Valentines at Strong's.

Miss Margaret Powers returned from Binghamton this morning.

Rooms for rent to small family. Inquire of E. J. Neaves, drug store.

Next Tuesday, Feb. 12 is the day that the town elections will be held.

Joseph Blazinski had the misfortune to smash a finger while working at the metal works yesterday.

A. M. Bauer of West Broad street is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism that keeps him confined to his home.

Waverly lodge No. 407 F. & A. M. will have a special communication this evening and the second degree will be conferred.

Mrs. L. B. Sabn of Cayuta avenue, was operated on at the Packer hospital at Sayre yesterday, and is reported as doing very nicely today.

Erie train No. 7 was almost 3 hours late this morning. The heavy snow in northern New Jersey and southern New York being responsible for the delay.

The Baptist young peoples society is planning to give an entertainment at the church on Washington's birthday. An excellent musical program is being arranged.

Mr. Lamereau of Binghamton, is endeavoring to organize a dancing class in Waverly, and a large number attended the first dance at the Masonic Temple last evening.

Stamping Must Cease.

Waverly—People in the balcony of the opera house have been very much annoyed of late by a number of young men who make a practice of stamping on the floor very vigorously whenever anything pleases or displeases them. This is very disagreeable feature, and the management will take steps to see that the practice is discontinued.

Snow Blocks Railroads.

Waverly—About fifty of the weather conditions in the great northwest may be formed from the fact that Erie ticket agents have been ordered to discontinue the sale of tickets for local points in the Dakotas and Minnesota. The railroad in that part of the country are so badly blocked by snow that there is no surety that a passenger can get to his destination.

Very Enjoyable Affairs.

Waverly—About fifty of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith of Center street, gathered at their home last evening and had a most enjoyable time. The evening was passed by dancing, playing games while bounteous refreshments were served. I was long past Wednesday and Thursday had a very good start when the party finally broke up, every one declaring that he had a most enjoyable time.

SCHOOL BOARD HELD REGULAR MEETING.

Talk Over Matter of New School House Gave Invitation for the County Institute to Be Held in Waverly.

Waverly—Last evening there was a regular meeting of the Waverly school board. The regular business of the month was done and the matter of the new school building came up for discussion. No definite plans for its construction have been arrived at but it is the opinion of a majority of the board that a new building is needed and that steps will soon be taken toward its erection.

The members also discussed the matter of the county institute that will be held the week beginning March 24. The board voted that the teachers should attend the institute, and extended an invitation to have the institute held in Waverly. It would be a good thing for the village to have the institute held here but it is now somewhat late to secure it for the next session.

M. P. A. Entertainment.

Waverly—South Waverly lodge No. 32 M. P. A. gave an entertainment in the Red Men's hall in Waverly last evening. The program consisted of work by the degree team, some solo and instrumental music, and other features. A stunt by Mr. and Mrs. George Carey of Sayre was very amusing and was the source of much fun. The degree team and the officers of the lodge had a flash light picture taken, and the balance of the evening and the early hours of the morning were devoted to dancing.

"The Arrival of Kitty."

Few actresses on the stage receive as many letters in the course of a season as Miss Evelyn Dunmore, who has achieved fresh laurels in the comedy success, "The Arrival of Kitty" which the C. S. Williams company are presenting this season with great success. A very large proportion of these letters come from strangers and usually contain suggestions or ask for advice. In practically every city in which she appears, Miss Dunmore receives letters from young women who are anxious to go on the stage. Some of these letters are humorous and some very pathetic. Few of them are answered, for it would be an impossible task for the popular young prima donna to keep up with even one half of the unsolicited correspondence. The letters are from young girls in various walks of life, from the factory to what is usually styled the "best society." Some of the applicants are genuinely ambitious; some in real need and seek to earn a living and some—not the smaller number by any means—are prompted purely by vanity. Miss Dunmore has her own ideas about letter writers and has learned to distinguish between the merely vain correspondent and the genuinely ambitious and deserving girl. To the latter she sometimes sends a word of advice or suggestion.

TELLS LAWMAKERS TO PROTECT SMALL GAME.

Dr. Kalbfus, Secretary of Commission, Favors Bill Now Pending.

Harrisburg—Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission, made an address before members of the Legislature in the hall of the House of Representatives on the subject of the protection of game in Pennsylvania, the benefits derived by the state and the necessity of support by the Legislature.

Dr. Kalbfus said that while the commission was expected to give protection to the wild creatures of the state, both upon the land and upon the water of an area covering more than 45,000 square miles, the commission had up to this year but $10,000 with which to meet the necessities of the occasion.

From this limited amount he was compelled to run the office of the Game Commission at Harrisburg; to pay for services rendered and expenses incurred by officers throughout the state; to pay traveling expenses and attorney fees as occasion might require.

