ATHENS.

Sidney Rows and wife drove to VanRites today.

Charles Mulligan returned home from Mercersburg last evening.

Mrs. Fred Smith and daughter went to Ulster today to visit friends.

Miss Homer, one of the teachers in the High School is on the sick list.

Comrade G. W. Lear of Ulster, was in Athens today visiting relatives.

County Commissioner Harkness was in Athens today on professional business.

Fred W. Stacey has been suffering with grip this week but is out this afternoon.

Comrade Henry Hayes of Windham, was transacting business in Athens yesterday.

Mrs. H. B. Burroughs returned to West Franklin today after visiting in this vicinity a week.

Mrs. Myra Johnson of Buffalo, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hines, Spruce street.

Mrs. Emeline Cook is very ill with pneumonia at the residence of Charles Drake on Ann street.

Hon. L. T. Hoyt has been nominated and his name sent to the senate to be postmaster of Athens.

Since it has been discovered that kissing spreads the grip many of our school lads have refrained from kissing their teachers.

Comfort C. Gore is very sick at the home of his son, C. F. Gore. He had a very bad night of it last night and is no better today.

John Grippen returned from Lesshire today where he was called on account of the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Anna Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tubbs of Osceola, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vine Crandall the past week returned to their home today.

Mr. C. H. Stocker and wife have been visiting friends in Athens and West Sayre about a week and returned to Tunkhannock this morning.

Edward Hawley, who was recently before the Bradford county court has returned to Athens and called at the town hall this morning for his umbrella.

J. W. Beaman and wife returned to Athens yesterday. Mr. Beaman has been in Kentucky and West Virginia in the interest of the Keystone Guard and Mrs. Beaman has been staying with some friends at Williamsport during his absence.

Mrs. George Frolich entertained the Penechle club last evening at her residence on Thomas avenue, in a fare-well dinner in honor of Mrs. Otto, who leaves today for New York city. There was a good company of friends and they had a very agreeable social time.

Gillian, the humorist, who spoke at the Athens high school some time ago will appear at the Sayre high school tomorrow night. He hasn't deteriorated any either, and if you want to enjoy yourself get on the street car, go to Sayre, meander over to the school building, find 25 cents and go in.

All soldiers and their wives are invited to attend the services and banquet at Grand Army hall Tuesday afternoon in honor of President Lincoln's birthday. Remember that it makes no difference whether you belong to any soldier organization or not, if you served in the Union army during the war of the rebellion you are welcome.

Madame Helena Mojeska will appear in the play of Macbeth at Hale's opera house, Towanda, Monday, March 11. There are many Athens people who made her acquaintance while she spent the summer in our place several years ago with her son Ralph, that will be glad of the opportunity to hear her in this, her best character play.

President Roosevelt signed the new McCumber pension bill yesterday and it is now a law. Comrades do not need an attorney in order to avail themselves of its provisions. They must make a sworn statement of their age and when they were born and forward to the commissioner of pensions. They can swear to it before any justice of the peace or notary public.

Killed Town's Goldfish.
The use of sulphate of copper to rid the Scranton (Pa.) reservoirs of deadly germs has resulted in the death of about two-thirds of the goldfish in Scranton aquarium. One dealer has lost about 600 goldfish in the last few days.

Few Physically Perfect.
There are millions of pretty women and billions of personable men, but the man or woman of entire physical beauty may cross one's pathway only once in a lifetime—or not at all—Frances Hodgson Burnett.

WHEN YOU'RE A BUNNY.

See that the napkin is tucked well under the chin. It saves laundry bills.

Not more than two inches of the knife in the mouth is permissible. Don't be a sw'd swallower.

To eat beyond the load line is bad manners. Remember, freight cars have their limit.

If a dish is passed to you for which you do not care, place it on the floor for the cat. The cat may not be so particular.

Grasp the knife and fork firmly. What nonsense for a strong person to try to appear delicate at table!

Don't mince. Don't dally with the food. It's there; go to it.

Under no circumstances should the napkin be used as a toothbrush.

Don't cheat at table. Holding out a hand to take a sandwich to take home with you is the height of improper etiquette.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

His Aunt's Protector.
On the occasion of his wedding anniversary a certain western preacher recently told a few appreciative friends some of the incidents of his courtship days. Perhaps the most interesting was the following:
"I called upon the young lady one evening and found her occupied in entertaining a four-year-old nephew. The little fellow eyed me suspiciously, but went on with his play. After a time he left his playthings and took a position between his aunt and myself, where he remained very quietly for some minutes. Finally he got restless and, looking up into his aunt's face said:
"Aunt Liz, would you be afraid if I ran up upstairs just a little minute?"—Judge.

His Opportunity.
Mr. Sprockins—And if I decline to let you have my daughter, what do you propose to do?
Mr. Wibblesen—I warn you that in that case we are prepared to act. Even now beloved Aurelia has her best clothes on and awaits me near a railway station. If you decide against us, we shall flee together, and never come back.
Mr. Sprockins (without a moment's hesitation)—Then I refuse.

