MR. PARSONS SAYS HE HAD PROVOCATION.

Makes Statement to the Effect That He Had Good Cause For Throwing Opponent Out.

Waverly—Relative to the article appearing in The Record some time ago to the effect that Frank Parsons had paid a fine of $5 for striking a man and knocking him down. A few days ago Mr. Parsons came to the Record office and stated that he did not hit the man, but that he did throw him out of his place of business. He states that he sold the wagon pole to Millheim at a price below the regular charge, and without any agreement as to its fitting Millheim's wagon. He says that Millheim brought the wagon pole back to the shop later when he (Parsons) was absent and left it. Later he came in and demanded the price back. Parsons refused to return it, and then Millheim indulged in very abusive language, with the result that he was thrown out.

The Cayuta's Play.

Waverly—The rehearsals for the production of Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs that will be given at the Loomis opera house on Friday evening, April 5, are being held every evening, and the performers are gradually rounding into form so that the production is sure to be a most excellent one. The tickets for admission are 35 cents, and the Cayutas deserve that the performance should be liberally patronized.

For Owego.

Waverly—Twenty-three for Owego was what happened this morning when 23 Waverly teachers left for the county seat to attend the county institute that is now in session at that place.

Supper Tonight.

Waverly—The Berea Class of the Baptist church will serve supper at the church this evening.

SAYRE ITEMS

FREIGHT CAR THIEVES STILL DOING BUSINESS.

Petty Pilfering is Almost a Daily Occurrence Along the Line of the Lehigh.

Freight car thieves along the line of the Lehigh are still active and nearly every day a car or two comes into the Sayre yards with the seals broken and the contents pilfered. Yesterday Lehigh car No. 62406, containing a consignment of candy came into Sayre over the Auburn branch. The seal was broken and an investigation disclosed the fact that five boxes containing candy had been broken open and the contents pilfered. The car had evidently been broken open at Auburn Junction and there is no trace of the thieves.

Another car containing 30 cases of canned beef was also robbed somewhere between Auburn and Sayre. Each case contained 12 cans of beef, and nearly all the cases had been broken open. The thieves then proceeded to scatter the cans about the car, but did not carry many of them away.

Despite the fact that the officers are doing their best to round up the thieves they have so far been unsuccessful.

ROUMANIAN REVOLT

Troops at Alexandria Kill Sixty Peasant Rioters.

THREE HUNDRED WOUNDED IN FIGHT

Rebels of Telecan and Vlachia Have Joined Forces, Burning and Slaying—Are Moving on the Capital.

BUCHAREST, March 27.—During a regular battle between peasants and troops in the streets of Alexandria, Wallachia, about fifty miles from Bucharest, 60 men were killed and 300 wounded before the rioters were repulsed. Alexandria has been placed under martial law.

An additional thousand troops under the command of General Cornileanu have been concentrated in the vicinity of the capital for protection against a peasant attack, and in the fear of such an occurrence the royal palace has been surrounded with artillery.

A minor state of siege has been declared throughout Roumania. Sanginary encounters have occurred in the district of Roumania, north of Jassy, several of the combatants being killed or wounded.

A large body of peasants entered the town of Galatz, demanding land. The troops fired on the mob, killing fifteen and wounding many.

The peasants of the district of Telecan have joined those of Vlachia and are moving on Bucharest. Measures are being taken to prevent them from entering the capital. Should they refuse to turn back the troops will be ordered to fire upon them with shrapnel.

Several buildings were set on fire in the district of Vlachia, and 2,000 peasants made a furious attack with hatchets and cudgels upon a body of cavalry. The troops fired, killing and wounding many.

During the sitting of the chamber Premier Sturdza appealed to parliament to assist the government in the difficult task of passing the urgent measures presented for the purpose of quelling promptly the peasant disorders. Ex-Minister of Finance Ionesco on behalf of the Conservatives then made a moving speech, in which in view of the alarming state of the country he urged the house to unanimity on this pressing matter. At the close of M. Ionesco's remarks the chamber witnessed a dramatic incident. M. Sturdza and M. Ionesco, who for many years past have been bitter political opponents, shook hands effusively amid thunders of applause. The sitting was one of the most important ever held by the Roumanian parliament, and its close with the reconciliation of M. Sturdza and Ionesco is considered fitting the solemnity of the occasion.

FARM HANDS ARE HARD TO OBTAIN.

From All Over the County Comes the Cry at This Season.

This is the season when the great scarcity of "hired men" for farm work is again being brought forcibly to attention. From all over this county, and all other counties in this section, comes the same cry. The farm hand is becoming scarcer each year, although his lot was never so easy as it is today. Yet in spite of increasing inducements the supply is steadily diminishing, and many Bradford county farms are being neglected for want of men.

A good, energetic, husky, ambitious man can demand from $25 to $35 a month and "found," besides certain privileges which one never would have thought of, such as asking for Sundays off, horses kept at employer's expense and freedom from certain "chores." Some farmers have done their own milking to give their help more freedom, but it matters not what the farmers do, they are unable to find sufficient help to till their lands. Farmers in some of the neighboring counties, tried the experiment of bringing sons of Italy from the cities to supply the demand, and for a time it looked as if the vexatious problem was solved, as it is not difficult to get help from that source at a reasonable price, but the Italians learned quickly from their American brethren about the scarcity of labor, and placed prohibitive prices upon their services which in consequence, put an end to that experiment.
