For a Plumber to slight or lather over his work we consider decidedly poor policy. So all our work is of the hurry-up order, but without slighting in fact the only part we are careless about is the bill. We have got into the habit of not charging enough, so other plumbers say.

DR. ALLAN M'LANE HAMILTON.

ever evidence either side has to offer and decide whether the trial shall go on or whether a commission in lunacy shall be appointed to pass upon Thaw's mental condition.

Justice Fitzgerald said: "If I should decide to appoint a commission or take any other step in the matter on Friday," announced Justice Fitzgerald, "I would wish to name allentists who would not be in the case before. I therefore ask both the district attorney and the counsel for the defense to furnish me by Friday morning lists of names of all the experts who have been in any way connected with the case."

The attorneys agreed to do.

The radical action taken by Justice Fitzgerald changing the entire aspect of the trial was precipitated by the introduction of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, the alienist who figured in the trial of Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield, as a witness for the defense.

"A Speedy Cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaints, Tired Feeling, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bad Complexion, Nervousness and All Diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels."

act gently, yet thoroughly upon the bowels, liver, stomach and digestive organs. The pills, in old and chronic cases of constipation and indigestion, act at once, without griping, nor do they leave any unpleasant after-effect, nor form a constant habit of purging, produced by other cathartic remedies.

restores the deranged and torpid liver to its normal condition and banishes action. Removes and prevents constipation by securing a natural and regular operation of the bowels, and relieves those unpleasant symptoms which attend a diseased or morbid condition of the liver, stomach and bowels. To assist in attaining this end, the following suggestions are offered.

REMARKS: Everyone who uses pills for their action on the liver, should know that large doses rarely produce satisfactory results. Small doses, usually having the bowels constipated, and seldom promoting the cure of the trouble, or improve the general health. On the other hand, small doses, devoiding the alternative effect of the medicine, do not bring on constipation, the bowels, but gently stimulate the liver and prevent the accumulation of bile by directing it down the proper channels. Therefore it is advisable to commence by taking out over one or two pills' bed-time and increase dose as necessary.

Portland, Me. Genes—I feel your "Bloodine Liver Pills" is the most effective pill I ever used. They cause no griping or constipative after effect on most liver pills do. Yours truly, MRS. AMANDA RICHARDSON.

THAW CRAZY NOW?

Jerome Waits Trial and Suggests Lunacy Commission.

DRAMATIC SCENES IN COURT.

Roof Garden Murder Trial May Be Ended Abruptly by Commitment to Lunatic Asylum For Criminally Insane.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The blow which Harry Kendall Thaw has been in terror of ever since his trial for the murder of Stanford White began has fallen. District Attorney Jerome did not make formal application for the appointment of a commission in lunacy, but in an impassioned speech he appealed to the conscience of the court, asserting that Thaw as he sits daily in court is unable intelligently to advise his counsel and is believed by every one who has watched and come into contact with him to be insane. Mr. Jerome asserted that his own assistants—the six men who testified for the state—were convinced when they had considered all the facts in connection with the case that Thaw was of unsound mind.

Mr. Jerome dramatically accused the counsel for the defense of concealing testimony which, if presented to the court, would make the continuance of the trial a crime. So earnest did he plead that Justice Fitzgerald dismissed the jury until Friday morning and adjourned court until he considers what Justice Fitzgerald allowed Mr. Gleason to put the question. "I believe," said Dr. Hamilton, "that he is incapable of advising counsel." "Didn't you tell me recently that you thought he was capable of doing so?" asked Mr. Gleason. "I don't think so," replied the witness.

This seemed to impress Justice Fitzgerald.

"My conscience has been appealed to in this matter," said the court, "and upon the statements made by the district attorney I cannot allow the trial to proceed without first hearing all the evidence that may be in the possession of either side. I will hear this evidence in the form of affidavits, depositions, etc. The jury will be excused until Friday morning."

Justice Fitzgerald said the defense need not be afraid of any inquisitorial proceedings. He would act fairly and impartially in determining whether or not, in his judgment, a commission in lunacy is demanded.

If Justice Fitzgerald shall decide in favor of a commission, it means that the trial will be suspended until such time as the commission may report. If the commission decides Thaw is now insane, the trial will of course be abandoned and the defendant committed to a state asylum. If the commission believes Thaw is sane at present, the trial will be resumed.

District Attorney Jerome was manifestly pleased with the new turn of affairs.