Dr. Kalbfus extolled the merits of the bill requiring all resident hunters to pay a license before hunting in this state, which he called the greatest game protective measure ever introduced in Pennsylvania. Sportsmen of the state who are advocating the passage of this bill, he said, are satisfied to have any resident of the state hunt upon his own land, if that be constitutional.

$2500 Verdict From Wife's Father.

Easton—E. J. Gerlach, a prominent and wealthy manufacturer of Bethlehem, must pay $2500 for alienating the affections of his daughter from her husband, George W. Beisel. Beisel alleges that his wife's parents wanted their daughter to marry another man who had more money than Beisel, and that they influenced her to leave Beisel. The latter then brought suit and was awarded the sum of $2500. Gerlach applied for a new trial, but this was denied by Judge Scott.

HARVESTING ICE WITH MACHINERY

BLOCKS RUSH IN STREAM FROM RIVER TO SAWDUST.

LATEST HUDSON WRINKLE

Portable Electric Motors Driving Ice Harvesting Machinery Quickly Gather Crop in the Short Season of Recent Years—They Are Both Money Makers and Time Savers.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The very latest application of electricity in the industrial world is the use of motors to drive ice harvesting machinery. The shortness of the season of late years has greatly embarrassed the ice dealers, the warm weather finding them with only partially filled icehouses. They have been looking out for some means of handling the crop faster and more economically. The test this winter has been most successful and satisfactory, and electricity has demonstrated its superiority over either horse or steam power.

The Gifford-Wood company of Hudson, the largest manufacturers of ice harvesting machinery in the United States, has adopted the electric motor as part of their equipment to be used wherever an electric current is available. The standard motors are installed in place of the steam engine or horses to operate the chain conveyors, hoisting gears, trimmers and cleaners which are required in connection with all ice-houses.

Among the very first installations this winter was that at a plant at Sanders Lake, near Schenectady. The chain conveyor from the lake to the storage houses is several hundred feet long. Formerly the ice was hauled up this chute by teams of horses, a very costly and laborious way; but this winter an electric motor rushes the cut ice from the water stream. Schenectady has been far ahead of other ice harvesting districts in the application of electricity to the industry. A number of other Schenectady dealers are using motors in handling ice about their buildings.

Along the Hudson river, where more ice is harvested than in any other section, electric motors are being extensively used for the first time this winter. The attention of ice dealers throughout New England, northern New York, Canada and other ice harvesting districts has been directed to this electrical application. There are many arguments in favor of electricity for this work. An experienced engineer is not required to run the motors; there are no freezing feed pipes or pipe lines which were continually delaying the steam engines, no corrosion of boiler and deterioration of engine during the long period when they are out of use; more convenient location without fire risk from sparks or overheated furnace.

The electrically operated winch can be placed at the lower end of the run if desired, where the complete operation of the grapping, hoisting and discharging of ice are in full view of the operator. In fact the ease of moving the power plant when desired is one of the most convincing arguments. The motors used vary in size from 10 to 25 horse power, as required and are always under the most perfect speed control. During the summer the same motors are used for driving, hoisting and lowering gigs, also for operating conveyors to load ice into freight cars.

Negro Accused of Murder.

H. Lawson and Warner D. Townsend of Philadelphia have served a warrant upon Webster Gibson, a giant negro confined in the county prison here, upon the charge of murdering J. F. Seebey of Dendron, Va., on December 26th last. Gibson was being held on the technical charge of trespassing on the railroad at Morrisville, while his photograph was sent South, where he was identified as the man wanted.

Gibson admitted that he was a member of one of the negro companies of soldiers discharged at Brownsville, Tex., for the disgraceful riot and murder there.

Huntingdon's Typhoid Epidemic.

Huntingdon.—The typhoid fever scourge, which has been raging at this place for the last two months, shows little signs of abatement. So far about 30 cases have been reported. There have been two deaths to date, and many serious cases may result fatally. The state board of health has been requested to send a representative to ascertain, if possible, the cause of the epidemic. Residents are boiling the water and the city's supply of water has been turned off in the schools.

SMALLEST BOROUGH DEFIES UNCLE SAM.

Citizens of Hopewell, Chester County, Score Rural Free Delivery Service.

Oxford—Hopewell, the smallest borough in the state, has set the United States government at defiance.

Rather than submit to an order closing their postoffice, which has been a fixture for nearly 100 years, and going into the rural free delivery branch of the Postal Department, citizens take turns in trudging the three long miles to Oxford postoffice to bring home the mail for the village.

Rural free delivery would bring the mail to their doors, but the fighting spirit of the Hopewellians has been aroused, and they prefer the long walk, even in this blizzard weather, rather than submit to what they believe is an infringement upon their dignity and prerogative.

