Republican State Ticket. STATE TREASURER, HENRY K. BOYER, Of Philadelphia.

Republican County Ticket. FOR SHERIFF, WILLIAM J. LAWRENCE, Of Dushore.

FOR CORONER, DR. M. E. HERRMANN.

Independence in politics is one of the marks of true manhood. In this country at the ballot box all are equal.

The answer is patent to everybody. The very boys upon the street can tell you. Money, Money Money. Who gets the 'hoodle? Is it men who rise at five in the morning and work until night for a dollar or less per day to earn the food and clothing for their little ones? Not one of them.

Last night there was observed a marked change for the worse, and Dr. Read informed the family for the first time that recovery was impossible. He visited the patient three times during the night, at 8 o'clock, 11 and 2. After the latter visit he gave it as his opinion that dissolution would occur within twelve hours.

More Indictments. Developments in the Cronin Case at Chicago. CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—There is plenty of excitement about the Criminal Court building this morning, but nothing further has thus far to-day been developed in connection with the jury bribery plot.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—There is plenty of excitement about the Criminal Court building this morning, but nothing further has thus far to-day been developed in connection with the jury bribery plot.

Judge Baker to-day issued a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Henry Stollenberg, Alexander Sullivan's clerk. Judge Longnecker and Chief Hubbard both say that Stollenberg was released at noon to-day as he is wanted merely as a witness in the case.

A JOINT INDICTMENT. At 1 o'clock the Grand Jury came into court and handed up twelve indictments, eleven of which were for every day crimes. The twelfth was a joint bill against Mark Solomon, John Graham, Thomas Kavanaugh, Fred Smith, Jeremiah O'Donnell, Alexander L. Hanks and Joseph Kenen. All of these men were already under indictments for conspiracy to bribe jurors in the Cronin case.

THE EX-GOVERNOR DEAD. General John F. Hartranft Passes Quietly Away. NORRISTOWN, Oct. 17.—General John F. Hartranft died at 12 o'clock noon, surrounded by his family, consisting of his aged mother, his two daughters, Misses Annie Marion Hartranft and his two sons, Colonel S. S. Hartranft, and Linn Hartranft.

THE GENERAL'S ILLNESS. The General's illness, which the physicians agreed was the culmination of the result of a diseased condition of the kidneys, from which he suffered for several months, first took an alarming turn on Friday night last, when he was seized with a chill. Dr. Read who was summoned, at once found him suffering from uraemia, complicated with great physical weakness, nervous prostration and mental depression.

RAPID DECLINE AND DEATH. Last night there was observed a marked change for the worse, and Dr. Read informed the family for the first time that recovery was impossible. He visited the patient three times during the night, at 8 o'clock, 11 and 2. After the latter visit he gave it as his opinion that dissolution would occur within twelve hours.

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER. Indian Summer. Miss Nellie Bird started for Towanda Monday morning to take a course of lessons in music. Miss Bird is already a fine organist and teacher.

AGLES MERE TIDINGS. Eagles Mere is becoming a very popular place for weddings, the latest being Burton Brink of Eagles Mere, to Emma Clark, of Wellsboro, Pa. The happy couple left yesterday for the brides parents at Wellsboro.

GUILTY MRS. DILLARD. She Tells the Story of Her Crime. EASTON, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Dillard accused of the murder of her husband, testified to-day on the trial of Bartholomew. She stated yesterday that it was her desire to go on the witness stand and tell all she knew. Her counsel objected to that course, but she seemed determined and, at 11 o'clock, came into Court leaning on the arm of Sheriff Miller.

SHE PERSISTS IN TELLING. District Attorney Stewart then began a conversation with Mrs. Dillard in a low tone. Her lawyers took seats beside him and directed her to refuse to answer any questions, but she would not do their bidding. The District Attorney and Mrs. Dillard's counsel then went before Judge Reeder and asked that court be adjourned until 2 o'clock, and that the Judge, District Attorney, and the woman's lawyers adjourn to a private room and have a consultation as to the best plan for both sides to take.

Hanks and Joseph Kenen. All of these men were already under indictments for conspiracy to bribe jurors in the Cronin case.

STORY OF THE MURDER. When Court reconvened at 2 o'clock this afternoon every seat was occupied, both inside and outside bar and aisles being crowded. Mrs. Dillard came in a few minutes later crying, and again buried her face in her handkerchief. All eyes were upon her, and she seemed to realize that fact.

LED TO HIS DEATH. "I awoke my husband when I heard the noise, and he, myself, and Jakey went down to the yard, my husband carrying the gun which I had handed him and a lantern. When he got to the tree I told him to look up the tree; I then heard a grunting noise, and my husband came back and fell dead on the porch. Bartholomew wanted to rent the farm, and said we would all live together. We wouldn't do that. He then wanted me to go West and live with him. I said I wouldn't go as long as my husband lived. I would have been ten times better off if I had never seen Bartholomew."

THE DEFENCE THEN ATTEMPTED TO prove an alibi, and Bartholomew's good character. Bartholomew went on the stand and denied everything.
