

We Will Mail Orders and Prepay Freight or Express on Purchases of $5.00 or Over

Sayre Pa.

TODAY (Friday) we enter our third year in business in Sayre. Our inventory is taken and in rummaging all stocks we find, as is always the case, small and broken lots as well as surplus amounts of seasonable goods. All have been given marching orders.

These and Winter goods in all lines are being closed out at a fraction of their value: Cloaks, Furs, Tailor-made-Suits, Winter Millinery, Winter Underwear, Outing Flannel Night Gowns, Winter Hosiery, Winter Gloves, Flannelettes, Winter Blankets, Leggings, Infant's Bearskin and Cloth Coats, Bear Skin Caps, Juvenile Clothing for boys up to 8 years old, Waists, Knitted Shawls, Separate Skirts, and all lines of Winter goods substantial savings can be made by buying now.

In the meantime opening of New Spring Goods goes on merrily. New things in Dry Goods will be unfolding each day and many new things are coming to us daily.

The Spring Exhibit of Rugs and Carpets is going on. New Floor Coverings are being shown.

About 75 Room Rugs to look over now. Better select one or several. We will reserve them for you if desired.

ATHENS.

All invited to the C. E. social at W. G. Jordan's tonight.

F. T. Page is able to be around the house but has not been out yet.

U. S. Travis and Butler Elsworth went to Overton this morning to visit friends.

An increase of pension to $12 per month has been granted to Lyman Beers of Athens.

Frank Thornton of Powell, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Eben Brown for a few days.

G. E. McGovern of Two Dots, Montana, is visiting his father, County Detective A. C. McGovern.

Miss Mabel Wooster has been staying in Athens a short time and returned to Towanda today.

J. J. Weller and Millard Smith took a drive to Windham this morning. Mr. Weller went to buy hay.

Hugh Mitchell and wife of Ithaca, N. Y., are visiting the former's brother, James Watson in Athens.

Mrs. E. S. Ingham has been on a visit at the home of Dr. Stevens and returned to Wyalusing today.

M. J. Wilcox of Dushore, has been visiting his brother-in-law Wm. Melville and returned home today.

Miss Marion Greener, the music teacher in Athens high school went to Elmira today to spend Sunday with her parents.

C. M. Myer and Dr. E. B. Joachim attended a directors' meeting of the Grand Lake Lumber company at the Norwood hotel, Waverly today. It was a very enthusiastic meeting and the indications are that they have a good thing of it.

Some of the fellows who ought to be in better business are marring the plate glass windows of the stores every night. This can do them no good and it is a great annoyance to the merchants who are obliged to polish up after them.

Guy Robinson and Tim Sweeney were arrested last night on charge of being drunk and disorderly. Robinson had made threat against his wife and she has sworn out a warrant for him stating that he has threatened her life. The case will be heard before Justice Johnson this afternoon.

The new workmen's Lehigh Valley train made its first trip from Towanda this morning, leaving Athens at 6:43. Its appearance was greeted with a shout from the shop hands waiting upon the platform at the station and there was about one hundred took passage on it. The men seem pleased with the arrangement.

Miss Mabel Louise Powers of Cuba, N. Y., whose musical voice has been heard many times in Athens, has recovered from her serious illness. Her physician has ordered her to take a Southern trip, and Miss Powers left Thursday morning for Keyser, W. Va., where she will spend a few weeks with Dr. Hoffman's family. Miss Elsie Hoffman being a college chum of hers. Before returning, Miss Powers will visit in Baltimore and Washington.

Warren Chamberlain.

Athens—A letter received by one of our Athens citizens announces the death of Warren Chamberlain, who was better known by the cognomen "Blue Goose" in Athens about thirty years ago. He was a powerful man of steady habits and renowned for his feats of physical courage and endurance. He never needed a gun to work his way out of any dilemma for he had acquired such skill slinging stones from his bare hands that he could fill his pockets with them and go out in the woods and kill more game with them than any hunter could with fire arms. This was about the time that the new fangled way of playing base ball was inaugurated, and a team was organized in Athens and he was their pitcher. John Kramer was then in his prime and he was the batter that could send the balls into the farther fields where they would be "lost" every time. With "Blue Goose" on the plate to send the hot balls over the batter's station with his unerring skill and Kramer to bat our team had everything their own way and were a terror to all of the professionals in the country. "Blue Goose" worked for Ely Murray on the homestead farm over the Chemung river and a short time after Murray went west he followed him to Oregon. Nothing has been heard from him for a long time and now comes the news that he is dead, and that he has considerable money and it is desired to find some of his relatives. It will be to their advantage if any are in this vicinity if they make themselves known.

