Tomorrow is "ground hog" day.
Today is the first day of the shortest month of the year.
Senator R. S. Edmiston was in town today greeting his many friends.
Howe's moving pictures at the Loomis opera house Monday evening.
Frank Tompkins of Sheshequin, was calling on friends in Sayre and Athens today.

C. L. Gore of North Wilbur avenue, who has been seriously ill, is still failing.

Miss Eliza M. Shaut left this morning for New York city where she will spend several days visiting friends.

James Cornish of Lincoln street, who has been ill several days, suffering from pneumonia, is slightly improved.

"The Yankee Tourist" opera company, nearly 100 strong, passed through Sayre last night, enroute to Chicago.

If the present weather conditions continue the ground hog will not see his shadow when he emerges from his winter quarters tomorrow.

The Thaw trial will take up columns of newspaper space during the next few weeks and the morbid will be furnished plenty of sensation.

John Davis, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, having undergone two operations, is not recovering as rapidly as his friends desire.

Camera fends were out in full force yesterday securing snap shots of the Desmond park. The trees were covered with frost, and the fends saw an opportunity to obtain fine pictures.

The jewelry stores of I. A. Samuels and S. B. Fleher are now closing at eight o'clock in the evening and will continue to do so except Saturday nights, pay day nights and two nights after.

Mrs. Harry Clark, of Rummerfeld, daughter of Fred F. Cole, who was operated upon for appendicitis at the hospital on Monday, is reported as improving.

Mrs. Alberta Pike and Truman V. Sloat, administratrix and administrator of the estate of the late Frank Pike will sell the personal property, securities and accounts of the deceased at public auction at the town hall on Friday afternoon at one o'clock.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE WELL ATTENDED

Same Speaker Will Be at Pharmacy Hall Tomorrow Evening—All Should Attend.

A large crowd gathered at Pharmacy hall in West Sayre last evening, and listened to one of the best speeches ever given in Sayre. The speaker was Eugene W. Chaffin of Chicago, Ill, and he handled the subject of prohibition in a masterful style. He showed how the prevalence of the two great parties, both of which were controlled by the liquor, and other great private interests inimical to the rights of the people, were the greatest foes of reform. He made an appeal to the manhood of the voter to come out, stand squarely and vote for principal, and not merely to get on the winning side.

The singing of Prof. Thatcher was greatly appreciated. Mr. Chaffin will speak again at the same place tomorrow, Saturday evening.

BREVITIES

Next Monday is pension day.
Another change in the weather.

Mrs. Simeon Davis of Olive street, is ill.

There are two holidays in this month—Washington and Lincoln's birthday.

Mrs. John Sweeney leaves for Chicago tonight for a six weeks visit with her mother.

The ice dealers are all busy, and are securing a fine quality of the congealed necessity.

C. E. Jackson of Lincoln street, has been ill for the past month. He is suffering from sciatic rheumatism.

Miss Helen Tabor, of the firm of Tabor & Lambert, has been quite ill for the past week. She is suffering from grip.

Mrs. Charles Burton and daughter of South Wilbur avenue, returned last evening from a visit of three months with friends in Chicago.

Joe Williams of Wellsboro, and Mrs. William Keyes and son, of Troy, have been visiting for the past week at George Tabor's on Desmond street.

The revival services at the Church of Christ in West Sayre are being well attended. The Rev. Kelch is an interesting speaker and is doing a good work. Everybody is invited to attend.

A. W. Trullitt, who for the last several months was employed as prescription clerk in Driggs' drug store, has resigned his position and left for his home in Milford, Del., on No. 4 today. Mr. Trullitt made a large number of friends during his residence in Sayre who will regret his departure.

It is understood that construction work on the Lehigh changes at Towanda has been discontinued for the present, and will not be resumed again until March 15. Train crews which have been doing duty at that place have been ordered to report at Sayre to take their place "on the rounds."

COAL WAS POOR.

SHOPS SHUT DOWN.

Men Were Forced to Stop Work at Five O'Clock Last Night.

The Lehigh shop men were forced to quit work last night at 5 o'clock, all on account, it is said, of a poor quality of coal which has been used to feed the furnaces for several days. The coal failed to furnish the necessary amount of steam to work the engines which operate the dynamos, and the steam for heating purposes was also insufficient. Therefore the men ceased labor at 5 o'clock and went home.

DIG FIRE RAGING IN HARRISBURG

Report Says That a $1,000,000 Loss Has Been Sustained—Fire Beyond Control of Firemen.

A report received from Harrisburg states that a tremendous fire is raging in that city that has destroyed a number of business blocks. The fire at the time the report was received was beyond control of the fire department, and was spreading rapidly. At an early hour this morning the loss had amounted to $1,000,000, and was rapidly becoming greater.

The fire started in a hat store under the opera house, and in a short time that fine structure was a ruin. This was soon followed by the complete destruction of the Postal Telegraph and the Western Union Telegraph buildings. The firemen were unable to make any headway against the flames, and the whole city is threatened with destruction.

The firemen of other cities were being called in to aid the firemen of the capital city in their fight against the flames.

NOT ALL CAME FROM TOWANDA.

Lehigh's New Train Was Loaded Mostly With Men from Athens.

The new train which the Lehigh Valley has placed in service between Sayre and Towanda, steamed into the local station this morning precisely on time, and discharged its cargo of human freight. It is estimated that there were nearly 100 passengers on board the train, but they did not come from Towanda. It is asserted upon good authority that nearly two-thirds of the crowd boarded the train at Athens, being part of the men who usually patronize the street car service between that town and Sayre. Recently the men have been considerably dissatisfied with the trolley service and they will hail the new Lehigh train with delight.

Nature's "Air Castles."

