity," or something like that, when I was a boy, and I found it awful heavy reading.