Thaw's counsel also professed to be pleased, declaring Mr. Jerome's move was an acknowledgment that he was defeated.

Mr. Delmas placed himself on record as formally applying for a lunacy commission, but the district attorney would only repeat that he was directing the attention of the court to a matter which might appeal to his conscience. Mr. Jerome said that Drs. Bingham and Deam, two of the Thaw family physicians, had told him facts concerning epilepsy on both sides of the prisoner's family, but the defense had failed to bring out these matters in the testimony.

"I submitted to the alienist summoned by the state all the facts in my possession," said Mr. Jerome, "and they one and all informed me that the defendant is suffering from a disease called paranoia, the chief characteristics of which are insane delusions, and that acting under these insane delusions he killed Stanford White, but that within the legal definition of insanity he knew the nature and quality of his act and knew the act to be wrong."

Mr. Delmas said that it was strange if the district attorney had so long possessed the information he was stating to the court that he had persisted so long in prosecuting to his death a man who he believed was insane in the eyes of the law because he could not communicate intelligently with counsel. As to the charge of unprofessional conduct, he had heard it for the first time today, Mr. Delmas continued. He further said that the defense had called to the stand Dr. Hamilton, the man whom the district attorney believed to know more about the case than any body else, and was proceeding to interrogate him when the district attorney objected.

When the trial adjourned Messrs. Harridge and O'Heilly of Thaw's counsel professed the greatest pleasure over the turn of affairs.

"The district attorney has acknowledged himself beaten," said Mr. Harridge. "We can combat the lunacy commission. In the meantime the district attorney has acknowledged that he believes Thaw was insane when he shot Stanford White. That ought to give us an acquittal."

When Thaw reached his cell in the Tombs he began to write at a furious pace, saying he was preparing a statement to be submitted to the court.

FEDERAL CONTROL.

Roosevelt Denounces Overcapitalization of Roads.

PUBLIC HAS LOST CONFIDENCE.

Government Rule Would Be Guaranteed Against Great Speculative Manipulation of Trunk Line Stocks.

NEW YORK, March 21.—"I believe in federal control of the railroads. It would be the best thing for the roads."

"Two of the greatest difficulties railroads have to deal with are increased cost of labor and varying state legislation."

"Under federal control the roads would understand the laws they must observe and would be able to plan ahead intelligently without one state suddenly demanding one thing and another state being equally insistent on something entirely different."

Returning from his southern trip, John D. Rockefeller expressed new views in regard to the railroad situation and the attitude of railroad magnates. He continued:

"Regarding the stocks which seem so alluring to the public I have but a single observation to make. If a man goes into the street and finds a certain stock that is declining constantly, although it is paying a 4 per cent dividend, it seems strange that he doesn't stop to consider that if the stock is such a good proposition the men behind it, with plenty of money at their command, do not keep it in their control."

"Is it reasonable to suppose that if in a good, legitimate way the stock is actually earning 6 per cent and will continue to do so it would be allowed to get out of the hands of the controlling interests?"

"Railroads and other big corporations are vastly overcapitalized. That is not a healthy situation. The general financial condition of the country is good on the surface, but there is an undercurrent of unrest."

"I think that properties should be capitalized at only their legitimate value, and if that were done there would be such a feeling of security in them among the general public that they would find men with a little money holding highly profitable stocks instead of allowing it to remain at small interest in savings banks. Without public confidence in our corporations of course that situation can be only a dream."

"For the future corporations I would suggest the conservative plan. If the property increases in value, let it increase, and if the volume of business is great, let the original subscribers get the large dividends. Then if money is needed for the improvement of the plant the stockholders will be only too glad to advance it rather than allow too many outsiders to get in on a highly profitable investment."

$100,000 Verdict Against Central.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A verdict for the defendant was given by a jury at White Plains in a suit for $100,000 damages brought against the New York Central railroad by Mrs. Annie Walker. Mrs. Walker's suit grew out of an accident at Golden Ridge last December. Mrs. Walker and her husband and little daughter were driving in a carriage when the vehicle was hit by a train and demolished. Mr. Walker was killed, and Mrs. Walker and her child were badly hurt. Mrs. Walker was carried into court on a stretcher when she gave her testimony.

In spite of all precautions the vandalism is spreading. It is the purpose of the peasants to drive out the Jewish lessees of the extensive holdings of absentee landlords and to seize the lands that the peasants rent from the lessees and upon which they are entirely dependent. The peasants claim that a system of extortion is practiced against them.