In the northern Italian Tyrol are a cluster of awe-inspiring mountain peaks that violate all ideas of what mountains should be. They are known as the Dolomites. Tossed high, as if arrested in midair, they are nature's own "Castles in the Air," than any castle walls ever built by man, they seem to defy all possibility of ascent. So little known, and so defiant are these mountain obelisks that they have never been conquered by man until a few months ago. Just how they were finally surmounted is shown fully in Lyman H. Howe's Lifeorama in Loomis opera house on next Monday evening. The ingenuity and risks taken by the climbers is sensational in the extreme. Up the sides of great shattered peaks with summits lost in the clouds, the climbers are seen gaining their way foot by foot, and always at imminent risk of their lives. Finally the last forbidding walls are scaled and then the picture unfolds a panorama of mountains so spectacular and fantastic in their shapes as to bewilder the mind. The scene is so unlike anything else ever witnessed as to make the spectator feel transported to another world altogether. New combinations of the wonders of nature follow in rapid succession, making this feature of Mr. Howe's new program unlike any ever attempted hitherto. The program abounds also with other features such as Atlantic Whaling and Quaint Ireland, which give it a wealth of interest never before embodied in a single exhibition.

ELY SECURED A DEFERRED SENTENCE

Young Man Who Robbed Ithaca Station Has Probably Escaped Law's Vengeance.

Clarence J. Ely, the young telegraph operator, who on the first day of last October robbed the Lehigh Valley ticket office at the Ithaca station of $1,200, was arraigned before Justice Coman of Ithaca yesterday. Through his attorney J. J. McGuire, a plea of guilty was entered and the attorney asked that sentence be suspended. Justice Coman gave Ely a suspended sentence and released him on probation. He was paroled in the custody of Albert E. Neldeck.

This disposition of the case against Ely is taken to mean that he will probably never come before the court again. Since his arrest and subsequent confession of the crime powerful influences have been at work to secure his release. Several weeks ago a petition in his behalf was circulated among the railroad men on the Lehigh. A large number of names were secured to this petition, but when the officials of the company learned of what was going on, they instructed their special officers to warn the railroaders against signing it. Those who had already signed were requested to withdraw their names. The officials of the Lehigh were particularly anxious that Ely should be punished, as the crime which he had committed was a most serious one. The disposition which Justice Coman made of the case at Ithaca yesterday, however, would seem to indicate that Ely's friends has succeeded in extricating him from a most unenviable position.

MARY MANNERING AT THE LOOMIS.

The Appearance of This Charming Young Actress Will Be a Theatrical Event.

Mary Mannering, the charming actress whose coming to Waverly is the theatrical event of the year, will be seen at the Loomis opera house next Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, in Rida Johnson Young's successful American comedy, "Glorious Betsy," undoubtedly the best play yet from the pen of the noted author of "Brown of Harvard," etc. The production here will be a notable one and will be under the direction of the Shuberts. The story of the play is as follows: This new play has for its central figure that radiant belle of yesterday, Betsy Paterson, whose beauty and ambition made for her one of the most remarkable careers ever attained by an American woman. From the position of a Baltimore belle, whose wit, pride and rather daring independence, made her the admiring comment of all fashionable society in America, she sprang suddenly into international notice by her marriage with Jerome Bonaparte, the brother of Napoleon, just at the time when he was proclaimed Emperor of the French.

In writing "Glorious Betsy" its author does not go into the darker side of Betsy's life, but deals with those days when her name was the toast of every gathering of note from Baltimore to New Orleans. It takes us back to the old Sweet Springs of Virginia, when that resort was the gathering place for the best in wealth and culture and beauty of which America can boast.

It is at the Springs that Betsy first meets Captain Bonaparte, who, weary of the endless round of entertainment and adulation he has received as the guest of the American nation, has traveled to this out of the way resort inognito and for whatever romantic adventure might appeal to a youth of nineteen, full of high spirits and away from restraint.

Jerome becomes infatuated with the reigning belle, Betsy Patterson, and manages to have himself employed during her stay there to give her lessons in French. Betsy becomes intensely interested in her tutor, but her pride and ambition fights against acknowledging that she could love a man in such an inferior position.

She coquettes with him, however, as she does with half a dozen others. Betsy leaves the Springs ignorant of Jerome's true personality, deeply offended with him because of his refusal to accompany her party to Baltimore, where great preparations are being made for the reception of Captain Bonaparte. It is here at an elaborate fete given in his honor, that Betsy first discovers that her tutor and the much talked brother of Napoleon are one. Previous to this discovery, her pride overcome by the ardent of her supposed tutor, Betsy has confessed her love for him.

They are betrothed and the rest of the play deals with the efforts of Napoleon's agents to prevent their marriage, their fruitless voyage to France, where Napoleon refused to allow Betsy to land, and the final happy triumph of the lovers.

The sale of seats will open tomorrow morning at the box office. Both phones.

Gillian, the funniest ever. You miss it if you fail to hear him.

"LET 'ER GO' FLYNN AGAIN A BENEDICT.

Came to Sayre Yesterday With Damsel Hanging on His Arm Whom He Introduces as Mrs. Flynn No. 2.

"Let 'er Go Flynn" has once more entered the ranks of the benedicts, and he is as happy as a boy with a new pair of boots. The other day "Let 'er Go" was in Sayre when he gave out the information that his wife had deserted him and was married to a man in Smithboro. "Let 'er Go," instead of jumping in to the river or doing some other equally foolish stunt, proceeded to get busy and last night he again visited Sayre. This time a pretty little damsel, who appeared to be many years his junior, was hanging onto his arm, and "Let 'er Go" introduced her as his second adventure on the turbulent sea of matrimony.

The new Lehigh Valley train between Sayre and Towanda was put into operation this morning.
