

J. V. RETTENBURY, WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER, DUSHORE, PA.

A Pretty Quarrel.

It is a very pretty row that is brewing in the ranks of the rival Democratic parties of Pennsylvania. The parties have somewhat changed in their relationship to each other. They were formerly the Randall party and the Wallace party. The advent of Cleveland broke up the lines pretty thoroughly and we then had a Cleveland party, a Wallace and a remnant that clustered around Randall. This remnant has practically got over into the Wallace party, and the two forces not arrayed against each other are led by Wallace and Scott. The Erie statesman counts among his followers ex-Governor Pattison, ex-Postmaster Harry and the old Cleveland office-holding list of local statesmen who would like to fill the offices again and are shouting for Pattison and Cleveland and the spoils.

Whether Pattison is a Cleveland man or a Pattison man or some other man for 1892, makes little difference, but the impression sought to be conveyed to the general public is that the nomination of Pattison for Governor means a general strengthening of the lines for the ex-President. Wallace protests that he is not opposed to Cleveland. Were he elected Governor and his interests lay in the direction of Cleveland doubtless he wouldn't be, but whether friendly to him or not he has been forced by his opponents into a defensive position, for it is the Cleveland, Scott and Pattison combination that is making the contest against him. He is, therefore, the victim of circumstances, if nothing more.

We have been treated to a very delightful series of interviews of late, while interesting outbursts of Democratic harmony have added force to these circumstances. First came the unqualified declaration of the Hon. William L. Scott for Pattison. Mr. Scott is for Cleveland and he says so. "I notice," he remarked, "that Mr. Wallace has been making a qualified denial of his hostility to Mr. Cleveland. He simply states he is not in a combination against Mr. Cleveland as charged, but he is careful not to deny that he intends to use whatever political strength and influence he may possess to defeat Mr. Cleveland in case he would be a candidate. Mr. Wallace's candidacy is approved and strongly urged by the New York Sun, and it almost goes without saying that no one who is not hostile to Mr. Cleveland would receive the support of the Sun."

On top of this comes the opinion of no less an authority than the Hon. William H. Sowden, of Allentown, the man who stood by the side of Randall on the floor of Congress and valiantly fought against free trade. He went down opposing Cleveland's methods, and naturally he is opposed to everything that savors of Clevelandism. He declares most emphatically that Wallace should be nominated, and Scott's bossism will not be tolerated. And these declarations are most cordially indorsed by the Hon. Benjamin F. Meyers, of Harrisburg.

It is an interesting quarrel which will be fought out at the State Convention, and it is getting hotter as the time for that gathering draws nearer.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Cigarette Smoking.

Heart failure is one of the almost certain results of excessive cigarette smoking, and is no doubt the cause of death in more cases than are suspected, says the Philadelphia Star. When the law forbidding the sale of cigarettes to boys under 16 was passed, it was thought the evil would be at least partially abated, and for a time such was the case, but within a few months it has broken out afresh and seemingly with more vigor than ever. The Star would like to be informed whose duty it is to see that the anti-cigarette law is enforced? There is every reason to believe that no more attention is paid to it than if it had never been enacted. Boys get their supplies of the forbidden article from some source and seemingly in any desired quantity. It is just such neglect as this that brings so many of our laws and ordinances into contempt and renders them completely null and void. Almost daily deaths or serious impairments of the health of boys are published, and if the total was known of the injuries inflicted upon the systems of those who use the cigarette, the community would be started at the aggregate. There are many good people engaged in philanthropic work in this city, but none that have yet undertaken a crusade against the cigarette, than which there are few evils demanding more determined opposition.

Road Commission of Pennsylvania.

MY DEAR SIR:

The Road Commission being anxious to ascertain the views of the citizens of the Commonwealth upon subjects suggested, the Commission submit and respectfully request answers to the following interrogatories:

1. Are you in favor of abolishing the present system of working out road taxes and paying a cash tax instead?

ANSWER:.....

2. Do you favor State aid to public roads?

ANSWER:.....

3. If so, how shall it be distributed, to the townships or counties?

ANSWER:.....

How shall the amount be ascertained, by valuation of assessable property, number of inhabitants, road mileage or otherwise?

ANSWER:.....

4. Are you in favor of supervisors serving without compensation, the same as school directors, whose duty shall be the assessment of taxes and appointment of road overseers to have charge of the works?

ANSWER:.....

5. How shall roads be superintended and controlled—by State, county or township supervisors or engineers?

ANSWER:.....

And shall the State aid, if any, be handled the same as local taxes?

ANSWER:.....

