FINE ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BY D. A. R.

Toga Chapter Entertained Large Audience in Library Rooms Last Night.

Athens—Toga Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution had a most enjoyable entertainment last evening at the Spaulding Library rooms in commemoration of Washington's birthday. It was attended by a large number of the best people of Sayre and Waverly, and a few from Athens. An admission fee of 25 cents was charged, the avails of which is to be distributed in prizes to the children in a contest for essays on patriotic subjects. As it was, they had a good house, but we feel a little chagrined over the fact that more of our own people were not present. The very ground on which the Library building is located is so rich in patriotic legends that it seems strange that our inhabitants do not feel a greater interest in the matter.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Howard Elmer, Regent of the Chapter, and as she called the assembly to order, Mrs. Dunham was called for and gave a piano solo, after which Mrs. Elmer gave a short historical sketch of George Washington and in conclusion referred to the Eulogy that was given by Judge Geo. R. Midot of Boston, stating that it had been published and that they were fortunate enough tonight to have a copy that had been loaned them by Mrs. S. N. Blood of Sayre, and Mrs. J. W. Bishop would read it. This is one of the masterly orations bequeathed to us from the illustrious men of that historic period when liberty was the inheritance the father of his country left to the people of the present age.

Mrs. Elmer then announced that a historic sketch of our patriotic songs had been written by a lady in Ithaca, that had been read at a previous meeting of Mrs. Scott of Waverly, but as Mrs. Scott had departed at the rate of six miles an hour for Athens she was obliged to call upon Mrs. Charles Kellogg to read it. This sketch was revised by Mrs. Kellogg and some important additions made by her and she now read from it commencing with "America" written by Rev. S. F. Smith of Boston, and continuing with the following:

Hail Columbia, written by Frances Hopkinson of Philadelphia, and first sung by an actor named Fox.

Yankee Doodle, originally written about the year 1780 and sung by the British in derision of Cromwell, and finally composed by a British surgeon and sang in derision of the continental army, lastly sung by the rough riders at Santiago.

"Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," written by Thomas A. Bickett and afterwards appropriated and published by A. N. Shaw.

"Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," written by Walter Kittredge who served in the war of the Rebellion.

"Battle Hymn of the Republic," written by Julia Ward Howe while in Washington and adapted to the music of "Old John Brown."

"The Star Spangled Banner," written by Francis Scott Key, while a prisoner on a British vessel at the siege of Fort Mchenry. This air is also British, taken from the old air, "Anachoron."

"There was a great deal of enthusiasm as the ladies' quartette, composed of Mrs. Blackmore of Waverly, Mrs. Geo. R. Hill of Sayre, and the Misses Ida W. Corbin and Grace Stimson of Athens sang the description songs at the close of each different song. Their voices blended in such tender pathos that it made a deep impression on every one present.

There were about twenty-five of Howard Drake's young friends walked in on him at his home on Elmira street last evening, taking possession of the house in grand style. He did not know what it all meant at first, but when they began to unload the provisions he began to surmise that he was surprised, and then they all sat down to a most agreeable social visit that lasted until a late hour. It was all the more enjoyable from its being a surprise, and when the game were played and the refreshments were eaten they all voted that they had had the best time of their lives. Howard has a host of good friends and they like to show their good will occasionally.

"The Warning Bell"

This is the most original and beautiful production that has gone out for years. The story of the play, the splendid costumes, the wealth of strange and beautiful scenery, the wonderful dramatic surprises and the brightest and funniest comedy, all go to make it the great production, par excellence, of this season and many previous ones. No pains nor expense has been spared by Gordon and Bennett to make it a complete, elaborate and beautiful production.

Wainwright Asks For State Commission of Inquiry.

BILL NOT HOSTILE TO MILITIAMEN

Colonel of Twelfth Regiment Says Service of Today is Under Fire of Criticism and Needs General Revision

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 22.—Various propositions to investigate the condition of the national guard of New York state culminated here in the introduction by Assemblyman Wainwright of Westchester, who is himself lieutenant colonel of the Twelfth regiment of the state's infantry, of a bill providing for a commission of nine to investigate the national guard with reference to its efficiency and general condition and to examine, with a view of general revision, the military code of the state.

