THE REPUBLICAD. though with an earthquake, and the W.M. CHENEY - - - Editor

FRIDAY, MAY 16th, 1890. ENTERED AT POST-OFFICE. LAPORT PA., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

J. V. RETTENBURY, WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER, DUSHORE, PA.

New York State, having got its new secret ballot law, is beginning to count the cost. It is admitted that election expenses to the State and counties will be greatly increased by the new method. The Troy Press makes a calculation of what the cost will be in that city. The polling places will have to be increased from nineteen to fifty, and the inspectors in greater proportion even. In addition, ballot clerks and booths must be provided, and the tickets printed at public expense. A rough calculation puts the total cost of the election in Troy at $17,-000. The cost under the old method to the public was about $7000 ; but if the disbursements of the candidates were added to this sum the total would probably be little if any less than the new method will require. But the great gains, and for which the public is willing to incur all the additional expense, are the good order which will ensue and the check upon corruption at the polls. In the long run an honest election is the cheapest.

The Silver Bill.

Candid men, who do not regard themselves as bound to make a fiscal scheme one of party, are giving due consideration to the Silver bill which has been agreed upon by a caucus committee of the Republicans in the two Houses of Congress, Senator Teller is the only one that is dissatisfied with it, and he will not be satisfied with anything less than "free coinage." Senator Sherman, while approving of the bill in general, would prefer that the purchase of silver bullion should be limited to four millions a month, which is about the product of their own mines. If we exceed that amount, the excess may have to be purchased elsewhere. Senator Jones, of Nevada, while preferring free coinage, is willing to accept the bill as a compromise measure, and Senator Manderson, of Nebraska, agrees with him.

Some persons profess to fear that the bill, if enacted, will lead to excessive inflation of the currency and to dangerous speculation. That more currency is need is acknowledged generally. Conditions have changed since the United States has become a great silver-producing country, able to supply its own needs and to export to the other parts of the world. Twenty or thirty years ago such a bill as that proposed would have caused an alarming inflation. But the country has grown enormously since then, and fiscal measures must be adapted to the change. If, in the course of this adaption, silver should advance in value, the benefit of it would be telt by the people of the United States. There does not seem to be any danger that an increase in the aduet of our mines would exceed air was filled with flying fragments of iron, steel, brass and timbers, accompanied by a cloud of mingled steam and dust.

Engine 261 had disappeared, and all that remained of its fifty tons of mechanism were the six drivingwheels the truck and wheels at the forward end of the disabled tender at the rear. The tracks were rip ped from the ties and bent out of shape, the ground was torn up for some distance, and broken telegraph and electric lightwires dangled from their posts a tangled mass. Desolation and ruin had been wrought in the twinkling of an eye, and two lives had been sacrificed like the snuffing of a candle, for there was no trace of either engineer or fireman.

What was apparently a human body was seen flying through the air at an even elevation of one hundred feet and was observed to fall on the Lake Shore Railroad at least one thousand feet west of where the explosion occurred. The body of the other unfortunate man took a northeasterly course at a high elevation and dropped into the creek five hundred feet away.

The body of Pearl was found in the creek. It was brought to the surface and hoisted to the coal dock. Its condition was shocking. Apparently every bone was broken, the head and face were frightfully mutilated as was also the trunk. nearly the entire abdomen being torn away.

O'Connor's body was found between the stumps of two trees alongside the Lake Shore tracks. The head was crushed, the face difigured beyond recognition, and in the left side was a great gaping hole. The man's shoes had been wrenched from his feet and his garments reduced to shreds. The legs and arms were apparently fractured.

VICTIM OF A RABIE DOG.

Mr. Racosrd Chains Himself Han And Foot Before Going Mad.

SMITHFIELD, Ill.. May 10 -James Beoard of this town was bitten two years ago by a rabid dog. A madstone was applied, and he was pro nounced cured. Some days ago a hound went mad near Cuba, and ran amuck through the country, bitting stock and other animals.

Before its journey was ended it had bitten James Beoard and two other persons. The dog passed on and appeared at Bushnell, in Mc-Dough county, where it caused much terror. Beoard and the other two victims went immediately to Denver and applied the madstone. It adhered tenaciously in each case, especially that of Beoard. The men returned home satisfied that the danger was passed. Beoard, hewever decided to protect his family against any possible evil results, and chained himself hand and foot, so that if he went mad he could injure no one. His friends were inclined to ridicule his precautions, but he remained firm. Two days ago Beoard began to show evidences of hydrophobia. His friends and family became alarmed, and in his last sane moments Beoard begged that