6. Is your county an agricultural, manufacturing or mining county?

ANSWER:.....

7. Is the stone in your county suitable for road building?

ANSWER:.....

8. Are you in favor of authorizing townships to borrow money for road purposes?

ANSWER:.....

9. Are you in favor of convict labor on public roads?

ANSWER:.....

Give your views upon any other points you desire pertaining to road laws and road construction and maintenance.

A. D. HARLAN, Chairman, CHAS. F. ETTLA, Secretary. Please return interrogatories when answered to Charles F. Ettla, Sec'y, 1305 Locust Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

SIGN: NAME..... P. O..... COUNTY..... Clip this, answer questions, sign your name and forward to Chas. F. Ettla. By request of SULLIVAN REPUBLICAN.

RECEIVED WITH AXES. New York Enumerators Obtain Warrants for Obstructionists.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The way of census enumerators here has proved so hard that the objectors who refused to answer their questions to the number of sixty or thereabouts to-day came to grief. Every day has added fresh woes to the trials of the enumerator. To-day his troubles culminated, and warrants were issued from the United States District Attorney's office for the arrest of sixty of his tormentors. The enumerator was in hard luck to-day. One by one they straggled into the District Attorney's office in all sorts of conditions—some with torn raiment, others with discolored faces. Among the enumerators were three women, who had been treated as roughly as their male fellow laborers in the census vineyard. Whether the ladies parleyed with ancient females turning fifty and giving their ages as twenty-five is not known, but certain it is that the women enumerators gave evidences of having had their feelings badly hurt.

SUMMARILY BOUNCED.

Among the general run of complaints the following specific cases may be selected as specimens of the trials of the census enumerator. One of the officials rang the bell of a house on West Third street and he was admitted. The enumerator was gazed by the inmates. Then he incautiously asked the proprietor what century she was born in. He also said that the inmates were old enough to die and many other things that hurt their feelings. Then he asked them, as the law provides, whether they were white or black. Then the war began. The occupants became so many Amazons. The women charged upon the census enumerator and ejected him. A warrant ensued for the arrest of the proprietor.

Another cause of disturbance arose on West Twelfth street, when one of the census men asked, according to his list of questions, how many children the lady of the house had. The lady of the house was enjoying the first period of her honeymoon, and her husband, who was in the vicinity, made things lively for the official.

MET WITH AXES.

From the Harlem district complaints come in by the score. In the big tenement districts in the lower part of the city things are worse. There the await the coming of the census enumerator with axes. Over fifteen of the warrants were directed to Madison, Oliver and Cherry streets. In these streets the enumerators say that the people in the houses will accept the tabulated census papers from them and then tear them up before their faces. Remonstrance only provokes disturbance and to-day it was not uncommon to see a census man flying, pursued by women and children. In many cases the police had to interfere. The peculiarity about the issuance of the warrants is that the names of the offenders, and as a consequence they were all made out in the name of John Doe and Mary Roe. Another difficulty in the prosecution of the offenders will be the discovery of their identity. Generally when a man is flying for his life from a mob he is too busy to remember the faces of the ring-leaders. The marshal's bailiffs, as a consequence, were unable to make many arrests.

IN "ORIGINAL PACKAGES."

A Decision That Deals a Blow at Iowa Prohibition.

MASON CITY, Ia., June 9.—Judge John C. Sherwin made a sweeping decision in the original package injunction cases which have been pending for the past week, which is by far the severest blow at prohibition the State has yet received.

In his decision the Judge finds that the defendants, as agents of importers, could occupy the building for the purpose of selling beer in original packages to all persons except minors and habitual drunkards and that such use would not constitute a nuisance, though the beer was drunk on the premises by the purchasers and that the sales, although shipped by the cases were sales in original packages. He granted a temporary injunction restraining defendants from selling to minors and those in the habit of being intoxicated.—Ex.

of goods every shown in Sullivan county, or that is usually found in Jewelry Stores. Expensive goods for those that want them. Cheap goods for those that think they can buy no other. It is no trouble to show goods, and you will not be urged to buy unless you want to.

In society goods

I carry a good assortment in both high and low prices. I am not going to tell you that I will give you goods, nor am I going to tell you that I will sell at cost. That is not business and is not the way to continue business in one place and keep out of the Sheriff's hands. But I do say that I will sell you goods and work for you as low as any other First Class Jeweler, or as low as is consistent with sound business principles. Thanking for the patronage that has sustained me for the last seven years. I shall try to merit a continuance of the same. You will please remember that my motto is "Live and Let Live, and Fair Play to All."

The Public