Testimonial. "I'm told that Dr. Yarbidge's medicine is mighty good for rheumatism. What do you think about it?" "I suspect it is. My rheumatism seemed to thrive on it."—Chicago Sun.

Perfectly Safe. Him—I wonder if it would be safe for me to steal a kiss? Her—Oh! how can you ask such a question when I am helpless, and alone?—Cleveland Leader.

Unexpected Surplus. The Barber—Shampoo? No— Shall I sing the ends of the hair? Elderly Party—Say, do I look as if I had hair to burn?—Life.

His Own Estimate. "He can't value himself highly." Y—Why not? "Because he's always giving himself away."—Cassell's.

What Did He Expect? "I thought he was going on a polar expedition?" "He was; but he got cold feet."—Houston Post.

A Kicker. BU—What is your wife's idea of modern football? JH—Oh, there's not enough kicking in it to suit her.—Yonkers Statesman.

Miss Marie Kelley.

Athens—Marie Kelley died at her South Main street yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock of a severe attack of the grip and a complication of diseases, aged 64 years. She was born in Ireland and came to America with her brother Patrick Kelley and two sisters, Catherine and Cecilia, 40 years ago. They resided at Atlantic City about three years and then removed to Sattler Hill, where they lived on a farm 21 years. About sixteen years ago they removed to Athens and resided in the home on South Main street several years and then purchased the Holmes farm removing there where they resided until the brother, Patrick Kelley died when the sisters again came to Athens taking up their residence in the corner home on South Main street. Her two sisters, Catherine and Cecilia survive her. The arrangements for the funeral are not completed, but will be announced tomorrow.

AN EVERY-DAY SCENE.

Pedestrian—What's all that fuss about in that house—a wedding? Resident—No. A new baby arrived last night and all the women in the neighborhood are going into ecstasies over it. "Who is that tall man all the women are crowding around?" "He is a minister, come to fix the date for the christening." "And who is the short man who attracts so much attention?" "He is the doctor." "Ah! I see. That no-account fellow, who is being pushed out of the way or run over, is the hired man, I presume?" "No, he's the father."

Explaining It.

"It was too much education that landed me here, mum," said the burglar to the visitor at the penitentiary. "I had an assistant who was born in Boston. One night we had a good second-story job, but he queered the whole thing at the last minute." "How do you mean?" asked the visitor. "When I told him to climb up the down spout, to get the swag out of the second story, he said: 'I refuse to do anything so paradoxical,' and just then the copper woke up and collared us."—Judge.

Not to Be Stopped.

Lord of the earth—such is man's part, So all the teachers say; But when the grip germ gets a start He keeps the right of way. —Washington Star.

QUALIFIED.

"I can't believe, lieutenant, that you would be contented all your life in the country." "With you, countess, I certainly should! I've taken a great interest in farming of late!" "Really?" "On my word! I've even had hay fever!"—Lustige Blaetter.

His Opposite.

Jenkins—I am told that the happiest marriages are between people who are exactly opposite in every respect to each other, so I am looking for a young lady of that sort, don't you know.

Miss Pert—Then you have come to the right place. Come to the other side of the room and I'll introduce you to a bright, intelligent, well-educated girl.

Why? Why always strive for "something new" With main and might? Keep evermore this fact in view: "All truth is old." —Judge.

It Would Seem So.

Gyer—Nature may abhor a vacuum, but she isn't averse to an occasional burlesque. Myer—How's that? Gyer—Well, for example, when she made the monkey she evidently had one eye on a man.—Chicago Daily News.

These Assumed Names.

Mrs. Mulhooly—An' phy did ye give the name av Standish at the police station? Mr. Mulhooly—Sure, OI was arrested fer bein' drunk an' disorderly, an' it isn't wud be disgracin' the name of Mulhooly.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Bargain.

Nell—Isn't she a peculiar girl? She wouldn't look at him when he was rich, but now, after he's lost all his money she accepts him. Belle—Well, you know how crazy every woman is to get anything that's reduced.