Pa's Queer Idea.
Little Fred—Say, maw, ain't paw got a queer idea of what heaven is like?
Maw—I don't know, dear. I never heard him say anything about it.
Little Fred—Well, I did. He told the groceryman that the week you spent in the country was like heaven to him.—Chicago Daily News.

A Desperado.
"So this is a typical frontier town, eh? I suppose you have citizens who have killed their men?"
"There goes one now."
"A peaceable looking chap. How many notches has he on his gun?"
"He doesn't carry a gun."
"Not carry a gun!"
"Nope; he's a doctor."—Houston Post.

BOTH SICK OF IT.

He—When we were married I thought we were to be two souls with but a single thought.
She—Well, aren't we? Don't we both wish we were single again?—Rochester Democrat.

The Brute.
She always addressed him as Mr. Until he took courage and Kr.
But now that they're wed.
Like a brute he has said.
That he wishes to goodness he'd Mr.—Pearson's Weekly.

No Wonder.
Foote Light—And you say she can't believe a thing her husband says?
Miss Sue Brette—Certainly she can't! Her husband is her press agent!—Yonkers Statesman.

Poverty and Wealth.
Miss De Pretty—I was out riding today with Mr. Swellhead, the editor of the Hightone Magazine.
Poor Author (rival suitor)—Did he pay for the rig in postage stamps?
—N. Y. Weekly.

The Usual Way.
"Does your father keep an automobile?"
"No; he doesn't keep it. He merely borrows it from the repair-shop when it happens to be in running order."—Judge.

Not So Bad.
"I hope you don't feel nervous, Jim?"
"I am a little uneasy, William, but I'm not so horribly scared yet that I've got to claim I ain't afraid."—Life.

Cynical.
"Curious idea, this transmigration of souls," said the man who reads profound things superficially.
"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne, "if I thought some human beings I know could possibly be transmigrated into animals I shouldn't be nearly as fond of gods as I am."—Washington Star.

THE CAYUTA LAND CO. OF SAYRE.
Desires to announce that they have some very desirable building lots for sale on cheap and easy terms, and that they have placed the agency for selling them in the hands of ANDREW EVARTS of this place. All those wishing to provide themselves with homes or to invest in lots for speculative purposes will do well to consult with Mr. Everts before purchasing elsewhere. This plot of land is nearly surrounded by industrial plants with beautiful scenery and all the advantages of a modern town. Terms to suit purchasers. Steps are already being taken to supply all the land comprising this plot with a full supply of the best water the valley affords. When you come to look over the plot of ground take trolley to Springs Corners, cross bridge that crosses over L. V. R. R. when across bridge turn to the left and you are on the ground. There will be a man at the office Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons of each week to show you over the ground, or any other day by calling Valley Phone No. 246. Imposing Hawaiian Name.
The staggering length of the names given by native Hawaiians sometimes upsets court officials in the Sandwich Islands. In a case recently on trial in Honolulu a witness on being sworn was asked by a lawyer to give his name. The witness replied as follows: "K a h i m a l a n i l i k a e o n o l o k a m a k a h i k i k a u a k a l a n i." It was such a terrific rumble that the court at first was inclined to rebuke the man, but inquiry showed that the witness was guiltless of any attempt at levity, so after the clerk had laboriously noted the name the case proceeded.

Tale-Bearing.
Nobody loves a telltale, and most of us were brought up in the belief that it is dishonorable to turn informer. Still, there is a great and obvious difference between tale-bearing and testifying against a criminal, even if the criminal happens to be a comrade or associate. It is held to be shameful to turn against a friend, but it is not dishonorable to deliver a criminal to punishment. The distinction is worth emphasizing.—Chicago Chronicle.

Hawk Tries to Carry Away Dog.
Joseph Wood and his stepson, Peter McLain, accompanied by a dog, went tramping along the branch in Thorp's wood pasture, and a large hawk flew down and seized the dog's head in its talons. The dog ran 50 rods or more with its feathered assailant holding to its prey before young McLain could overtake the fugitives and kill the hawk with a club.—Indianapolis News.

Silk from Wood Pulp.
Artificial silk is made from wood pulp in Sweden. The imitation is excellent, but it is found that many dresses made from it have been discarded because the creases made when the wearers sit down do not come out. It is scarcely possible to distinguish the real from the artificial silk, but this defect has proved fatal for use as dress pieces.

Turkish Child-Women.
Up to the age of 12 Turkish girls are as free and untrammelled as European children, but with her twelfth birthday the girl becomes a woman. She adopts the "tcharchaf," and joins that silent sisterhood who are condemned to see the world darkly through a veil, without having lost any of their natural desire to participate in its gayeties.

Armenia a Forbidden Name.
From Bagdad a Bible society's agent reports that in the last consignment of British Bibles which he received there all the maps had been torn out which showed anything about Armenia. The dragoman of the British consulate at Bagdad explained that the name of Armenia on a map is forbidden in Turkey.

"A Rabbit."
Our idea of a rabbit is the man who waits for the girl to turn down the gas in the front parlor.—Yorke's Capital.