The commission provided for would consist of four citizens, appointed by the governor; two members of the senate and three of the assembly, appointed respectively by the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the assembly. The members of the commission are to receive no compensation except necessary expenses. The bill carries an appropriation of $10,000.

In explanation of his bill Colonel Wainwright said it was intended to call for the broadest kind of an inquiry "into conditions, discipline, efficiency, cost of maintenance, method of raising and disbursing funds and also for an investigation into the condition of the military law."

"The bill is in no sense hostile to the guard, but rather the contrary, introduced by one who is only animated by a spirit of loyalty and devotion to the state military service."

Colonel Wainwright spoke highly of the personnel of the guard, but said he, like others, believed there were radical defects of organization. Many believe, he said, in the adoption of a general staff system under a chief of staff representing the governor and with an inspector general possibly detailed from the regular service.

"The Wendell matter," said Colonel Wainwright, "goes to show that there is at least conflict of authority at the top which, in my judgment, is due more to the system than to the officers of the staff. The question of maintenance of armories, as to whether they should be local or state charge, has raised a very large and complicated proposition. There is no question but that the guard today is somewhat under fire, and it should be possible for it to have what would be virtually a court inquiry as to its own condition."

Five Millions Doomed to Starvation.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 22.—In a report forwarded to Tuan Kirt, the representative of the foreign famine relief committee, emphasizes the incompetence of the Chinese officials in dealing with the famine situation. He estimates that 10,000,000 people are involved, half of whom are doomed unless the government takes energetic measures and adopts modern methods.

A Fire Fighter's Astounding Story OF THE UNPARALLELED MERITS OF "BLOODINE"

MARRY A. GLAZIER
A Prominent Fireman of Malden, Mass., writes:

Mar. 2nd, 1907.
Last winter I had a severe cold and it settled on my kidneys, causing the most excruciating pain almost every time I attempted to move. I had tried everything imaginable to get relief, with no success, until I was advised to try "Bloodine," which in my great surprise, gave me relief almost from the first dose, and before I had taken one bottle I was completely cured. "Bloodine" is a wonderful, vitalizing tonic. It helps to improve, purify, and strengthen the blood, and the whole system is upset by an accumulation of poisons. It is time to try "Bloodine" today.

ENGINE WHICH MR. GLAZIER RIMS.

Signs of Danger.
Backache, dizziness and headache, "specks before the eyes," irregular heart action and liver trouble. The severity of the early symptoms depends upon the amount of poisons which the kidneys have allowed to remain in the system.

SYMPTOMS.
Aching Pain Over Eyes, Backache, Stomach or Deposition in Urine, Irritation of the Bladder, Pain in Urinating, Rheumatism (also noted in blood), Sudden Stoppage of Urine, Highly Colored or Milky White Urine, Pain in Blood or Mucus in Urine, Irritation of Urine, Burning After Urinating, Thick or Stringy Urine, Stone in the Bladder, Crystals (Inflammation of Bladder), Obstruction of Bladder or Urethra, Pusiness Under Eyes, Vertigo, Appetite, Painful Gait, Stomach, Gravel, Pain in Urthra, Urinary Aches, Dimmed Vision, Spiculae Before the Eyes, Stomach Urine, Frequent Colds, Mouth Dry, Biliousness, Dribbling, Lumbago, Weakness, Loss of Flesh, Irritable Heart Action, Obstruction of the Bladder, Stone in the Bladder, Waxy and Dry, Bad Odor of Excretions.

SIMPLE TEST FOR KIDNEY DISEASE.
Fill a bottle with urine; let it stand for twelve hours; if there is a sediment or cloudiness of any kind you have kidney or bladder trouble, and you should commence taking Bloodine today. Don't wait until the disease is too far advanced.

Bloodine costs you a bottle for the usual $1.00 price. Mail orders filled. Large sample bottle by mail 50c.

Bloodine Liver Pills
Chronic Constipation, Sick Headache and Biliousness. 25 CENTS A BOX.