UNINJURED BY HIGH FALL.

Hod Carrier Asks Doctor for Cigarette and Resumes Work.

Washington, Pa.—Henry Wright, a hod carrier employed in the construction of a new Brewery at Bentleyville, today lost his footing and fell to the floor of the structure, 83 feet below.

During the progress of his flight he encountered two two-inch planks that served to break his descent, but the final fall was a sheer drop of 51 feet. Wright lay immovable for a few seconds and two physicians were summoned. As they entered the building they were met by Wright who carelessly asked Dr. Booth for a cigarette. An examination showed that not a bone was broken and but few minor bruises sustained. Wright resumed his work immediately.

FORTUNE FOR TOYS.

Pittsburg Man's Estate May Go to Make Children Happy.

Pittsburg.—The poor children of Pittsburg and Allegheny are to benefit through the expenditure of an estate valued at $31,000 left by the late George B. Nutt. The will provides that the estate shall go to the wife during her lifetime and then to be divided among his children equally. If the children all die before their mother, at her death the estate is to be spent for the purchase of playthings and gifts for poor children, especially those in institutions. It is the wish of the decedent that the money be expended in small sums to distribute it over as large an area as possible and benefit as large a number of children as possible.

BIG FLOOD EXPECTED.

Heavy Snowfalls in Western Part of State alarm Rivermen.

Pittsburg.—One of the worst floods in the history of Pennsylvania is expected at the cessation of the present cold spell. The deepest snow for many years has fallen throughout the region and rivermen say a prolonged thaw will cause a raise of 35 feet in the rivers. This is 14 feet above the danger line and sufficient to paralyze the business section of Pittsburg. The thermometer has hovered near zero for the last two weeks and heavy snowfalls of from 7 to 10 inches are reported daily from upper points.

DEAD MAN NOMINATED.

Primary Voters Not Aware of Death of Popular Candidate.

Washington, Pa.—In making a count of the votes cast at the recent Blaine township had nominated a dead man for the office of road supervisor. W. B. Crothers died just one week before the day on which the primaries were held. He was one of the wealthiest landowners in the county.

Slept Nine Years on a Chair.

Lewistown.—John Deemer, forty-nine years old of Yeargertown, died asthma. He had been a grinder in the works of the American Axe and Tool company for many years, and the dust from the stone hardened the inner surface of the lungs, causing great difficulty in breathing when in a reclining position. For nine years he had not slept in a bed, taking his rest entirely upon a chair.

Wholesale Oleo Suits.

Harrisburg.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner Warren has directed District Agent Foust of Pittsburg to begin suits against 25 merchants in that city and its vicinity for the sale of oleomargarine as a substitute for butter. Some of the merchants are alleged to have sold oleo colored to imitate butter, while others are accused of having neglected to take out a license for the sale of oleo.

STATE BRIEFS

THREATENED TO BURN OUT JUDGE'S EYES.

Or Else Shoot Them Out With Bullets Dipped in Vitriol.

Easton.—Charged with sending letters threatening the life of Judge H. W. Scott of the Northampton county courts, Fred S. Hawk, 29 years of age, was arrested and committed to the county prison in default of $2500 bail. Young Hawk apparently is not responsible. He imagined that the public believes he furnished the information to the judge which resulted in several liquor licenses being revoked. Hawk thinks Judge Scott should inform the public that the former had nothing to do with it. Hawk first sent letters asking for an interview, but the judge paid no attention. Then Hawk called at the Karlden hotel, where the judge lives, but could not see him. On Sunday night Hawk sent a letter of fifteen pages to the judge, threatening to burn out the judge's eyes with acid, or shoot them out with bullets dipped in vitriol, if no interview were to be granted him. Judge Scott thought the matter had gone far enough, and had Hawk arrested.

Endless Chain Prayer Causes Trouble.

Freeland.—An endless chain prayer is causing consternation in the ranks of the church people here. The prayer is received through the mail, accompanied by an anonymous letter requesting the recipient to copy it and send to nine other persons, and threatening in case of refusal dire calamity before the ninth day and promising great joy and glory to those who comply. The Rev. Frank Marshall, rector of the Episcopal church, has announced that the letters have a serious effect on the minds of women who are inclined to be religiously emotional. He has called upon his parishioners to advise them to ignore such matters.

Aftermath of State Capitol.

Harrisburg.—Suit of the Harrisburg Electric Light and Power company against George F. Payne & Co., contractors for the new state capitol, to recover $32,000 due for power defendants used during the erection of the building, was settled today amicably by counsel. The amount of settlement was private, but it was rumored around the court house that it was considerably less than one-third of the amount sued for. The trial was begun in January and has since been before the Dauphin county court.
