GAZETTE PLANT BADLY SCORCHED

Printing Outfit Rendered Almost Useless and Building and Stock Extensively Damaged Last Night By Flames of Unknown Origin.

The Athens Gazette office was badly scorched by fire last night and the wreck and disorder now throws them out of business for the time being. Frank Cook and wife went to high school hall to attend the concert and Charles Hinton after looking around the office about 8 o'clock went to Mr. Cook's house to care for the little boy while they were absent. Art Brown looked out of his front window about 9 o'clock and saw a heavy volume of smoke coming from the cellar window. He rushed over and raised the alarm. He broke in the door and found that the fire had started in the back cellar and was already coming up the south west wall.

The alarm was sounded and Mr. Cook was informed and he at once ran from the hall to the scene of the fire. As he entered the press room he stepped upon a live electric light wire that had fallen upon the floor and he was prostrated with the strong current and fell to the floor insensible. Chas. Walton of the News office and Dr. Crawford were near him and caught hold of him to pull him out of the entangled wire when they both received shocks. Finally Will Schrier and A. S. Buckley, with two others, seized and rescued him. The current was so strong that it drew him with tremendous force back onto the wire as often as their hands relaxed from their grip. Frank screamed and the spectators thought that he could not possibly survive the shock, and all night he has suffered excruciating pain, but this morning he has recovered so it is thought he will be all right. The fire made its way up the wall to the ceiling overhead, bilistered the woodwork, and the southern wall and type cases are burned badly.

The fire originated in the back cellar where the stock of printing paper was stored, but it is a mystery how it originated as no fire has been used in that place. The machinery in the second story was not injured very much but the workroom is so thoroughly wrecked that it will not be possible to do any business for several days. They have insurance to cover the loss, but the disorder and interruption to their business will be costly.

The building belonging to Geo. A. Kinney is badly damaged but the loss is covered by insurance. The Masonic banquet hall overhead is somewhat damaged and the store of C. L. Pierce, although not reached by the fire, was filled with smoke and his stock of groceries and provisions will be damaged to some extent. Charles Finch was overcome while trying to shut off the gas in the cellar and had to be taken home in an unconscious condition. He has suffered ever since not being able to go out of the house. John Grippen was also overcome by gas and was pulled out of the ruins in an unconscious state.

ORCHESTRA GAVE EXCELLENT CONCERT

Hungarian Organization Delighted a Large Audience at the High School Hall Last Night.

There are no words we can say that could add to the superb character of the concert given at High school hall last evening by Schilkret's Hungarian orchestra, or that would voice the enthusiasm of the immense audience that listened to them. It was far above all praise and its best comment is in the recollections of the inspiring harmonies that will linger upon our ears as long as music hath its charms. The program was replete with games, such as raise the soul to the higher realms of classic inspiration and fill the hearts with enjoyment.

Sam Schilkret is a whole orchestra in himself, a talented director and a charming soloist. His flute warbles like a thing of life, touching the tender emotions with delight. We have not the space at this time to give more than a passing notice of the different performers. Suffice it to say that they were all artists of the highest order and we hope to hear them again. Next to the director we will mention the first violinist, Mr. S. Maudebrant, who performed with such artistic skill the most difficult composition of Sarasate, "Zigeunerweisen," that frolicsome gipsy dance that commands all of the technique, shadings and capabilities of the king of instruments. No one has ever attempted to play that before an Athens audience before. It takes skill, science, and all of the attainments possible to acquire in the higher schools to enable one to interpret, much less play it. Mr. Maudebrant rendered it in perfect style and took the audience by storm so that he was obliged to respond by another encore.

POLICE DETAIN DEMENTED MAN

Prohibitions Are That Inquiry Will Be Made Into Sanity of Herman P. Hedrick.

Athens—Herman P. Hedrick of 122 Willow street was placed in a cage at the town hall last night and will be kept under restraint until a decision will be made regarding his case. It is thought that he is mentally unbalanced.

Hedrick came to Athens about a year and half ago with his wife and four children, three boys and a girl, and began housekeeping at 122 Willow street. He is a man of exemplary habits and strong religious sensibilities which have at times taken such a deep hold upon him as to produce a morbid hallucination that almost amounts to delirium. He attended church Sunday when he appeared to have full possession of his faculties, but since that time he has acted in a manner that showed he was laboring under mental pressure. This morning he arose at 4 o'clock and exhibited such great nervousness that his wife persuaded him to sweep the snow from the sidewalk in hopes that his mind would be diverted. And so he worked for awhile, but acted queerly to passersby. He finally boarded a street car and went as far as the Mile hill switch, when he alighted and started down town. When the 6:30 car came down from Waverly Hedrick was noticed lying on the sidewalk at Main and Willow streets, but he jumped to his feet and chased the car as far as the railroad crossing where officers O'Brien and Groat took charge of him.

Hedrick formerly lived in Illinois, in which state it is said he had once been confined in an asylum for a period of four months. He is an industrious man, a carpenter by trade, and employed in the coach department of the Sayre railroad shops.

Should the said Company, its successors or assigns, at any time decide to place its wires, cables or appliances or any other part thereof underground it shall have the right to construct the necessary underground subway or conduits in, under, on or across the streets, lanes, alleys, avenues and public grounds of said Borough after the work has been done as they were before and in case the said Company, its successors or assigns, fail to clean up the said streets, avenues, lanes, alleys or public grounds or make necessary repairs, in that case the Borough shall have the right to do said work, and collect the cost thereof, with all costs, expenses and counsel fees, from the said Company, its successors or assigns.
